RLA Project File No. 220627

Dear President Sandlin and Councilors:

On behalf of the applicant and property owner, Calabrese Construction, LLC c/o Mr. Charles Calabrese, please accept this Request for Zoning Map Amendment for the above referenced properties in Agawam.

PROPERTY DESCRIPTION

The subject properties are currently owned by Calabrese Construction, LLC and are recorded under the Hampden County Registry of Deeds in Book 22388, Page 46 (27 Walnut Street), Book 22388, Page 42 (Old River Street) and Book 22935, Page 347 (17 High Street). The parcels known as 27 Walnut Street and 17 High Street are currently split zoned, with a majority of the subject properties being located in the Business A (BA) zoning district and a small portion being located in the Industrial A (IA) zoning district. The parcel known as Old River Road is located entirely in the Industrial A (IA) zoning district. A Locus Map depicting property location and current zoning is included within this petition packet under Section 2.

ZONING MAP AMENDMENT PETITION

The petitioner respectfully requests that the Town of Agawam City Council grant the above-referenced Zoning Map Amendment under the Massachusetts General Laws c.40A Section 5 to amend the Town of Agawam Building Zone Map to allow for the entirety of the subject properties to be rezoned to Residence B (RB), as promulgated under Article VI of the local zoning regulations.

STATEMENT OF PURPOSE

The purpose of the proposed Zoning Map Amendment is to better facilitate the future proposed construction of a residential development with associated site improvements.

R LEVESQUE ASSOCIATES, INC.
40 School Street, P.O. BOX 640, Westfield, MA 01085
p 413.568.0985 · f 413.568.0986 · www.rlaland.com

STATEMENT OF JUSTIFICATION

Facts to support a finding that the proposed Zoning Map Amendment will be desirable and without substantial detriment to the public good:

1. The applicant intends to create zoning continuity on the subject properties to allow for future development and improvements upon existing conditions at this site.
2. There is no significant impact to the neighborhood in requesting the proposed Zoning Map Amendment as similar residential areas currently exist within the general vicinity of the subject properties.
3. The subject properties are well suited for residential use and are consistent with the abutting properties.
4. The subject properties are currently being used for residential purposes and have access to Town services along Walnut Street and the future development of High Street/Old River Road.

Understanding the above, the proposed Zoning Map Amendment requested is not detrimental to the public good and does not substantially derogate from the intent of and purpose of the Town of Agawam Zoning Ordinance.

Based on the foregoing, and all the supplemental information attached, the applicant respectfully requests that the Town of Agawam City Council grant the requested Zoning Map Amendment under the Town of Agawam Zoning Ordinance to allow for the entirety of the subject properties to be rezoned to Residence B (RB).

2. THE CONTRACTOR SHALL COMPLY WITH APPLICABLE STATE, FEDERAL, AND LOCAL CODES AND OBTAIN ALL NECESSARY LICENSES AND PERMITS.
3. THE CONTRACTOR SHALL PRESERVE BENCHMARKS, REFERENCE POINTS AND STAKES. RESETTING ANY BENCHMARK, REFERENCE POINTS OR STAKES IS AT CONTRACTORS EXPENSE.
4. IF THE CONTRACTOR FINDS ANY DISCREPANCIES BETWEEN THE PLANS AND THE PHYSICAL CONDITIONS ON IN THE LAYOUT AS GIVEN BY THE ENGINEER, THEY SHALL IMMEDIATELY INFORM THE ENGINEER, IN WRITING. ANY WORK DONE AFTER SUCH A DISCOVERY, UNTIL AUTHORIZED, WILL BE AT THE CONTRACTOR'S RISK.
5. THE LOCATIONS AND ELEVATIONS OF ALL EXISTING UTILITIES ARE APPROXIMATE AND ALL UTILITIES MAY NOT BE SHOWN. PRESENCE AND LOCATIONS OF ALL UTILITIES WITHIN THE LIMIT OF WORK MUST BE DETERMINED BY THE CONTRACTOR BEFORE BEGINNING ANY EXCAVATION OR CONSTRUCTION ACTIVITY. THE CONTRACTOR SHALL BE RESPONSIBLE FOR IDENTIFYING AND CONTACTING THE CONTROLLING AUTHORITIES AND/OR UTILITY COMPANIES RELATIVE TO THE LOCATIONS AND ELEVATIONS OF THEIR LINES. THE CONTRACTOR SHALL KEEP A RECORD OF ANY DISCREPANCIES OR CHANGES IN THE LOCATIONS OF ANY UTILITIES SHOWN OR ENCOUNTERED DURING CONSTRUCTION. ANY DISCREPANCIES SHALL BE REPORTED TO THE OWNER AND ENGINEER. ANY DAMAGE RESULTING FROM THE FAILURE OF THE CONTRACTOR TO MAKE THESE DETERMINATIONS AND CONTACTS SHALL BE BORNE BY THE CONTRACTOR.
6. THE CONTRACTOR SHALL, THROUGHOUT CONSTRUCTION, TAKE ADEQUATE PRECAUTIONS TO PROTECT ALL WALKS, GRADING, SIDEWALKS AND SITE DETAILS OUTSIDE OF THE LIMIT OF WORK AS DEPICTED ON THE PLANS. ANY DAMAGE SHALL REPAIR AND REPLACE OR OTHERWISE MAKE GOOD AS DIRECTED BY THE ENGINEER OR OWNER'S DESIGNATED REPRESENTATIVE ANY SUCH OR OTHER DAMAGE SO CAUSED.
7. PRIOR TO BEGINNING CONSTRUCTION, THE CONTRACTOR SHALL BECOME FAMILIAR WITH THE SITE AND CONSTRUCTION DOCUMENTS TO DEVELOP A THOROUGH UNDERSTANDING OF THE PROJECT SPECIFIC REQUIREMENTS AND CONSTRAINTS.
8. THE CONTRACTOR SHALL CONDUCT ALL NECESSARY CONSTRUCTION NOTIFICATIONS AND APPLY FOR AND OBTAIN ALL NECESSARY CONSTRUCTION PERMITS.
9. GENERAL GRADING
   THE CONTRACTOR SHALL:
   A. MAINTAIN PROPER SITE DRAINAGE AT ALL TIMES DURING THE COURSE OF CONSTRUCTION, AND PREVENT STORMWATER FROM RUNNING INTO, OR STANDING, IN EXCAVATED AREAS.
   B. BACKFILL THE CURB AFTER ITS CONSTRUCTION AND PRIOR TO THE PLACEMENT OF BASE COURSE MATERIAL.
   C. UNSUITABLE MATERIAL SHALL BE CONSIDERED AS MATERIAL WHICH IS NOT SUITABLE FOR THE SUPPORT OF PAVEMENT AND BUILDING CONSTRUCTION, AND IS ENCOUNTERED BELOW NORMAL TOPSOIL DEPTHS AND THE PROPOSED SUB-GRADE ELEVATION. SUCH MATERIAL SHALL BE REMOVED AND MATERIAL, AND TO WHAT EXTENT, SHALL BE MADE BY A SOILS ENGINEER WITH THE CONCURRENCE OF THE OWNER.
10. GENERAL PAVING
    THE CONTRACTOR SHALL:
   A. REPAIR ANY BASE COURSE AND BINDER COURSE FAILURES PRIOR TO THE INSTALLATION OF THE FINAL BITUMINOUS CONCRETE WEAR COURSE.
   B. SWEEP CLEAN THE BINDER COURSE PRIOR TO THE INSTALLATION OF THE FINAL BITUMINOUS CONCRETE SURFACE COURSE. EXCESSIVE CLEANING OF THE BINDER COURSE THAT MAY BE REQUIRED, AND NOT THE FAULT OF THE PAVING CONTRACTOR, SHALL BE PAID FOR ON A TIME AND MATERIAL BASIS BY PRIOR AGREEMENT WITH THE GENERAL CONTRACTOR.
11. INCIDENTAL TO CONSTRUCTION
   A. MAINTAIN 10 FEET HORIZONTAL SEPARATION AND 18 INCHES VERTICAL SEPARATION (WATER OVER SEWER) BETWEEN SEWER AND WATER LINES. WHENEVER THESE IS LESS THAN 10 FEET OF HORIZONTAL SEPARATION AND 18 INCHES OF VERTICAL SEPARATION BETWEEN A PROPOSED OR EXISTING SEWER LINE TO REMAIN AND A PROPOSED OR EXISTING WATER LINE TO REMAIN BOTH WATER MAIN AND SEWER MAIN SHALL BE CONSTRUCTED OF EITHER SLIP-ON OR MECHANICAL JOINT CEMENT LINED DUCTILE IRON PIPE FOR A DISTANCE OF 10-FEET ON EITHER SIDE OF THE CROSSING. ONE (1) FULL LENGTH OF WATER PIPE SHALL BE CENTERED OVER THE SEWER AT THE CROSSING.
   B. CONTRACTOR SHALL BE RESPONSIBLE FOR COORDINATING WITH SUB-CONTRACTORS, ALL UNDERGROUND UTILITY STRUCTURE FRAMES SUCH AS MANHOLES, CATCH BASINS, AND INLETS. ALL CONFLICTS SHALL BE REPORTED TO THE ENGINEER.
   C. CONTRACTOR SHALL POTHOLE AROUND THE EXISTING UTILITIES TO DETERMINE THE EXACT LOCATIONS AND ELEVATIONS PRIOR TO THE CONSTRUCTION OF THE PROPOSED OF THE PROPOSED UTILITY IMPROVEMENTS.
   D. CONTRACTOR SHALL COVER OPEN TRENCHES WHEN NOT ACTIVELY WORKING THERE AT ALL TIMES. STORMWATER SHALL BE REDIRECTED FROM OPEN TRENCHES AND PROVIDE DEWATERING MEASURES.
   E. CONTRACTOR SHALL ADHERE TO STATE AND FEDERAL TRENCHING REGULATIONS. DEWATER RECOMMENDATIONS ARE IN THE GEOTECHNICAL REPORT.
   F. CONTRACTOR SHALL DISPOSE OF EXPORT MATERIAL IN A METHOD APPROVED BY LOCAL AND STATE JURISDICTIONAL BODIES.
12. TESTING AND FINAL ACCEPTANCE
   A. SPECIFIC COMPACTION TESTING SHALL BE SUBMITTED TO THE ENGINEER TO REVIEW.
   B. APPROVAL OF THE PAVEMENT SUB-GRADE BY THE OWNERS GEOTECHNICAL ENGINEER SHALL BE REQUIRED PRIOR TO THE PLACEMENT OF THE PAVEMENT MATERIALS.
   C. SANITARY SEWER MAINS AND SERVICES SHALL BE TESTED FOR LEAKAGE AND DEFLECTION IN ACCORDANCE WITH THE CITY OR MUNICIPAL SANITARY SEWER SPECIFICATIONS AND/OR THE SPECIFICATIONS CONTAINED IN THIS SECTION. SEE DOCUMENT ALSO FOR ALLOWABLE TESTING LIMITS. SERVICE STUBS MUST BE PROPERLY PLUGGED AND SEALED AND CLEARLY LOCATED AT THEIR TERMINATION POINTS PRIOR TO TESTING ALL SEWER MAINS, SERVICE LINES, AND MANHOLES SHALL BE CLEAN AND FREE OF DEBRIS PRIOR TO THEIR FINAL ACCEPTANCE.
   D. WATER MAINS AND WATER SERVICE LINES SHALL BE PROTECTED AGAINST ENTRANCE OF HYDROCARBONS THROUGH EXFILTRATION AND THROUGH ANY MATERIAL USED IN CONSTRUCTION OF THE LINE.
13. MANHOLE STRUCTURES
   A. THE FRAME LIP SHALL BE CLEANED OF ALL MUD AND DEBRIS TO PROVIDE WATERTIGHT SEAL BETWEEN THE FRAME AND THE MANHOLE COVER GASKET.
   B. MORTAR SHALL BE USED BETWEEN THE FRAME AND ADJUSTING RINGS AND BETWEEN ADJUSTING RINGS AND THE CONE SECTION IN ALL PAVED AREAS. E-Z STICK MAY BE USED IN LANDSCAPE AREAS.
   C. NO MORE THAN A TOTAL OF EIGHT (8) INCHES OF MANHOLE ADJUSTING RINGS SHALL BE ALLOWED.
   D. ALL STEPS MUST BE INSTALLED, ALIGNED, AND CLEANED.
   E. ALL PINHOLES MUST BE MORTARED WITH BRUSH FINISH TO PROVIDE A WATERTIGHT SEAL.
   F. THE UPSTREAM AND DOWNSTREAM PIPE CAVITIES MUST BE FILLED WITH MORTAR AND SMOOTHED WITH A BRUSH FINISH.
   G. THE UPSTREAM AND DOWNSTREAM FLOW LINES (INVERTS) SHALL HAVE A SMOOTH TRANSITION FROM THE PIPE TO THE MANHOLE INVERT.

CONTRACTOR SHALL PERFORM, COMPLY AND DOCUMENT ALL PROCEDURES FOR FIELD TESTING DESCRIBED HEREIN, ALL TESTING SHALL BE PERFORMED IN THE PRESENCE OF THE OWNER'S REPRESENTATIVE

A. FIELD TESTING DURING INSTALLATION OF U-BEND INTO GEOTHERMAL BOREHOLE AND AFTER GROUTING:

THE FOLLOWING SHALL BE CONDUCTED AT EACH BOREHOLE:

1. PRIOR TO INSERTION OF U-BEND, COMPLETELY FILL U-BEND WITH WATER AND HYDROSTATICALLY APPLY A PRESSURE OF 60 PSIG AND CONFIRM NO OBSERVABLE WATER LEAKS OCCURRING OVER ONE CONTINUOUS HOUR PERIOD.
2. IF LEAK TEST SUCCESSFUL, INSERT U-BEND ASSEMBLY INTO BOREHOLE. TREMIE GROUT BOREHOLE IN ACCORDANCE WITH PROJECT SPECIFICATIONS AND DRAWINGS.
3. COLLECT GROUT SPECIMEN AS NECESSARY. COLLECT UP TO FIFTY (50) GROUT SPECIMENS FROM FIFTY (50) DIFFERENT GROUT BATCHES (ONE PUMPED SAMPLE FOR EVERY THREE BOREHOLES INSTALLED) FOR THE PURPOSES OF GROUT THERMAL CONDUCTIVITY TESTING SELECTED BY THE OWNER'S REPRESENTATIVE. SUBMIT ALL GROUT SPECIMENS TO AN INDEPENDENT TESTING LABORATORY FOR TESTING IN ACCORDANCE WITH ASTM D5334.
4. AFTER TREMIE GROUT OF U-BEND IN BOREHOLE, CONDUCT FLUSHING OF THE INDIVIDUAL BOREHOLE TO PURGE AIR AND DEBRIS FROM U-BEND BY MAINTAINING A MINIMUM OF 18 GPM (3 FT/SEC VELOCITY) FOR THE GREATER OF 60 MINUTES OR 10 U-BEND VOLUMES UNTIL AIR BUBBLES ARE OBSERVED TO BE ABSENT FROM THE EFFLUENT. SEE FIGURE 1 BELOW.
5. AFTER FLUSHING HAS BEEN COMPLETED AND DURING APPLICATION OF A FLOW RATE OF 18 GPM AS CONFIRMED BY A FLOW METER, CONFIRM PRESSURE DROP FROM SUPPLY TO RETURN ON U-BEND OF NO MORE THAN 17 PSIG OVER A MINIMUM PERIOD OF 15 MINUTES. SEE FIGURE 1 BELOW.

6. REFER TO FIGURE 2 BELOW AND CONDUCT HYDROSTATIC TEST IN ACCORDANCE WITH ASTM F2164-02 AS FOLLOWS:
   a. HOLD AT TEST PRESSURE OF 110 PSIG FOR A MINIMUM OF 4 HOURS. DURING 4 HOURS PERIOD, TAKE READING OF HYDROSTATIC TEST PRESSURE EVERY 5 MINUTES. IF PRESSURE CHANGE OF GREATER THAN 1 PSI IS OBSERVED, REPRESSURIZE TO TEST PRESSURE. REPEAT AS NECESSARY DURING THE 4 HOUR DURATION.
   b. IF NO LEAKS DETECTED AFTER MAINTAINING PRESSURE, REDUCE PRESSURE BY 10 PSIG AND HOLD FOR A MINIMUM OF 1 HOUR. DO NOT ADD PRESSURE AFTER REDUCTION.
   c. IF NO LEAKS ARE OBSERVED AND PRESSURE DOES NOT DECREASE MORE THAN 5% OF TEST PRESSURE, TEST IS CONSIDERED PASSED.
   d. REDUCE PRESSURE TO ATMOSPHERIC WHILE MAINTAINING WATER INSIDE U-BEND. PLUG/CRIMP U-BEND ENDS TO PREVENT COLLAPSE OF PIPING DURING GROUTING.

B. FIELD TESTING AFTER INSTALLATION OF HDPE SYSTEM AND PRIOR TO BACKFILL OVER LATERAL SUPPLY AND RETURN PIPING:

1. AFTER SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION OF ALL INDIVIDUAL BOREHOLE TESTS WITHIN A CIRCUIT AND AFTER INSTALLATION OF CIRCUIT PIPING AND PRIOR TO BACKFILLING OF THE BOREHOLE CIRCUIT, CONDUCT FLUSHING OF THE CIRCUIT (WITH WATER) TO PURGE AIR AND DEBRIS FROM PIPIING BY MAINTAINING A MINIMUM FLOW RATE AS LISTED IN TABLE I (2 FT/SEC VELOCITY) FOR THE GREATER OF 180 MINUTES OR 10 CIRCUIT VOLUMES UNTIL AIR BUBBLES ARE ABSENT FROM THE EFFLUENT. SEE FIGURE 3. FLUSHING SHALL BE CONDUCTED SUCH THAT WATER VELOCITIES MAINTAINED AT A MINIMUM OF 2 FT/SEC.

TABLE I

CIRCUIT NO.	FLOW RATE (GPM)	PRESSURE DROP (PSIG)
TYPICAL - 11 EXCHANGER CIRCUIT	132	80-85
TYPICAL - 12 EXCHANGER CIRCUIT	144	105-110
CIRCUIT 1 - 12 EXCHANGER CIRCUIT	156	120-125

TABLE I NOTES:

a. PRESSURE DROP FOR EACH CIRCUIT SHALL BE SUBMITTED TO AND ACCEPTED BY THE ENGINEER AND SHALL BE FIELD VERIFIED BASED ON TEST SET-UP CONFIGURATION.

b. ADJUST TESTING PURGE VALVES SO THE ALL CIRCUIT PRESSURE DROPS ARE WITHIN 10% OR LESS OF EACH OTHER BEFORE BACKFILLING.

2. AFTER FLUSHING HAS BEEN COMPLETED AND DURING APPLICATION OF A FLOW RATE AS LISTED IN TABLE I ABOVE, CONFIRM PRESSURE DROP FROM SUPPLY TO RETURN AT MANIFOLD OR NEAR LOCATION OF MANIFOLD ON CIRCUIT OF PRESSURE DROPS LISTED IN THE TABLE ABOVE OVER A MINIMUM OF 15 MINUTES. SEE FIGURE 3 BELOW.

1. REFER TO FIGURE 4 BELOW AND CONDUCT HYDROSTATIC TEST IN ACCORDANCE WITH ASTM F2164-02 AS FOLLOWS:
   a. HOLD AT TEST PRESSURE OF 110 PSIG FOR A MINIMUM OF 4 HOURS. DURING 4 HOURS PERIOD, TAKE READING OF HYDROSTATIC TEST PRESSURE EVERY 5 MINUTES. IF PRESSURE CHANGE OF GREATER THAN 1 PSI IS OBSERVED, REPRESSURIZE TO TEST PRESSURE. REPEAT AS NECESSARY DURING THE 4 HOUR DURATION.
   b. IF NO LEAKS DETECTED AFTER MAINTAINING PRESSURE, REDUCE PRESSURE BY 10 PSIG AND HOLD FOR A MINIMUM OF 1 HOUR. DO NOT ADD PRESSURE AFTER REDUCTION.
   c. IF NO LEAKS ARE OBSERVED AND PRESSURE DOES NOT DECREASE MORE THAN 5% OF TEST PRESSURE, TEST IS CONSIDERED PASSED.
   d. REDUCE PRESSURE TO A MINIMUM OF 25 PSIG WHILE MAINTAINING WATER INSIDE CIRCUIT. CLOSE VALVE ON SYSTEM CIRCUIT AT MANIFOLD.

C. FIELD TESTING AFTER SYSTEM INSTALLATION:

1. AFTER SUCCESSFUL COMPLETION OF CIRCUIT TEST PROCEDURE HAS BEEN MET FOR ALL CIRCUITS, BACKFILL THE ENTIRE SYSTEM TO PROPOSED FINISHED GRADES IN ACCORDANCE WITH PROJECT DOCUMENTS. RETEST TEST AFTER BACKFILLING (FLUSH, PURGING, AND HYDROSTATIC TESTING) TO CONFIRM NO DAMAGE TO PIPING CIRCUIT OCCURRED DURING BACKFILLING.
2. APPLY AND MAINTAIN A MINIMUM OF FLOW RATE AS LISTED IN TABLE I TO EACH CIRCUIT AND CONFIRM PRESSURE DROP FROM SUPPLY TO RETURN AT MANIFOLD ON CIRCUIT OF PRESSURE DROPS LISTED IN TABLE I OVER A MINIMUM OF 15 MINUTES. SEE FIGURE 5 BELOW.

3. REFER TO FIGURE 6 BELOW AND CONDUCT HYDROSTATIC TEST OF THE ENTIRE GEOTHERMAL HDPE SYSTEM (I.E., ALL CIRCUIT VALVES OPEN) UP TO THE MANIFOLD IN ACCORDANCE WITH ASTM F2164-02AS FOLLOWS:
   a. HOLD AT TEST PRESSURE OF 110 PSIG FOR A MINIMUM OF 4 HOURS. DURING 4 HOURS PERIOD, TAKE READING OF HYDROSTATIC TEST PRESSURE EVERY 5 MINUTES. IF PRESSURE CHANGE OF GREATER THAN 1 PSI IS OBSERVED, REPRESSURIZE TO TEST PRESSURE. REPEAT AS NECESSARY DURING THE 4 HOUR DURATION.
   b. IF NO LEAKS DETECTED AFTER MAINTAINING PRESSURE, REDUCE PRESSURE BY 10 PSIG AND HOLD FOR A MINIMUM OF 1 HOUR. DO NOT ADD PRESSURE AFTER REDUCTION.
   c. IF NO LEAKS ARE OBSERVED AND PRESSURE DOES NOT DECREASE MORE THAN 5% OF TEST PRESSURE, TEST IS CONSIDERED PASSED.
   d. REDUCE PRESSURE TO A MINIMUM OF 25 PSIG WHILE MAINTAINING WATER INSIDE SYTEM. CLOSE VALVE ON EACH CIRCUIT AT MANIFOLD.

1. ALL PLANTING SOILS SHALL BE ONE PART TOPSOIL, ONE PART COMPOSTED ORGANIC MATTER, ONE PART NATIVE SOIL MIXED PRIOR TO PLANTING INSTALLATION.
2. THE CONTRACTOR SHALL CONFIRM THE ACTUAL DEPTH OF ALL PLANTING AREAS PRIOR TO ANY PLANT MATERIAL BEING SECURED. REPORT ANY LEDGE OR SUBSTANDARD SOIL/SUBSURFACE CONDITIONS TO THE LANDSCAPE ARCHITECT.
3. THE CONTRACTOR SHALL CONSIDER THE DISPLACEMENT OF PLANTING SOIL FOR THE PLANT MATERIAL ROOT BALLS IN THE OVERALL PLANTING BED FINISHED GRADE. ALLOW ENOUGH ROOM IN THE PLANTING BED ELEVATION TO SPREAD DISPLACED SOIL AND STILL MEET THE INDICATED FINISHED GRADE INCLUDING THE 2" OF HARDWOOD MULCH.
4. ANY MATERIALS ACCUMULATED OVER THE ROOT FLARE OF A TREE OR SHRUB MUST BE REMOVED COMPLETELY UNTIL THE ROOT FLARE IS EXPOSED AND ALL GIRDLING ROOTS REMOVED PRIOR TO PLANTING.

AGAWAM HIGH SCHOOL
STORMWATER REPORT
AGAWAM, MA

FEBRUARY 2025

Introduction

Project Description:

The existing Agawam High School, located at 760 Cooper Street in Agawam, MA, is a public high school serving the Town of Agawam. The property is approximately 45 acres and is bordered by residential homes and wooded areas to the north, east, and west of the site. The southern boundary of the site is located along the intersection of Mill Street and Cooper Street, where the two school entrances are located (one from each roadway). Residences along Line Street and Jamie Lane are located to the west of the site, and the northern boundary is Springfield Water Supply land.

The campus consists of the existing school with several sprawling wings and courtyard areas, along with athletic facilities, play areas, and open space to the west and north of the school. To the south and east are the existing bituminous asphalt walkways, driveways, and parking lots. To the southeast is the existing Agawam Library property, and to the southwest is the existing stadium and tennis courts, which are to remain.

The proposed project will entail the demolition of most of the existing school, with the exception of the main entrance wing at the south and the Pre-K wing at the northeast. The new school will then be built primarily within the old footprint, with the large community wing being built first at the southwest edge of the existing building, and the rest of the new school being built once the old building is demolished. The project also includes the creation of new exterior spaces adjacent to the school, new parking lots, driveways, and walkways (incorporating MAAB/ADA compliance), new athletic fields and recreational areas, and all new utilities and stormwater management infrastructure.

The stormwater management system for the proposed Agawam High School campus is designed to improve water quality and to mitigate the peak stormwater rates of runoff.

Soils:

The soils resource report and test pit results, conducted in April 2024 by Samiotes Consultants, are located in the Appendices of this report. According to NRCS Web Soil Survey mapping, the soils in the vicinity of the proposed work consist of Merrimac find sandy loam of varying slopes (254A, 254B & 254C). The soil testing effort that was conducted in April 2024 yielded favorable results, with sandy soils observed in all areas of the site that were tested. Based on the NRCS soils and the field results, the soils on the site are considered Hydrological Group “A” with respect to infiltration capabilities. Groundwater was not encountered during the April 2024 soil testing effort to depths as deep as 10+ feet, but based on the Preliminary Geotechnical Report completed by Lahlaf Geotechnical Consulting in August 2023, depths to water ranged from 18.5 to 25 feet below grade.

Existing Stormwater Management:

The existing stormwater infrastructure on site consists of a network of pipes, catch basins, area drains, and roof drains that collect the runoff and then convey the flow into the existing municipal drainage mains within Cooper Street and Mill Street. No existing subsurface infiltration systems are known to exist in the current site condition. The majority of the existing impervious area is currently captured via the existing stormwater system on site and diverted into the municipal system. Many of the fields have underdrains and other surface drain inlets that also capture water from the pervious areas during larger storm events.

Proposed Stormwater Management System:

The proposed stormwater management system incorporates the on-site drainage patterns and will maintain the existing stormwater infrastructure downstream of the new construction area. The new vehicular & pedestrian hardscape areas will feature a network of deep sump catch basins and water quality units (WQUs) that will collect runoff from the throughout the site's impervious areas. Area drains, trench drains, and other smaller drain inlets will be incorporated into the open space and landscaped areas throughout the rest of the site. The majority of the on-site flows will be routed into a series of five (5) subsurface infiltration systems prior to discharging into the existing 18" reinforced concrete pipe (RCP) municipal drain main within Cooper Street to the southeast.

Methodology/ Procedure

Objective:
The objective of the stormwater management for the site is to mitigate any increase in peak storm runoff rates due to the construction of the proposed project while improving water quality and resiliency. Outlined below are the numerous stormwater best management practices (BMP's) proposed to be used on-site. The proposed building roof runoff is captured via the subsurface infiltration system.

Proposed Stormwater Control Systems:
The following are the proposed Best Management Practices (BMP's) stormwater control system's to be used on the site to mitigate an increase in peak stormwater runoff and improve water quality:

Subsurface Structures (Infiltration Chambers):
Subsurface structures are underground systems that capture runoff, and gradually infiltrate it into the groundwater. There are a number of underground infiltration systems that can be installed to enhance groundwater recharge. Subsurface structures are constructed to temporarily detain stormwater while it percolates into the underlying soil. Underground infiltration structures are feasible only where the soil is adequately permeable and the maximum water table and/or elevation is sufficiently low. They can be used to control the quantity, as well as quality, of stormwater runoff if properly designed and constructed. The structures serve as storage chambers for captured stormwater, while the surrounding soil matrix provides treatment.

Deep Sump Catch Basins: A deep sump catch basin (also known as oil and grease or hooded catch basins) acts as underground retention systems designed to remove trash, debris, and coarse sediment from stormwater runoff, and serve as temporary spill containment devices for floatables such as oil and grease that provides pretreatment. A 25% TSS removal is awarded to the deep sump catch basin when used as pre-treatment.

Water Quality Units (WQUs):
Water Quality Units are a flow-through structure with a settling or separation unit to remove sediments and other pollutants. They typically use the power of swirling or flowing water to separate floatables and coarser sediments, are typically designed and manufactured by private businesses, and come in different sizes to accommodate different design storms and flow conditions. Since proprietary separators can be placed in almost any location on a site, they are particularly useful when either site constraints prevent the use of other stormwater techniques or as part of a larger treatment train. Generally they are placed below ground and contain inspection and access ports so that they may be inspected and cleaned.

The stormwater management for the Agawam High School is designed to mitigate any increase in peak stormwater runoff rates due to the construction of the proposed project. The proposed development will result in an increase of impervious area, therefore the proposed stormwater management system is designed to mitigate the increase in the rate of runoff and improve stormwater quality. As tables 1, 2, 3, & 4 below show the peak rate of runoff is reduced for the proposed site.

Watershed Routing

Below is a summary of the various existing and proposed watersheds with a brief narrative describing the routing. As noted above, existing drainage patterns and stormwater infrastructure (as approved and constructed in accordance with the original school construction) were incorporated into the proposed design. The descriptions of the watersheds are depicted in sketches EX-WS and PR-HYD located in the Appendices.

Existing Watersheds:

EX-Watershed-1 (EWS-1): This watershed consists of the northeast portion of the existing site, and includes the lower parking lot and surrounding grassed areas, as well as a small portion of the existing driveway and pedestrian areas at the southeast building entrance. Stormwater runoff from this watershed flows by gravity or into existing drains to an existing double catch basin in the eastern center low point of the lower parking lot. This double catch basin overflows at the surface into an erosion channel. All flows end up at the surface to the east of the site, depicted as POA-1.

EX-Watershed-2 (EWS-2): This watershed consists of the north and east portions of the site, and include approximately half of the existing school footprint, along with parking, drives and walkways, playfields, and landscaped areas. Stormwater runoff from this watershed is captured by a series of catch basins and roof drains that discharge to an existing 12" corrugated plastic pipe (CPP) into the Library property to the southeast. It is presumed that this pipe eventually connects to the Cooper Street municipal drain southeast of the site at the library entrance, beyond our focus area. This discharge location is depicted as POA-2.

EX-Watershed-3 (EWS-3): This watershed is the largest and consists of the entire southwest zone of the site, and includes the other approximate half of the existing school footprint, along with parking, drives and walkways, playfields, and landscaped areas. Stormwater runoff from this watershed is captured by a series of catch basins and roof drains that are then routed southeast across the parking lot and down the driveway to the existing 18" RCP municipal drain within Cooper Street. This discharge location is depicted as POA-3.

EX-Watershed-4 (EWS-4): This watershed consists of the northwest portion of the site and is almost entirely grassed playfield area. This watershed flows by gravity into the neighboring properties to the northwest of the site. This discharge location is depicted as POA-4.

Proposed Watersheds:

PR-Watershed-1 (PWS-1): This watershed consists of the northeast portion of the existing site, slightly altered from the existing EWS-1 with some of the flows diverted south. This watershed and includes the lower parking lot (which is remaining) and surrounding grassed areas. Stormwater runoff from this watershed flows by gravity or into existing drains to an existing double catch basin in the eastern center low point of the lower parking lot. All flows end up at POA-1.

PR-Watershed-2 (PWS-2): This watershed is broken up into three (3) subcatchments (PWS-2A, PWS-2B, PWS-2C) and includes the northeast portion of the renovated site. This watershed encompasses the new soccer field, landscaped areas, portions of the new parking lots, loading dock and drives, and the renovated Pre-K building. Stormwater runoff from this watershed is captured by a series of catch basins and roof drains that discharge into Infiltrations Systems #1 and #2 (INF-1 & INF-2). Infiltration System #1 is located in the northern portion of the site and has a 10" PVC overflow that discharges into the existing 12" CPP drain at POA-2. Infiltration System #2 is centrally located within PWS-2 and has a 12" PVC overflow that also discharges to POA-2.

PR-Watershed-3 (PWS-3): This watershed consists of the northwest, west, and south portions of the proposed site and is broken up into four (4) subcatchments (PWS-3A, PWS-3B, PWS-3C, and PWS-3D). This watershed includes the northern baseball fields, western parking lots and drives, and southern parking areas and bus loop, as well as landscaped areas and roof drains from the new building. Runoff from this watershed is directed into Infiltration Systems #3, #4 and #5 (INF-3, INF-4, & INF-5).

PR-Watershed-4 (PWS-4): This watershed consists of the northwest portion of the site and is almost entirely grassed playfield area. This watershed is slightly reduced in area from the existing EWS-4 watershed, and the remaining portion flows by gravity into the neighboring properties to the northwest at POA-4.

Results/ Summary

Results of Analysis:
Through the use of the HydroCAD Software, the curve numbers, times of concentrations, and peak discharge rates were determined for both the existing conditions and the proposed conditions. The results of the study shows that both the post-development peak rates of runoff are equal or less than the existing rates.

As shown in Tables 1, 2, 3, & 4 below, the post development peak rates of runoff from the site will be mitigated:

Stormwater Management Standards

The Department of Environmental Protection has implemented the Stormwater Management Standards as of November 18, 1996 and updated them in April 2008. The standards met are described below and in the Stormwater Management Form as provided by DEP.

Standard #1: Untreated Stormwater

The project is designed so that stormwater conveyances (outfalls/discharges) do not discharge untreated stormwater into, or cause erosion to, wetlands or waters.

Therefore Standard #1 is met.

Standard #2: Post-development peak discharge rates

The proposed project will result in an increase in impervious area. The proposed stormwater management system has been designed so that there is no increase overall in post construction discharge rates from the site. See Tables 1, 2, 3, & 4 above.

Therefore Standard #2 is met.

Standard #3: Recharge to groundwater

Loss of annual recharge to groundwater shall be eliminated or minimized through the use of environmental sensitive site design, stormwater best management practices, and good operation and maintenance. At a minimum, the annual recharge from the post- development site shall approximate the annual recharge from pre-development conditions based on soil type. This Standard is met when the stormwater management system is designed to infiltrate the required recharge volume as determined in accordance with the Massachusetts Stormwater Handbook.

Soil types have been identified based on the information contained in the Soil Report. We have determined that the soils are consistent with Hydrologic soil type "A" which requires runoff to be infiltrated (as listed in the table below) from new impervious areas.

The proposed development will result in an increase in impervious area in the "A" soil areas. To be conservative, the calculations for required recharge volumes are based on the required inches of runoff for the new impervious area per soil area.

Hydrologic Group Volume to Recharge (x Total Impervious Area)
Hydrologic Group	Volume to Recharge x Total Impervious Area
A	0.60 inches of runoff
B	0.35 inches of runoff
C	0.25 inches of runoff
D	0.10 inches of runoff

Required Recharge Volumes:

"A" Soils

Infiltration Rate: 0.60 inches of runoff
Proposed Site New Impervious Area in "A" Soils: 566,616 sf
566,616 sf x 0.60 x (1/12) = 28,330.8 cf

Total required recharge volume: 28,331 cf

The following volumes are based on a 2.2" rainfall event resulting in 0.6" of runoff depth. During this event, the infiltration systems discarded the following volumes:

Infiltration System #1 = 9,096 cf
Infiltration System #2 = 6,691 cf
Infiltration System #3 = 181 cf
Infiltration System #4 = 7,914 cf
Infiltration System #5 = 9,037 cf

Total provided recharge volume: 32,919 cf

Therefore Standard #3 is met.

Standard #4: TSS removal

The BMP's selected to remove TSS from impervious areas for this include: Catch Basins, Water Quality, and Subsurface Structures.

PR-Watershed-1 (New construction)

Initial TSS=1.00
Catch Basin: (1.00)(1.00-0.25)=0.75
Water Quality Unit: (0.75)(1.00-0.80)=0.15
Infiltration System: (0.15)(1.00-0.80)=0.03

TSS Removal= 97%
PR-Watershed-2 (New construction)

Initial TSS=1.00
Catch Basin: (1.00)(1.00-0.25)=0.75
Water Quality Unit: (0.75)(1.00-0.80)=0.15
Infiltration System: (0.15)(1.00-0.80)=0.03
TSS Removal= 97%

PR-Watershed-3 (New construction)

Initial TSS=1.00
Catch Basin: (1.00)(1.00-0.25)=0.75
Water Quality Unit: (0.75)(1.00-0.80)=0.15
Infiltration System: (0.15)(1.00-0.80)=0.03
TSS Removal= 97%

PR-Watershed-4 (New construction)

Initial TSS=1.00
Catch Basin: (1.00)(1.00-0.25)=0.75
Water Quality Unit: (0.75)(1.00-0.80)=0.15
Infiltration System: (0.15)(1.00-0.80)=0.03
TSS Removal= 97%

Therefore Standard #4 is met.

Standard #5: Higher potential pollutant loads

The project site does not contain Land Uses with Higher Potential Pollutant Loads.

Therefore Standard #5 is met.

Standard #6: Protection of critical areas

The site is NOT located within critical areas as defined by Critical areas are Outstanding Resource Waters (ORW) as designated in 314 CMR 4.00, Special Resource Waters as designated in 314 CMR 4.00, recharge areas for public water supplies as defined in 310 CMR 22.02 (Zone Is, Zone IIs and Interim Wellhead Protection Areas for groundwater sources and Zone As for surface water sources), bathing beaches as defined in 105 CMR 445.000, cold-water fisheries as defined in 314 CMR 9.02 and 310 CMR 10.04, and shellfish growing areas as defined in 314 CMR 9.02 and 310 CMR 10.04.

Therefore Standard #6 is met.

Standard #7: Redevelopment projects

While a large portion of the site is being redeveloped, there is an increase in impervious area, thus the project is considered a combination of New Construction and Redevelopment and all of the Standards will be met.

Therefore Standard #7 is met.

Standard #8: Construction Period Pollution Prevention and Erosion and Sedimentation Control

Soil Erosion and Sediment Control Plan:
The objectives of the Soil Erosion and Sediment Control Plan are to control erosion at its source with temporary control structures, minimize the runoff from areas of disturbance, and de-concentrate and distribute stormwater runoff through natural vegetation before discharge to critical zones such as streams or wetlands. Soil erosion control does not begin with the perimeter sediment trap. It begins at the source of the sediment, the disturbed land areas, and extends down to the control structure.

The Soil Erosion and Sediment Control Plan will be enacted in order to protect the resource areas during construction. The erosion control devices will remain in place until all exposed areas have been stabilized with vegetation or impervious surfaces.

The objective of the Soil Erosion & Sediment Control Plan that will be enacted on site is to control the vulnerability of the soil to the erosion process or the capability of moving water to detach soil particles during the construction phase(s).

The erosion and sediment control plan to be in place during the construction phase is detailed within the civil design plans (included).

Therefore Standard #8 is met.

Standard #9: Operation & Maintenance Plan

An operation and maintenance plan for both construction and post-development stormwater controls has been developed. The plan includes owner(s); parties responsible for operation and maintenance; schedule for inspection and maintenance; routine and non-routine maintenance tasks. A copy of the O&M is included in the Appendices.

Therefore Standard #9 is met.

Standard #10: All illicit discharges to the stormwater management system are prohibited

It is not anticipated that there will be any Illicit discharges for the project.

Therefore Standard #10 is met.

MAP INFORMATION

The soil surveys that comprise your AOI were mapped at 1:15,800.

Warning: Soil Map may not be valid at this scale.

Enlargement of maps beyond the scale of mapping can cause misunderstanding of the detail of mapping and accuracy of soil line placement. The maps do not show the small areas of contrasting soils that could have been shown at a more detailed scale.

Please rely on the bar scale on each map sheet for map measurements.

Source of Map: Natural Resources Conservation Service
Web Soil Survey URL:
Coordinate System: Web Mercator (EPSG:3857)

Maps from the Web Soil Survey are based on the Web Mercator projection, which preserves direction and shape but distorts distance and area. A projection that preserves area, such as the Albers equal-area conic projection, should be used if more accurate calculations of distance or area are required.

This product is generated from the USDA-NRCS certified data as of the version date(s) listed below.

Soil Survey Area: Hampden County, Massachusetts, Central Part
Survey Area Data: Version 17, Sep 10, 2023

Soil map units are labeled (as space allows) for map scales 1:50,000 or larger.

Date(s) aerial images were photographed: Oct 15, 2020—Oct 31, 2020

The orthophoto or other base map on which the soil lines were compiled and digitized probably differs from the background imagery displayed on these maps. As a result, some minor shifting of map unit boundaries may be evident.

AGAWAM HIGH SCHOOL
CONSTRUCTION PERIOD POLLUTION PREVENTION PLAN, OPERATION AND MAINTENANCE PLAN, AND LONG-TERM POLLUTION PREVENTION PLAN
FEBRUARY 2025

During The Construction Period the General Contractor shall be responsible for the following:

1. Erosion Control

   Erosion control barriers will be placed along down-gradient portions of the site as indicated on the project plans. Additional erosion control barriers will be placed at the limit of work as needed and in any sensitive areas as work progresses. A stockpile of additional erosion control barriers shall be kept on site at all times.
   Erosion control shall be left in place until directed by the Planning Board / Design Team to remove it.

2. Site Access

   Site access for general school students/staff will be from the existing driveway entrances as indicated on the project plans. Site access for construction equipment will be via a new construction entrance which will be installed at the onset of the project by the general contractor per construction entrance detail on Civil Details sheet C-6.0.

3. Construction Staging

   Construction staging areas will be established on the existing site by the contractor. All construction materials, supplies, trailers and offices, portable toilets, and equipment shall be stored within the limits of the staging areas. All temporary stockpiles will be surrounded with compost filter socks and silt fencing as required to prevent erosion damages.

4. Site Grading/Site Work

   The site activities may only commence when the site is stable from erosion and all required control measures are in place and functional.

5. Slope Stabilization

   All surfaces and slopes shall be checked after each major storm event (the occurrence of a storm event 0.25 inches or greater) and once every 7 calendar days to see that vegetation is in good condition. Any rills or damage from erosion shall be repaired immediately to avoid further damage. If seeps develop on the slopes, the area will be evaluated to determine if the seep will cause an unstable condition and shall be stabilized immediately if necessary. Problems found during the inspections by the General Contractor shall be repaired promptly. Areas requiring re-vegetation shall be replanted immediately or stabilized in a manner acceptable to the Town of Agawam if it is outside of the growing season. Slopes and other exposed surfaces receiving vegetation will be maintained as necessary to support healthy vegetation. If stabilization is required during the non-growing season, straw mulch or a commercially manufactured blanket must be employed to prevent erosion.

6. Permanent Stabilization

Disturbed portions of the site where construction activities permanently cease shall be stabilized with permanent seed no later than 14 days after the last construction activity. The permanent seed mix, fertilizer, and mulch shall be specified on the project plans. Permanent seeding shall occur in the Spring or Fall.

7. Drainage Structures (Area Drains, Catch Basins (CB), Drain Manholes (DMH), and Water Quality Units (WQU))

All structures shall be inspected every 7 calendar days and after every rain storm and repairs made as necessary. Sediment shall be removed from the sump after the sediment has reached a maximum of one half the depth of the sump. The sediment shall be removed from the site and properly disposed of. Drainage structures/sumps shall be cleaned completely at the end of construction. See attached manufacture requirements for infiltration structures and WQU Operation & Maintenance.

8. Dust and Sediment Control

Siltsacks: Catch basin / area drain filters shall be placed at all inlets to drainage structures as structures are installed and prior to pavement removal. Outlet protection work shall be constructed before runoff is allowed to enter the drainage system. Construction and location of catch basin filters shall be as indicated on the Drawings.

Straw Wattles and Silt Fence: Straw wattle and silt fence shall be installed as indicated on the Drawings. Wattles shall be placed in a row with ends tightly abutting the adjacent wattles. Each wattle shall be securely anchored in place by stakes or re-bars driven through the wattles. The first stake in each wattle shall be angled toward the previously laid wattle to force the wattles together. Silt fence shall be installed with a 6 in. by 6 in. trench on the contour with 6 ft. extending up slope at the ends to prevent silt laden runoff from escaping. Set the posts to the depth specified on the Drawings. The fabric shall be attached to the posts on the upstream side and shall extend 2 ft. above the normal water level and at least 10 in. shall extend horizontally along the soil at the bottom. Soil shall be backfilled over the bottom 10 in. of the fabric around the inside of the trench.

Construction Entrance: The area of the construction entrance should be cleared of all vegetation, roots, and other objectionable material. The filter fabric should be placed on the subgrade prior to the gravel placement. The gravel shall be placed to the specified dimensions depicted on the plans. The Construction entrance shall be a minimum of 50-feet in length and 20-feet wide, unless otherwise stated on drawings.

Dust Control: The Contractor shall employ dust control methods and materials at all times using sprinkled water or other approved means. A mechanical street sweeper shall be utilized to clean the existing paved areas on an as-needed basis. For emergency control of dust apply water to affected areas. The source of supply and the method of application for water are the responsibility of the contractor.

9. Allowable Non-Stormwater Discharges

No illicit discharges allowed per stormwater management policy requirement #8.

Type of Allowable Non-Stormwater Discharge:

- Discharges from emergency fire-fighting activities
- Fire hydrant flushings
- Landscape irrigation
- Waters used to wash vehicles and equipment
- Water used to control dust
- Potable water including uncontaminated water line flushings
- Routine external building wash down
- Pavement wash waters
- Uncontaminated air conditioning or compressor condensate
- Uncontaminated, non-turbid discharges of ground water or spring water
- Foundation or footing drains
- Construction dewatering water

Pollution Prevention Measures

1. Before, during, and after construction, functional erosion and sedimentation controls shall be implemented to prevent sediment from migrating off the site. Compost filter socks, crushed stone, temporary stabilization and other controls shall be properly maintained and are not to be removed until the site is permanently stabilized. Other controls shall be added as warranted during construction to protect environmentally-sensitive areas. Sufficient extra materials (e.g. compost filter socks, silt fencing and other control materials) shall be stored on site for emergencies.

2. Silt sacks and compost filter socks shall be installed at all existing and proposed infiltration areas to protect from soils and sediment.

3. Casting of excavated materials shall be stored away from wetland areas and sensitive land areas.

4. Any stockpiling of loose materials shall be properly stabilized to prevent erosion and siltation. Preventative controls such as compost filter socks, temporary seeding/mulching and jute covering shall be implemented to prevent such an occurrence.

5. There shall be no flooding, ponding, or flood related damage caused by the project or surface run-off emanating from the project on lands of an abutter, nearby or down-gradient of the site.

6. There shall be no contaminant migration caused by the project to nearby and down-gradient properties, nearby aquifers, and nearby resource areas.

7. The contractor shall make sufficient provisions to control any unexpected drainage and erosion conditions that may arise during construction that may create damage on abutting properties. Said control measures are to be implemented at once.

8. During construction, flood prevention, erosion, and sedimentation controls shall be in place before the natural ground cover is disturbed. Said controls shall be in place prior to other construction work and shall be monitored and approved by the Contractor. They shall be properly maintained and are not to be removed until the site is stabilized.

9. The Contractor shall designate a person or persons to inspect and supervise the erosion controls for the project. The Town of Agawam shall be notified as to the means to contact said individual or individuals on a 24-hour basis on all working and non-working days of the project. Said means of contact shall include at least 2 separate telephone numbers of said designated person or persons.

10. There shall be inspections every 7 calendar days for compost filter socks, and other erosion controls by the Contractor's Designee to assure their continued effectiveness.

11. The Contractor shall make adequate provisions for controlling erosion and sediment from activities that might yield water at high volumes with high suspended solid contents, such as dewatering excavations.

12. Street sweeping shall be used to keep public ways free and clear of sediment and dirt from the site activities.

Other Control Measures

Waste Materials. All trash and construction debris from the site will be hauled to an approved landfill or recycling facility. No construction waste material will be buried on the site. All personnel will receive instructions regarding the correct procedure for waste disposal. Notices describing these practices will be posted in the construction office. The site superintendent will be responsible for seeing that these procedures are followed. Employee waste and other loose materials will be collected so as to prevent the release of floatables during rainfall events.

Hazardous Waste. Hazardous materials shall be handled on site as outlined in the SWPPP Section 5.0 Pollution Prevention Controls. The mandated State and Local permits for removal of such materials will be implemented when such materials are to be removed.

After Construction Agawam High School (the Owner) shall be responsible for the following:

General Land Grading and Slopes Stabilization

All surfaces and slopes shall be checked bi-annually to see that vegetation is in good condition. Any rills or damage from erosion shall be repaired immediately to avoid further damage. If seeps develop on the slopes, the area will be evaluated to determine if the seep will cause an unstable condition and shall be stabilized immediately if necessary. Problems found during the inspections by the Owner shall be repaired promptly. Areas requiring re-vegetation shall be replanted immediately. Slopes and other exposed surfaces receiving vegetation will be maintained as necessary to support healthy vegetation.

Areas of steep slope (2.5:1 or greater) shall be stabilized using jute mesh or a similar approved erosion blanket.

Erosion Controls

Erosion controls shall not be removed or dismantled without approval from the Engineer and Town of Agawam. Sediment deposits that are removed or left in place after the barriers have been dismantled shall be graded manually to conform to the existing topography and vegetated using seeding or other long-term cover as approved in the Landscape Plan. Bare ground that cannot be permanently stabilized within 30 days shall be stabilized by temporary measures.

Street Sweeping

It is proposed that the parking and drive areas be swept with a wet brush street sweeper on a semi-annual basis, with at least two sweepings per year. One sweep shall be done at the end of the winter season (prior to the heavy rain), and the other sweep at the end of autumn (prior to snowfall).

Snow Storage

Snow storage shall be in designated areas as specified by the school. Snow storage shall not be permitted within the Stormwater BMP's.

Rip-Rap Maintenance

Rip-rap rock will be located at the infiltration system outlet. High water and post flood inspections shall be conducted to ensure that the rip-rap rock is maintained in-place. Lost or dislocated rocks shall be replaced as soon as possible.

Stormwater Management System

Area Drains, Catch Basins, Drain Manholes, and Water Quality Units:
The area drains, catch basins, drain manholes, and water quality units shall be inspected semi-annually, and cleaned out when sumps are approximately 15% full or at a minimum of once per year. The use of “clam shells” for sediment removal shall not be allowed; a vacuum truck shall be the approved method of cleaning. Integrity and functionality of oil hoods shall also be checked at the time of the inspection.

Infiltration Systems and Detention Systems:
The infiltration systems’ inlets and outlets should be inspected twice a year, in spring and fall. Any clogs, debris, or sedimentation should be cleared as required to ensure the inlets and outlets are flowing freely. Infiltration and Detention systems are to be maintained per manufacturers’ recommendations.

Infiltration System:
Inspection Ports*:*
These perforated columns are designed to give the user a base-line sediment depth across the system floor. After inspecting the bottom of the structure, use a mirror on a pole (or some other device) to check for sediment or debris in the pipe connecting to the Infiltration Chambers. If sediment or debris is observed in any of these structures, you should determine the depth of the material. This is typically accomplished with a stadia rod, but you should determine the best way to obtain the measurement. All observations and measurements should be recorded on an Inspection Log kept on file. The Infiltration Systems should be back-flushed once sediment accumulation exceeds 3 inches in depth.

If sediment accumulation reaches 3 inches in depth:

Before any maintenance is performed on your system, be sure to plug the outlet pipe to prevent contamination of the adjacent systems. To back-flush the Infiltration Chambers, water is pumped into the system through the Maintenance Ports as rapidly as possible. Water should be pumped into ALL Maintenance Ports. The turbulent action of the water moving through the Infiltration Chamber(s) will suspend sediments which may then be pumped out. If your system includes an Outlet Structure, this will be the ideal location to pump contaminated water out of the system. However, removal of back-flush water may be accomplished through the Maintenance Ports, as well. For systems with large footprints that would require extensive volumes of water to properly flush the system, you should consider performing your maintenance within 24 hours of a rain event. Stormwater entering the system will aid in the suspension of sediments and reduce the volume of water required to properly flush the system.

BMP Accessories: Level Spreaders, Outlet Structures, Catch Basin Inserts

- Level Spreaders: Inspect level spreaders regularly, especially after large rainfall events. Note and repair any erosion or low spots in the spreader.
- Outlet Structure: The preferred approach is to end the outlet pipe at a headwall or flared-end structure with a riprap or bio-engineered splash pad, discharging to a manmade drainage swale that is aligned at no more than a 45-degree angle to a stream channel. Design the outlet point and riprap or bio-engineered splash pad to reduce the energy sufficiently to eliminate a need to install riprap on the bank opposite the outfall point to protect it from scour.
- Catch Basin Inserts: Inspect Catch Basin Inserts per the manufacturer's schedule, and especially after large rainfall events. Whoever is responsible for maintenance should explicitly agree to conduct the maintenance per the manufacturer's recommendation and to lawfully dispose of the cleanings or used filtration media.

Water Quality Unit (WQU):

Water Quality Unit shall be as follows and per manufacturer's recommendations:

- Units should be inspected and cleaned/emptied post-construction, prior to being put into service.
- Inspect every six months for the first year of operation to determine the oil and sediment accumulation rate. In subsequent years, inspections can be based on first-year observations
- Cleaning is required once the sediment depth reaches 15% of storage capacity or at a minimum of once per year.
- Inspect the unit immediately after an oil, fuel, or chemical spill.
- A licensed waste management company should remove captured petroleum waste products from any oil, chemical, or fuel spills and dispose responsibly.
- Owner to follow the requirements of the manufacturer for maintenance and cleaning of the units with a frequency as noted above, and where the requirements of this Operations and Maintenance Plan are more rigorous than manufacturer's requirements, defer to this Operations and Maintenance Plan.

I. INTRODUCTION

A. Project Description

The site under investigation consists of approximately 2.9 acres of previously developed land and is located at 207 Bowles Road in Agawam, Massachusetts.

The subject parcel is located south of Bowles Road. The parcel maintains one (1) section of frontage on Bowles Road of approximately 253 feet. It is abutted on all side by developed industrial properties.

RHM Realty LLC is proposing to redevelop the subject property. The property is currently developed with a 17,530 S.F. building, a paved loading area, a parking lot, and a stormwater management system which includes an infiltration basin. The proposed development includes a 11,100 S.F. building addition, as well as new paved parking areas with 37 new parking spaces.

The increase in stormwater runoff due to the additional proposed impervious area is mitigated by expanding the size of the infiltration basin and constructing a sediment forebay. Stormwater runoff from all existing and proposed impervious paved areas will sheet flow directly into the infiltration basin.

B. Existing Soils, Topography and Land Uses

The subject property is currently a developed lot with a 17,530 SF manufacturing building, a parking lot, and grassed landscape areas. The topography of the proposed area of development has slopes ranging from 1.5% to approximately 15.0%.

The United States Department of Agriculture – Soil Conservation Service- Soil Survey of Hampden County, Massachusetts characterized soils on site and land adjacent as follows

Map Unit Symbol	Location	Soil Name	Hydrologic Group	USDA Soil Texture Class	Other Description
254A	On-site	Merrimac	A	Sandy Loam

The USDA defines groups of soils into Hydrologic Soil Groups (HSG) according to their runoff-producing characteristics. Soils are assigned to four groups (A, B, C, and D Groups). In group A, are soils having a high infiltration rate when thoroughly wet and having a low runoff potential. They typically are deep, well drained, and sandy or gravelly. In group D, at the other extreme, are soils having a very slow infiltration rate and thus a high runoff potential. They may have a hardpan or clay layer at or near the surface, have a permanent high water table, or are shallow over nearly impervious bedrock or other nearly impervious material. The USDA Soil Survey gives an HSG A for Merrimac soil. The soil type on-site is confirmed based on knowledge of soils in the area from deep hole observations on adjacent properties. A pre-existing stormwater infiltration basin exists on-site which currently infiltrates stormwater back into the ground with no issues. In conclusion, the soils on-site have a high permeability and are suitable for stormwater infiltration.

II. STORMWATER RUNOFF ANALYSIS

A. Design Criteria

The potential stormwater impacts of this project were evaluated for the 2-, 10-, 25-, and 100-yr., 24-hour storm events. These storm events were evaluated in order to model the operation of the proposed stormwater management system, during the design storm events to ensure no increased runoff occurs due to the proposed development.

Rainfall depths were derived from Technical Paper No.40 published by the National Weather Service. The 24-hour precipitation/rainfall amounts for the design storms are as follows:

Table 1: 24-hour Rainfall Depths

24-hour Rainfall (in)
Design Storm, Recurrence Interval	2-year	10-year	25-year	100-year
Precipitation, inches	2.9	4.5	5.2	6.5

B. Methodology

Peak Flow Rate Calculations

Stormwater Runoff volumes for the indicated recurrence intervals were computed using Hydro Cad and verified with the Rational Method. HydroCAD, a hydrology program, is designed and calculations are in accordance with the criteria of the Natural Resource Conservation Service's "Urban Hydrology for Small Watersheds," Technical Release (TR) TR-55 and TR-20. HydroCAD, was utilized to tabulate and graph the individual sub-catchments hydrograph and provide stage-discharge graphs and tables.

III. STORMWATER MANAGEMENT

A. Introduction

The potential stormwater impacts of this project were evaluated for the 2-, 10-, 25- and 100-year 24-hour storm event. The stormwater runoff from the subject parcel shall be mitigated, below pre-development levels. These storm events were evaluated in order to model the operation of the proposed stormwater management system. The subject project does not increase the peak flow rate for the 2-, 10-, 25- or 100-year 24-hour storm events. Peak stormwater flows for the indicated recurrence intervals were computed using HydroCAD (a proprietary stormwater modeling program that utilizes the SCS TR-20/TR-55 methodology) for the sub-catchment areas within the proposed project site.

B. Runoff Curve Coefficient

The computation of the runoff curve number is based on a combination of land use. The pre and post-development conditions have a variety of different land uses. The land use categories listed in Table 1 were identified for use in computing the pre-and post-development runoff from the site. The table also indicates the runoff curve number (RCN) and hydrologic soil group assigned to each land use.

Table 1: Pre and Post-Development RCN

Land Use	Hydrologic Soil Group	RCN
Impervious, Pavement	N/A	98
Impervious, Building	N/A	98
>75% Grass Cover, Good Condition	A	39
Woods, Good Condition	A	30

C. Pre-Development Conditions

1. Sub-Catchment Description:

Table 1 indicates the RCN and hydrologic soil group assigned to each land use within the sub-catchment for the pre-development conditions. The existing watershed for the property consists of three (3) sub-catchment areas and one (1) infiltration basin (see figure F-1 for locations). Sub-Catchment E1 contains a majority of the development, including the existing building and parking lot, the infiltration basin. Runoff from the existing parking areas sheet flow directly into the infiltration basin. Runoff from the existing building is captured via downspouts and discharged to the infiltration basin. For this analysis we have utilized a point on the riprap emergency spillway of the infiltration basin as Analysis Point “A” (see Figure F-1).

Sub-Catchment E2 contains a large grassed area at the front and side of the existing building. Runoff from the entire subcatchment drains via sheet and shallow concentrated flow into the existing grassed drainage channel that runs adjacent to Bowles Road. For this analysis we have utilized a point in the drainage channel where the runoff flows off the property as Analysis Point “B” (see Figure F-1).

Sub-Catchment E3 contains a small portion of grassed area east of the existing parking areas. Runoff from the entire subcatchment drains to the east and off the property via sheet and shallow concentrated flow. For this analysis we have utilized the eastern property lines as Analysis Line “C” (see Figure F-1).

The results of the stormwater management pre-development analysis are summarized in Tables 2 and 3 below.

2. Time of Concentration

Each flow path is delineated along the longest hydrologic path within each corresponding sub-catchment.

D. Post-Development Conditions

1. Sub-catchment Description:

Table 1 indicates the RCN and hydrologic soil group assigned to each land use for the post-development conditions. The proposed watershed on the subject parcel is composed of three (3) sub-catchments and one (1) infiltration basin (see figure F-2 for locations).

Sub-Catchment P1 contains a majority of the development, including a portion of the existing building and parking lot, the infiltration basin, and the proposed building addition and parking expansion. Runoff from the proposed parking area sheet flows directly into the sediment forebay of the infiltration basin. Runoff from the existing and proposed building is captured via downspouts and discharged to the infiltration basin. For this analysis we have utilized a point on the riprap emergency spillway of the infiltration basin as Analysis Point "A" (see Figure F-1).

Sub-Catchment P2 contains the remaining grassed area at the front and side of the building. Runoff from the entire subcatchment drains via sheet and shallow concentrated flow into the existing grassed drainage channel that runs adjacent to Bowles Road. For this analysis we have utilized a point in the drainage channel where the runoff flows off the property as Analysis Point "B" (see Figure F-1).

Sub-Catchment P3 contains a small portion of grassed area east of the existing parking areas. Runoff from the entire subcatchment drains to the east and off the property via sheet and shallow concentrated flow. For this analysis we have utilized the eastern property lines as Analysis Line "C" (see Figure F-1).

The results of the stormwater management post-development analysis are summarized in Tables 4 and 5 below.

IV. Stormwater Management Performance Standards Narrative

The following is a summary of the Agawam Stormwater Management Ordinance (Ch. 175-35) Performance Standards for redevelopment, along with a narrative detailing compliance with these standards.

Section 175-35. C. Permanent measures; runoff quality and quantity best management practices.
(2) Redevelopment. Previously developed sites must meet the stormwater management standards to the maximum extent practicable. However, if it is not practicable to meet all the standards, the new (retrofitted or expanded) stormwater management system must be designed to improve existing conditions.

(a) Stormwater management measures.

An existing infiltration basin was utilized for temporary runoff storage, flow attenuation, and pollutant removal. The detention pond was expanded to manage the flow from the existing and proposed impervious areas and designed so as not to create a permanent pool of water.

(b) Peak flow rates.

Peak flow rates for the post-development conditions do not exceed the peak flow rates for the pre-development condition for the 2-yr, 10-yr, and 100-yr twenty-four-hour design storm events. See Table 6, 7, and 8 on the previous pages for pre and post development flow rates, and Appendix A & B for calculations.

(c) Minimize pollutants

The existing infiltration basin will be expanded to include a newly constructed sediment forebay. All stormwater runoff from the proposed development will first pass through the sediment forebay before entering the basin. According to the MassDEP Stormwater Handbook guidelines, this system is expected to achieve an 80% removal rate of total suspended solids (TSS).

(d) Projects involving the storage or use of hazardous chemicals or petroleum products

There will be no storage or use of hazardous chemicals or petroleum products on the site.

(e) Connection to MS4.

The proposed stormwater management system will not connect to MS4.

(f) Emergency overflow.

The proposed detention basin is designed with a riprap emergency overflow spillway.

(g) Down stream structures.

No stormwater structures are being proposed

(h) Centralized detention facilities.

All stormwater from the proposed development is being managed by an on-site detention system.

(i) Detention ponds.

The proposed detention pond was designed in accordance with the MassDEP Stormwater Handbook guidelines.

(l) Detention pond maintenance requirements (for detention ponds within Town of Agawam easements).

The proposed detention pond is not located within a Town of Agawam easement. Operation and maintenance requirements for the proposed detention pond can be found in Section IV. Operation and Maintenance Narrative.

(m) Calculations submittals.

All calculations and supporting documents required have been included in this Stormwater Management Report and the accompanying site plans.

IV. Operation and Maintenance Narrative

A. Recharge Basin:
The Recharge Basin shall be maintained as follows:

1. The basin should be inspected for proper function and preventative maintenance be completed after every major storm during the first three months of operation and at least twice a year thereafter. Preventative maintenance shall include inspecting for:

-Signs of differential settlement
-Cracking
-Erosion
-Leakage in the embankment
-Tree growth on the embankments
-Condition of rip rap
-Sediment accumulation
-The health of the turf

2. Mow the buffer area, side slopes, and basin bottom at least twice a year. Trash debris, grass clippings and organic matter should be removed at this time.

3. Inspect and clean pretreatment devices at least twice a year and after every major storm event.

4. Remove any sediment from the basin if standing water is present 48 to 72 hours after a storm event.

5. Sediment should be removed from the basin as necessary. When sediment is observed to be 6 inches deep, the owner shall remove all sediment and bottom vegetation to the original elevation.

6. To remove sediment, wait until the floor of the basin is thoroughly dry. Use light equipment to remove the top layer, deeply till the remaining soil, and re-vegetate as soon as possible.

B. General Maintenance Practices

1. Grass clippings, excess landscape material or any debris shall NOT be disposed of within the forebay or the recharge basin.

2. Paved access ways should be treated with sand and limited amounts of de-icing materials during the winter months. As soon as practicable in the spring these areas should be swept clean and again prior to the end of the fall season.

3. All vegetated slopes and swales shall be visibly inspected, twice annually, prior to the seeding seasons. All areas in need of repair shall be fertilized and seeded as required.

VI. Inspection and Construction Schedule

A. Construction Schedule

1. Mobilize equipment on site.
2. Install erosion and sediment control measures
3. Begin site preparation
4. Excavate for site utilities and drainage system.
5. Roadway/Parking Lot Construction
6. Building construction
7. Final Grading and Seeding
8. Paving and Landscaping

B. Inspection Schedule

1. Project engineer shall inspect the drainage systems during general construction intervals.

2. During grading and construction of the detention basin, a soil evaluator or professional engineer shall be present on site to ensure native or similar soils underlay the entire basin to promote infiltration.

3. Project engineer shall inspect the following specific phases of work:

A. Installation of erosion control barrier
B. Rough drainage system
C. Final grading and seeding
D. Follow-up inspection during the following growing season.

VII. Long Term and Construction Period Pollution Prevention and Erosion and Sedimentation Control

EROSION AND SEDIMENTATION CONTROLS:

STABILIZATION PRACTICES:

Temporary Stabilization: Any disturbed area where construction activity is suspended for more than fourteen days shall be seeded to stabilize erodible materials.

Permanent Stabilization: When a landscaped area has been graded to the final increment, it shall be seeded or sodded within fourteen days.

STRUCTURAL PRACTICES:

Sedimentation Control System: Sedimentation control systems consisting of silt fence shall be installed along the limits of the project as shown on the plans (see attached plans). Where necessary, wings shall be added to the sedimentation control system along the toe of slope to prevent sediment from moving along and around the fence.

Catch Basin Protection: Catch basins shall be protected using filtration fabric sedimentation control systems as shown on the plans.

OTHER CONTROLS

WASTE DISPOSAL :

Waste Materials: All waste materials shall be collected and stored in a manner that will prevent materials from entering watercourses, wetlands, or other off site areas. Material shall be regularly collected and disposed of offsite in a manner consistent with all federal, state and local regulations.

Hazardous Waste: All hazardous waste materials shall be disposed of in a manner specified by State regulations and/or in accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations.

Sanitary Waste: During construction all sanitary waste will be collected in portable sanitary units. These units will be emptied as necessary by a qualified contractor and disposed of in accordance with all State and local regulations. After completion all sanitary waste will be directed into the municipal sewer system.

OFF-SITE VEHICLE TRACKING:

The paved areas adjacent to the site entrance will be swept as needed to remove any excess mud, dirt or rock tracked from the site. The site was designed to balance the total cut with the total fill, eliminating most need for hauling material on and off site. Dump trucks hauling material from the construction site will be covered with a tarpaulin.

MAINTENANCE AND INSPECTION

INSPECTION SCHEDULE

DURING CONSTRUCTION:

All areas disturbed by construction that have not been finally stabilized will be inspected at least once every seven-calendar day. These areas will also be inspected following (within 24 hours) any storm in which 0.5 inches or more of rain occurs in a 24-hour period.

POST CONSTRUCTION:

All areas that have been temporarily or finally stabilized will be inspected at least once a month for three months following final stabilization.

INSPECTION PROCEDURES

PERSONNEL:
Inspections shall be conducted by qualified personnel provided by the contractor.

ITEMS TO BE INSPECTED:
The following items shall be inspected as described below:

Item	Procedure
Silt fence	Silt fence shall be inspected to insure that fence line is intact with no breaks or tears, and that the bottom of the fabric is securely buried in the ground. Areas where fence is excessively sagging or where support posts are broken or uprooted shall be noted. Depth of sediment behind the fence shall be noted.
Discharge points	All discharge points shall be inspected to ascertain whether erosion control measures are effective in preventing significant impacts to receiving waters. Discharge points shall also be inspected to insure that erosion protection measures at the discharge are functioning

Vehicle entrances/exits	Locations where vehicles enter or exit the site shall be inspected for evidence of off- site sediment tracking.
General	Construction areas and perimeter of the site shall be inspected for any evidence of debris that may blow or wash off site, and for debris that has blown or washed off site. Construction areas shall be inspected for any spills or unsafe storage of materials that could pollute off site waters.

REVISIONS TO POLLUTION CONTROL PLAN:

If the results of the inspections require modifications to the pollution control plan, the plans shall be revised as soon as practicable after the inspection. Changes to the plan shall be implemented within 7 calendar days following the inspection.

RECORD KEEPING:

A written report summarizing the scope of the inspection, the name(s) and qualifications of inspection personnel, the date and time of the inspection, major observations relative to the implementation of the pollution control plan, and actions taken shall be completed within 24 hours of the inspection. This report shall be signed by the responsible person designated by the registrant. This report shall be retained as part of the pollution control plan for at least three years after the date of the inspection.

MAINTENANCE:

GENERAL:

Maintenance procedures should be implemented as soon as possible after the need for maintenance is recognized. Contractors shall utilize good housekeeping practices to minimize the possibilities of spills or leaks of potential pollutants. Hazardous materials shall be handled with the utmost care in accordance with all regulations and the recommendations of the manufacturer.

MAINTENANCE OF EROSION CONTROLS:

Erosion controls shall be maintained as noted below:

Item	Procedure
Silt fence	Sediment shall be removed when it reaches one third of the height of the silt fence. Care shall be taken to avoid damaging the fence during cleanout. Any areas of damaged or torn fabric, broken posts or undermined fence shall be repaired.

Discharge points	Any sediment or debris accumulated at discharge points shall be removed. Any damage to riprap shall be immediately repaired.
Vehicle entrances/exits	Any material tracked onto roadways shall be immediately cleaned up. If necessary, stabilized construction entrances shall be provided to minimize sediment tracking.
General	Any debris blowing or flowing off the site shall be immediately cleaned up. Any unsafe storage practices noted in the inspection shall be immediately remedied.

NON-STORM WATER DISCHARGES

GENERAL:

It is expected that the following non-storm water discharges may occur from the site during the construction period:

- Discharges from firefighting activities.
- Waters used for dust control.
- Drainage from watering vegetation.
- Pavement wash waters without use of detergent and where spills or leaks of hazardous materials have not occurred (unless cleanup has removed all spilled materials)
- Uncontaminated groundwater from dewatering operations.
- All non-stormwater discharges will be directed to the storm drainage system and/or discharge upstream of sediment and erosion controls.

I. INTRODUCTION

A. Project Description

The site under investigation consists of approximately 2.9 acres of previously developed land and is located at 207 Bowles Road in Agawam, Massachusetts.

The subject parcel is located south of Bowles Road. The parcel maintains one (1) section of frontage on Bowles Road of approximately 253 feet. It is abutted on all side by developed industrial properties.

RHM Realty LLC is proposing to redevelop the subject property. The property is currently developed with a 17,530 S.F. building, a paved loading area, a parking lot, and a stormwater management system which includes an infiltration basin. The proposed development includes a 11,100 S.F. building addition, as well as new paved parking areas with 37 new parking spaces.

The increase in stormwater runoff due to the additional proposed impervious area is mitigated by expanding the size of the infiltration basin and constructing a sediment forebay. Stormwater runoff from all existing and proposed impervious paved areas will sheet flow directly into the infiltration basin.

B. Existing Soils, Topography and Land Uses

The subject property is currently a developed lot with a 17,530 SF manufacturing building, a parking lot, and grassed landscape areas. The topography of the proposed area of development has slopes ranging from 1.5% to approximately 15.0%.

The United States Department of Agriculture – Soil Conservation Service- Soil Survey of Hampden County, Massachusetts characterized soils on site and land adjacent as follows

Map Unit Symbol	Location	Soil Name	Hydrologic Group	USDA Soil Texture Class	Other Description
254A	On-site	Merrimac	A	Sandy Loam

The USDA defines groups of soils into Hydrologic Soil Groups (HSG) according to their runoff-producing characteristics. Soils are assigned to four groups (A, B, C, and D Groups). In group A, are soils having a high infiltration rate when thoroughly wet and having a low runoff potential. They typically are deep, well drained, and sandy or gravelly. In group D, at the other extreme, are soils having a very slow infiltration rate and thus a high runoff potential. They may have a hardpan or clay layer at or near the surface, have a permanent high water table, or are shallow over nearly impervious bedrock or other nearly impervious material. The USDA Soil Survey gives an HSG A for Merrimac soil. The soil type on-site is confirmed based on knowledge of soils in the area from deep hole observations on adjacent properties. A pre-existing stormwater infiltration basin exists on-site which currently infiltrates stormwater back into the ground with no issues. In conclusion, the soils on-site have a high permeability and are suitable for stormwater infiltration.

II. STORMWATER RUNOFF ANALYSIS

A. Design Criteria

The potential stormwater impacts of this project were evaluated for the 2-, 10-, 25-, and 100-yr., 24-hour storm events. These storm events were evaluated in order to model the operation of the proposed stormwater management system, during the design storm events to ensure no increased runoff occurs due to the proposed development.

Precipitation rates were obtained from National Oceanic and Atmospheric Administration (NOAA) Atlas 14 online database and can be found in Appendix C. The 24-hour precipitation/rainfall amounts for the design storms are found in Table 1 below:

24-hour Rainfall (in)
Design Storm, Recurrence Interval	2-year	10-year	25-year	100-year
Precipitation, inches	3.22	5.21	6.44	8.35

B. Methodology

Peak Flow Rate Calculations

Stormwater Runoff volumes for the indicated recurrence intervals were computed using Hydro Cad and verified with the Rational Method. HydroCAD, a hydrology program, is designed and calculations are in accordance with the criteria of the Natural Resource Conservation Service's "Urban Hydrology for Small Watersheds," Technical Release (TR) TR-55 and TR-20. HydroCAD, was utilized to tabulate and graph the individual sub-catchments hydrograph and provide stage-discharge graphs and tables.

III. STORMWATER MANAGEMENT

A. Introduction

The potential stormwater impacts of this project were evaluated for the 2-, 10-, 25- and 100-year 24-hour storm event. The stormwater runoff from the subject parcel shall be mitigated, below pre-development levels. These storm events were evaluated in order to model the operation of the proposed stormwater management system. The subject project does not increase the peak flow rate for the 2-, 10-, 25- or 100-year 24-hour storm events. Peak stormwater flows for the indicated recurrence intervals were computed using HydroCAD (a proprietary stormwater modeling program that utilizes the SCS TR-20/TR-55 methodology) for the sub-catchment areas within the proposed project site.

B. Runoff Curve Coefficient

The computation of the runoff curve number is based on a combination of land use. The pre and post-development conditions have a variety of different land uses. The land use categories listed in Table 2 were identified for use in computing the pre-and post-development runoff from the site. The table also indicates the runoff curve number (RCN) and hydrologic soil group assigned to each land use.

Table 2: Pre and Post-Development RCN

Land Use	Hydrologic Soil Group	RCN
Impervious, Pavement	N/A	98
Impervious, Building	N/A	98
>75% Grass Cover, Good Condition	A	39
Woods, Good Condition	A	30

C. Pre-Development Conditions

1. Sub-Catchment Description:

Table 1 indicates the RCN and hydrologic soil group assigned to each land use within the sub-catchment for the pre-development conditions. The existing watershed for the property consists of three (3) sub-catchment areas and one (1) infiltration basin (see figure F-1 for locations). Sub-Catchment E1 contains a majority of the development, including the existing building and parking lot, the infiltration basin. Runoff from the existing parking areas sheet flow directly into the infiltration basin. Runoff from the existing building is captured via downspouts and discharged to the infiltration basin. For this analysis we have utilized a point on the riprap emergency spillway of the infiltration basin as Analysis Point “A” (see Figure F-1).

Sub-Catchment E2 contains a large grassed area at the front and side of the existing building. Runoff from the entire subcatchment drains via sheet and shallow concentrated flow into the existing grassed drainage channel that runs adjacent to Bowles Road. For this analysis we have utilized a point in the drainage channel where the runoff flows off the property as Analysis Point “B” (see Figure F-1).

Sub-Catchment E3 contains a small portion of grassed area east of the existing parking areas. Runoff from the entire subcatchment drains to the east and off the property via sheet and shallow concentrated flow. For this analysis we have utilized the eastern property lines as Analysis Line “C” (see Figure F-1).

The results of the stormwater management pre-development analysis are summarized in Tables 3 and 4 below.

Each flow path is delineated along the longest hydrologic path within each corresponding sub-catchment.

D. Post-Development Conditions

1. Sub-catchment Description:

Table 1 indicates the RCN and hydrologic soil group assigned to each land use for the post-development conditions. The proposed watershed on the subject parcel is composed of three (3) sub-catchments and one (1) infiltration basin (see figure F-2 for locations).

Sub-Catchment P1 contains a majority of the development, including a portion of the existing building and parking lot, the infiltration basin, and the proposed building addition and parking expansion. Runoff from the proposed parking area sheet flows directly into the sediment forebay of the infiltration basin. Runoff from the existing and proposed building is captured via downspouts and discharged to the infiltration basin. For this analysis we have utilized a point on the riprap emergency spillway of the infiltration basin as Analysis Point "A" (see Figure F-1).

Sub-Catchment P2 contains the remaining grassed area at the front and side of the building. Runoff from the entire subcatchment drains via sheet and shallow concentrated flow into the existing grassed drainage channel that runs adjacent to Bowles Road. For this analysis we have utilized a point in the drainage channel where the runoff flows off the property as Analysis Point "B" (see Figure F-1).

Sub-Catchment P3 contains a small portion of grassed area east of the existing parking areas. Runoff from the entire subcatchment drains to the east and off the property via sheet and shallow concentrated flow. For this analysis we have utilized the eastern property lines as Analysis Line "C" (see Figure F-1).

The results of the stormwater management post-development analysis are summarized in Tables 5 and 6 below.

IV. Stormwater Management Performance Standards Narrative

The following is a summary of the Agawam Stormwater Management Ordinance (Ch. 175-35) Performance Standards for redevelopment, along with a narrative detailing compliance with these standards.

Section 175-35. C. Permanent measures; runoff quality and quantity best management practices.
(2) Redevelopment. Previously developed sites must meet the stormwater management standards to the maximum extent practicable. However, if it is not practicable to meet all the standards, the new (retrofitted or expanded) stormwater management system must be designed to improve existing conditions.

(a) Stormwater management measures.

An existing infiltration basin was utilized for temporary runoff storage, flow attenuation, and pollutant removal. The detention pond was expanded to manage the flow from the existing and proposed impervious areas and designed so as not to create a permanent pool of water.

Peak flow rates for post-development conditions do not exceed those of pre-development conditions for the 2-year, 10-year, and 100-year, 24-hour design storm events, except for the post-development flow rate directed to the centralized detention facility. This project is located within the Agawam Regional Industrial Park, where a 25% Impervious Area Credit (IAC) is allowed. The pre-development IAC is 14.2%, while the post-development IAC is 22.9%.

Although post-development flow rates increase for the subcatchment directing stormwater runoff to the centralized detention facility, this is permissible since the total impervious area directed to the facility remains below 25% of the area of the parcel. For pre and post development flow rate comparisons, refer to Tables 7, 8, and 9 on the previous pages, and see Appendices A & B for calculations.

(c) Minimize pollutants

The proposed Best Management Practice (BMP) for this project is an infiltration basin with a sediment forebay. To accommodate the additional stormwater runoff from the proposed development, the existing infiltration basin will be expanded. Additionally, two new sediment forebays will be constructed within the basin. Stormwater runoff from all existing and proposed paved surfaces will first pass through a sediment forebay before entering the infiltration basin.

In accordance with the MassDEP Stormwater Handbook guidelines, an infiltration basin with a sediment forebay is recognized as a BMP capable of achieving an 80% removal rate of total suspended solids (TSS). The TSS removal rates used in our analysis align with the Stormwater Management Standards (Page 1-7). The proposed BMPs have been appropriately sized to capture at least 80% of the TSS generated by the project, as demonstrated in the calculations presented in Table 10 below.

Table 10: TSS Removal Rates

Best Management Practice (BMP)	SMP TSS Removal Rate	Annual TSS Load entering the BMP [unit]	Amount of TSS Removed by the BMP	TSS remaining after the BMP
Infiltration Basin w/ Sediment Forebay	80%	1.0	0.80	0.20
Total Percent of TSS Removed =			80%

(d) Projects involving the storage or use of hazardous chemicals or petroleum products

There will be no storage or use of hazardous chemicals or petroleum products on the site.

The proposed stormwater management system will not connect to MS4.

(f) Emergency overflow.

The proposed detention basin is designed with a riprap emergency overflow spillway.

(g) Down stream structures.

No stormwater structures are being proposed

(h) Centralized detention facilities.

This project is located within the Agawam Regional Industrial Park and is, therefore, allowed a 25% Impervious Area Credit (IAC). A majority of the existing buildings roof runoff and all of the proposed roof runoff will be directed to the centralized detention facility via discharge to a town drainage swale located at the front of the property running parallel with Bowles Road. The proposed post development IAC is 22.9%, which does not exceed the 25% maximum IAC allowed by the Agawam Town Code Chapter 175-35C(2)(h).

All stormwater runoff from the existing and proposed paved areas will be captured and detained within an on-site infiltration basin.

(i) Detention ponds.

The proposed detention pond was designed in accordance with the MassDEP Stormwater Handbook guidelines.

The proposed detention pond is not located within a Town of Agawam easement. Operation and maintenance requirements for the proposed detention pond can be found in Section IV. Operation and Maintenance Narrative.

(m) Calculations submittals.

All calculations and supporting documents required have been included in this Stormwater Management Report and the accompanying site plans.

IV. Operation and Maintenance Narrative

A. Recharge Basin:
The Recharge Basin shall be maintained as follows:

1. The basin should be inspected for proper function and preventative maintenance be completed after every major storm during the first three months of operation and at least twice a year thereafter. Preventative maintenance shall include inspecting for:

-Signs of differential settlement
-Cracking
-Erosion
-Leakage in the embankment
-Tree growth on the embankments
-Condition of rip rap
-Sediment accumulation
-The health of the turf

2. Mow the buffer area, side slopes, and basin bottom at least twice a year. Trash debris, grass clippings and organic matter should be removed at this time.

3. Inspect and clean pretreatment devices at least twice a year and after every major storm event.

4. Remove any sediment from the basin if standing water is present 48 to 72 hours after a storm event.

5. Sediment should be removed from the basin as necessary. When sediment is observed to be 6 inches deep, the owner shall remove all sediment and bottom vegetation to the original elevation.

6. To remove sediment, wait until the floor of the basin is thoroughly dry. Use light equipment to remove the top layer, deeply till the remaining soil, and re-vegetate as soon as possible.

B. General Maintenance Practices
1. Grass clippings, excess landscape material or any debris shall NOT be disposed of within the forebay or the recharge basin.

2. Paved access ways should be treated with sand and limited amounts of de-icing materials during the winter months. As soon as practicable in the spring these areas should be swept clean and again prior to the end of the fall season.

3. All vegetated slopes and swales shall be visibly inspected, twice annually, prior to the seeding seasons. All areas in need of repair shall be fertilized and seeded as required.

VI. Inspection and Construction Schedule

A. Construction Schedule

1. Mobilize equipment on site.
2. Install erosion and sediment control measures
3. Begin site preparation
4. Excavate for site utilities and drainage system.
5. Roadway/Parking Lot Construction
6. Building construction
7. Final Grading and Seeding
8. Paving and Landscaping

B. Inspection Schedule

1. Project engineer shall inspect the drainage systems during general construction intervals.

2. During grading and construction of the detention basin, a soil evaluator or professional engineer shall be present on site to ensure native or similar soils underlay the entire basin to promote infiltration.

3. Project engineer shall inspect the following specific phases of work:
   A. Installation of erosion control barrier
   B. Rough drainage system
   C. Final grading and seeding
   D. Follow-up inspection during the following growing season.

VII. Long Term and Construction Period Pollution Prevention and Erosion and Sedimentation Control

EROSION AND SEDIMENTATION CONTROLS:

STABILIZATION PRACTICES:

Temporary Stabilization: Any disturbed area where construction activity is suspended for more than fourteen days shall be seeded to stabilize erodible materials.

Permanent Stabilization: When a landscaped area has been graded to the final increment, it shall be seeded or sodded within fourteen days.

STRUCTURAL PRACTICES:

Sedimentation Control System: Sedimentation control systems consisting of silt fence shall be installed along the limits of the project as shown on the plans (see attached plans). Where necessary, wings shall be added to the sedimentation control system along the toe of slope to prevent sediment from moving along and around the fence.

Catch Basin Protection: Catch basins shall be protected using filtration fabric sedimentation control systems as shown on the plans.

WASTE DISPOSAL :

Waste Materials: All waste materials shall be collected and stored in a manner that will prevent materials from entering watercourses, wetlands, or other off site areas. Material shall be regularly collected and disposed of offsite in a manner consistent with all federal, state and local regulations.

Hazardous Waste: All hazardous waste materials shall be disposed of in a manner specified by State regulations and/or in accordance with the manufacturer's recommendations.

Sanitary Waste: During construction all sanitary waste will be collected in portable sanitary units. These units will be emptied as necessary by a qualified contractor and disposed of in accordance with all State and local regulations. After completion all sanitary waste will be directed into the municipal sewer system.

OFF-SITE VEHICLE TRACKING:

The paved areas adjacent to the site entrance will be swept as needed to remove any excess mud, dirt or rock tracked from the site. The site was designed to balance the total cut with the total fill, eliminating most need for hauling material on and off site. Dump trucks hauling material from the construction site will be covered with a tarpaulin.

MAINTENANCE AND INSPECTION

INSPECTION SCHEDULE

DURING CONSTRUCTION:

All areas disturbed by construction that have not been finally stabilized will be inspected at least once every seven-calendar day. These areas will also be inspected following (within 24 hours) any storm in which 0.5 inches or more of rain occurs in a 24-hour period.

POST CONSTRUCTION:

All areas that have been temporarily or finally stabilized will be inspected at least once a month for three months following final stabilization.

INSPECTION PROCEDURES

PERSONNEL:
Inspections shall be conducted by qualified personnel provided by the contractor.

ITEMS TO BE INSPECTED:
The following items shall be inspected as described below:

Item	Procedure
Silt fence	Silt fence shall be inspected to insure that fence line is intact with no breaks or tears, and that the bottom of the fabric is securely buried in the ground. Areas where fence is excessively sagging or where support posts are broken or uprooted shall be noted. Depth of sediment behind the fence shall be noted.
Discharge points	All discharge points shall be inspected to ascertain whether erosion control measures are effective in preventing significant impacts to receiving waters. Discharge points shall also be inspected to insure that erosion protection measures at the discharge are functioning
Vehicle entrances/exits	Locations where vehicles enter or exit the site shall be inspected for evidence of off- site sediment tracking.
General	Construction areas and perimeter of the site shall be inspected for any evidence of debris that may blow or wash off site, and for debris that has blown or washed off site. Construction areas shall be inspected for any spills or unsafe storage of materials that could pollute off site waters.

REVISIONS TO POLLUTION CONTROL PLAN:

If the results of the inspections require modifications to the pollution control plan, the plans shall be revised as soon as practicable after the inspection. Changes to the plan shall be implemented within 7 calendar days following the inspection.

RECORD KEEPING:

A written report summarizing the scope of the inspection, the name(s) and qualifications of inspection personnel, the date and time of the inspection, major observations relative to the implementation of the pollution control plan, and actions taken shall be completed within 24 hours of the inspection. This report shall be signed by the responsible person designated by the registrant. This report shall be retained as part of the pollution control plan for at least three years after the date of the inspection.

MAINTENANCE:

GENERAL:

Maintenance procedures should be implemented as soon as possible after the need for maintenance is recognized. Contractors shall utilize good housekeeping practices to minimize the possibilities of spills or leaks of potential pollutants. Hazardous materials shall be handled with the utmost care in accordance with all regulations and the recommendations of the manufacturer.

MAINTENANCE OF EROSION CONTROLS:

Erosion controls shall be maintained as noted below:

Item	Procedure
Silt fence	Sediment shall be removed when it reaches one third of the height of the silt fence. Care shall be taken to avoid damaging the fence during cleanout. Any areas of damaged or torn fabric, broken posts or undermined fence shall be repaired.
Discharge points	Any sediment or debris accumulated at discharge points shall be removed. Any damage to riprap shall be immediately repaired.
Vehicle entrances/exits	Any material tracked onto roadways shall be immediately cleaned up. If necessary, stabilized construction entrances shall be provided to minimize sediment tracking.
General	Any debris blowing or flowing off the site shall be immediately cleaned up. Any unsafe storage practices noted in the inspection shall be immediately remedied.

NON-STORM WATER DISCHARGES

GENERAL:

It is expected that the following non-storm water discharges may occur from the site during the construction period:

- Discharges from firefighting activities.
- Waters used for dust control.
- Drainage from watering vegetation.
- Pavement wash waters without use of detergent and where spills or leaks of hazardous materials have not occurred (unless cleanup has removed all spilled materials)
- Uncontaminated groundwater from dewatering operations.
- All non-stormwater discharges will be directed to the storm drainage system and/or discharge upstream of sediment and erosion controls.

MAP INFORMATION

The soil surveys that comprise your AOI were mapped at 1:15,800.

Warning: Soil Map may not be valid at this scale.

Enlargement of maps beyond the scale of mapping can cause misunderstanding of the detail of mapping and accuracy of soil line placement. The maps do not show the small areas of contrasting soils that could have been shown at a more detailed scale.

Please rely on the bar scale on each map sheet for map measurements.

Coordinate System: Web Mercator (EPSG:3857)

Maps from the Web Soil Survey are based on the Web Mercator projection, which preserves direction and shape but distorts distance and area. A projection that preserves area, such as the Albers equal-area conic projection, should be used if more accurate calculations of distance or area are required.

This product is generated from the USDA-NRCS certified data as of the version date(s) listed below.

Survey Area Data: Version 18, Aug 27, 2024

Soil map units are labeled (as space allows) for map scales 1:50,000 or larger.

Date(s) aerial images were photographed: Oct 15, 2020—Oct 31, 2020

The orthophoto or other base map on which the soil lines were compiled and digitized probably differs from the background imagery displayed on these maps. As a result, some minor shifting of map unit boundaries may be evident.

[1] Precipitation frequency (PF) estimates in this table are based on frequency analysis of partial duration series (PDS).

Numbers in parenthesis are PF estimates at lower and upper bounds of the 90% confidence interval. The probability that precipitation frequency estimates (for a given duration and average recurrence interval) will be greater than the upper bound (or less than the lower bound) is 5%. Estimates at upper bounds are not checked against probable maximum precipitation (PMP) estimates and may be higher than currently valid PMP values.

RE: Response to Engineering Division Comments, Addition to Litron, Inc
207 Bowles Road, Agawam, Massachusetts

Ms. Egerton:

On behalf RHM Realty LLC, Furrow Engineering has prepared this letter in response to comments received in a memorandum from the Engineering Division dated February 20, 2025. Please also see a revised plan set and Stormwater Management report submitted along with this letter. To ensure clear communication, we have prepared our response following each of the comments below.

1. Engineering recommends that the stormwater calculations for this project use the NOAA Atlas 14 precipitation frequencies rather than the frequencies listed in Technical Paper 40 (TP-40). We realize that the existing stormwater infrastructure for this project site was originally designed with the TP-40 frequencies. However, TP-40 was written in the 1960's and does not take into consideration the increases in rainfall intensity that have been observed since then. Proposed changes to the Massachusetts Stonnwater regulations indicate a shift toward using the Atlas 14 frequencies.

The HydroCAD modeling and Stormwater Management Report have been revised to utilize the NOAA Atlas 14 precipitation frequencies. The NOAA Atlas 14 rainfall data for Agawam is included in Appendix C of the revised Stormwater Report.

2. The site plans indicate the top of the proposed infiltration basin is 94.30 FT. The HydroCAD calculations included in the stormwater report state that the peak. water elevation within the basin during the 100-year storm is 94.04 FT. This leaves only 0.26 FT, or approximately 3 inches, between the peak water elevation and the top of the basin. In accordance with Agawam Stormwater Regulations, infiltration basins must be designed to accommodate the peak elevation of the 100- year storm event with a minimum of 1 FT of freeboard. This is to provide a safety factor when constructing the berm as well as extra storage and protection for downstream properties in the event of a basin failure or period of extensive rainfall.

Furrow Engineering
199 Servistar Industrial Way, Suite 2
Westfield, Massachusetts 01085
Tel: 413-562-4884

The revised HydroCAD calculations indicate that the peak water elevation within the basin during the 24-hr 100-year storm is 93.86 ft. The proposed infiltration basin has been modified to have a top of basin elevation of 94.9 ft, which allows for 1.04 ft of freeboard in the basin during a 24-hr 100-yr storm event.

3. The Agawam Regional Industrial Park has centralized stormwater infrastructure and detention facilities. Because of this, parcels developed within the Industrial Park area are allowed to direct the stormwater runoff from a portion of their impervious area (up to a maximum of 25% of the total impervious area on the parcel) into the centralized infrastructure in accordance with Agawam Town Code Chapter 175-35C(2)(h). All other stormwater runoff generated on the subject parcel must be contained onsite. With that said, as mentioned in Comment #1, rainfall intensities have increased significantly since the Industrial Park was designed. Therefore, it is encouraged that each parcel handle as much stormwater runoff as possible onsite.

In the initial stormwater design, a conservative approach was taken by assuming that all existing and proposed roof runoff would be directed to the infiltration basin. Due to the increased stormwater precipitation from using the NOAA Atlas data, it was necessary to take credit for the roof runoff that is currently being directed to the centralized detention facilities, and to utilize additional credit for the proposed roof runoff. The roof runoff is directed to the centralized detention facility via discharge to an existing town drainage swale located at the front of the property running parallel with Bowles Road. The following are calculations for Impervious Area Credit (IAC) being taken pre and post development:

Pre-Development IAC
Lot area = 125,470 SF
Impervious area (roof) runoff directed to centralized detention facility = 17,771 SF
*IAC = (17,771 SF/ 125,470 SF)100 = 14.2%

Post Development IAC
Lot area = 125,470 SF
Impervious area (roof) runoff directed to centralized detention facility = 28,724 SF
*IAC = (28,724 SF/ 125,470 SF)100 = 22.9%

The proposed IAC of 22.9% does not exceed the 25% maximum IAC allowed by the Agawam Town Code Chapter 175-35C(2)(h).

4. Small trees and other debris were observed within the existing infiltration basin during a site inspection performed by Engineering on February 18, 2025. The existing infiltration area will need to be cleared during construction.

Furrow Engineering
199 Servistar Industrial Way, Suite 2
Westfield, Massachusetts 01085
Tel: 413-562-4884

All small trees and debris will be cleared from the existing infiltration basin during construction of the proposed development.

5. Engineering is concerned that stormwater discharge from the emergency overflow of the proposed infiltration basin could flow onto downstream properties during heavy storm events.

Enclosed with this letter is plan G-1 which overlays an aerial photo onto the site plan. As shown on the plan, there is a large existing detention basin on the abutting property to the east, immediately adjacent to the proposed infiltration basin. The basin design has been revised to include a newly proposed emergency spillway, which has been relocated to the east embankment of the proposed basin. This ensures that, in the case of an emergency overflow event, the stormwater would be directed into the adjacent detention basin.

Additionally, the proposed basin has been redesigned and analyzed to ensure that stormwater discharge through the emergency spillway will not occur during any design storm event, including a 24-hour, 100-year storm event. Given the elimination of flow through the spillway and the presence of the adjacent detention basin, there are no anticipated adverse impacts on downstream properties from stormwater discharge.

6. It appears that the soil data for the project site is based solely on information from the USDA soil survey maps. Engineering recommends that at least 1 test pit be performed in the proposed expanded area of the infiltration basin to confirm the soil type and infiltration rate. A test pit will need to be performed within the boundaries of the existing infiltration basin to confirm the soils are still adequately permeable and are not obstructed with silt or other fine particles that may have accumulated there over the years.

Test pits in the proposed expanded area of the basin, as well as within the existing basin have been scheduled. Test pit results will be provided to the Planning and Engineering departments prior to the next scheduled Planning Board meeting.

7. The ADA Parking Sign Detail shown on Sheet D-1 will need to be in accordance with the Agawam Town Standard Detail (see attached). Engineering can provide the Developer with an electronic copy of the detail, if requested. An appropriate ADA Parking Sign will need to be installed at all ADA parking spaces on the project site.

Detail 9 on plan sheet D-1 has been revised to be in accordance with the Agawam Town Standard Detail. Plan sheet C-2 has been revised to include a note indicating locations of required new or relocated ADA parking signage.

Westfield, Massachusetts 01085
Tel: 413-562-4884

8. The sediment forebay of the proposed infiltration basin needs to be designed to hold 0.1 inches of runoff per acre of impervious area discharging to the basin, in accordance with current Massachusetts Stormwater Regulations. Engineering requests calculations be submitted to confirm this.

The Stormwater Management Report has been revised to include forebay sizing calculations in Appendix D. Calculations are also included for a second forebay that was added to the basin in order to improve treatment of runoff from the existing parking areas.

Both sediment forebays have been sized to meet the requirements of the MassDEP Stormwater Handbook.

9. The proposed stormwater system needs to be designed to remove a minimum of 80% of the average annual post-construction TSS load, as per the Agawam Stormwater Regulations for redevelopment projects. Engineering requests calculations be submitted to confirm this.

Section IV (2)(c) of the Stormwater Management Report has been revised to include TSS removal rate calculations. Additionally, a second sediment forebay was added to the infiltration basin to treat the stormwater runoff from the existing parking area in order to improve the treatment train of the existing system. Stormwater runoff from all existing and proposed paved areas is being treated by the infiltration basin and sediment forebays.

The combination of an infiltration and sediment forebays achieves the required 80% TSS removal rate for this project.

Thank you for your time and consideration. If you have any questions, please feel free to contact us at your convenience.

Sincerely,

Luke Showalter, P.E.

Inspection Services has the following comment for the proposed site plan review for the above referenced address:

- Massachusetts State Building code 780 CMR requires any newly created parking spaces to comply with the requirements of the International Energy Code 2021 Edition with Massachusetts amendments for "EV Ready Spaces" (Electric Vehicle). See below for code requirement.

2021 IECC Massachusetts Amendment- "Section C405.13 Add new text as follows:"

C405.13 Electric Vehicle Ready Parking Spaces ("EV Ready Spaces") (Mandatory). New parking spaces shall provide EV Ready Spaces in accordance with Table C405.13. Installed wiring suitable for 6.6kW or higher SAE J1772-2017 AC Level II EVSE shall be connected to the service panel and run to within 6 feet (1828mm) of any qualifying parking space. Conductors and outlets for EVSE shall be sized and installed in accordance with the MA electrical code.

Occupancy Classification	Minimum percentage of EV-Ready Spaces	EV Charging Performance Requirements
Group R and Group B	20%	40-amp dedicated branch circuit or larger branch circuit with ALMS in accordance with Table C405.13.1
All Other Occupancies	10%	40-amp dedicated branch circuit or larger branch circuit with ALMS in accordance with Table C405.13.1

The proposed site plan shows the creation of 37 new parking spaces. The Massachusetts State Stretch Energy code would require 4 spaces to be "EV" ready. These "EV" ready spaces do not specifically have to be located within the newly created parking spaces and could be installed within any existing parking space. The approved site plan should have these designated spaces labeled for reference.

Respectfully,

Kevin Duquette

(a) Registrars, assistant registrars, or boards having similar duties under any general or special law, except in the city of Boston, shall annually in January or February visit or communicate with the residents of each building in their respective cities and towns and, after diligent inquiry, shall make true lists containing, as nearly as they can ascertain, the name, date of birth, occupation, veteran status, nationality, if not a citizen of the United States, and residence on January 1 of the preceding year and the current year, of each person three years of age or older residing in their respective cities and towns. The police department of a city or town shall, upon request, have access to the lists. A list of all persons 3 to 21 years of age, inclusive, shall be transmitted by the board of registrars to the respective school committee not later than April 1 of each year. The list shall contain the name, residence and age or date of birth of each such person; but the names of persons 3 to 16 years of age, inclusive, shall not be disclosed to any person other than the respective school committee or board of trustees of a county agricultural school or a police department. That proportion of any expenses incurred by the registrars under this section, equal to the proportion that the number of persons under 17 years of age bears to the total number of persons listed thereunder, shall be carried as an item in the school committee budget.

(b) In the city of Boston, the registrars, assistant registrars or boards having similar duties under any general or special law, shall annually in January or February visit or communicate with the residents of each building in said city and, after diligent inquiry, shall make true lists containing, as nearly as they can ascertain, the name, date of birth, occupation, veteran status, nationality if not a citizen of the United States, and residence on January 1 of the preceding year and the current year, of each person 17 years of age or older residing in said city. The Boston police department shall, upon request, have access to the lists.

(c) In any city or town which communicates with residents by mail for the purpose of obtaining such information, the communication shall state in boldface type on the postcard, envelope and printed material contained in such communication the following statement: ''Warning - failure to respond to this mailing for 2 consecutive years shall result in removal from the active voting list and may result in removal from the voter registration rolls.''. Registrars, assistant registrars or boards in such cities or towns communicating with residents by mail for the purpose of obtaining such information may require a response under the penalties of perjury.

(d) The name and address of any person who provides the registrars with a copy of a court order granting protection, or evidence of residence in a protective shelter, or an affidavit signed by a chief of police or his designee that said person is entitled to have certain information withheld from the public under section 24C of chapter 265, shall not appear on the street list and such names shall not be disclosed to any person. The information collected under this section regarding a person's status as a veteran shall not be a public record and shall only be disclosed to the adjutant general, the secretary of veterans' services and local veterans' service officers.

(e) The name and address of any law enforcement or public safety personnel who so requests shall not appear on the street list and such names shall not be disclosed to any person.

Commonwealth of Massachusetts
DEPARTMENT OF HOUSING & COMMUNITY DEVELOPMENT
Deval L. Patrick, Governor ◆ Timothy P. Murray, Lt. Governor ◆ Tina Brooks, Undersecretary

Dear Local Official:

Due to the numerous questions that have arisen over the years concerning the "Approval Not Required" (ANR) process of the Subdivision Control Law, we felt it would be beneficial to produce and distribute a publication concerning this issue.

This copy of The ANR Handbook is published by our Division of Community Services which provides a wide range of technical assistance, information services, and grants to municipal governments to assist communities in solving local problems.

We are pleased to offer for the use of planning boards, other municipal officials, and interested persons this edition of The ANR Handbook. Questions regarding this publication should be directed to Donald J. Schmidt at (617) 573-1363 or donald.schmidt@state.ma.us

We trust that this booklet and the services we provide will be helpful to you in carrying out your responsibilities. This publication should be used as a resource and should not be used as a substitute for your reading of either the statute or the court cases that have interpreted the law. When a question of legal interpretation arises, local officials should always seek the advice of their municipal counsel.

Sincerely,

Tina Brooks
Undersecretary

INTRODUCTION

Perhaps no other aspect of the Subdivision Control Law has caused more controversy and headaches at the local government level than the concept of Approval Not Required (ANR) Plans. Over the years, the Department of Housing and Community Development has received numerous inquiries relative to the approval not required process. The most common question asked by local officials is under what circumstances are plans entitled to an endorsement from the Planning Board that "approval under the Subdivision Control Law is not required."

In response to such requests, several issues of the Land Use Manager reviewed the legislative history and relevant case law dealing with Approval Not Required Plans. Due to the response to the Land Use Manager series, it was decided that a publication focusing on this issue would be beneficial to municipal officials, landowners and other interested parties who deal at the local level with the ANR process. In 1990, the Executive Office of Communities and Development prepared and distributed a publication entitled ANR Plans Not Requiring Approval Under the Subdivision Control Law. This publication is the revised edition of that document.

It must be recognized that this publication cannot cover all possible situations. Whenever a question of legal interpretation arises, we would suggest that local officials seek the advice of their municipal counsel.

HISTORY

In most states, subdivision control laws were enacted to address two problems. Early subdivision control statutes were primarily concerned with ensuring that plots of subdivisions be technically accurate and in good form for recording and tax assessment purposes. Later, a concern for the impact of subdivisions on street development within communities emerged; and many statutes were accordingly amended to provide for the regulation of the layout of ways when a subdivision of land occurred.

In Massachusetts, the first comprehensive subdivision control statute was enacted exclusively for the city of Boston in 1891. It provided that no person open a public way until the layout and specifications were approved by the street commissioners. By 1916, similar powers were conferred on Boards of Survey in many cities and towns throughout the Commonwealth. With the revision of the state statute in 1936 (see St. 1936 c. 211), the subdivision control powers were expanded and conferred on Planning Boards.

The Subdivision Control Law, Chapter 41, Sections 81K through 81GG, MGL, essentially in the form we now know it, was enacted in 1953 (see St. 1953 c. 674). This legislation made two significant changes to subdivision control. It stated for the first time the purposes of subdivision control, which are found in Section 81M; and provided for the recording of approval not required plans. The provisions for an endorsement that approval is not required are found in Section 81P.

Under prior Subdivision Control Law legislation, a plan showing lots and ways could be recorded without the approval of the Planning Board if such ways were existing ways and not proposed ways. The purpose of providing for an approval not required process was to alleviate the difficulty encountered by Registers of Deeds in deciding whether a plan showing ways and lots could lawfully be recorded. As explained by Mr. Philip Nichols on behalf of the sponsors of the 1953 legislation, ". . . it seemed best to require the person . . . who contends that (his plan) is not a subdivision within the meaning of the law, because all of the ways shown on the plan are already existing ways, to submit it to the planning board, and if the board agrees with his contention, it can endorse on the plan a statement that approval is not required, and the plan can be recorded without more ado." (see 1953 House Doc. No. 2249, at 55.)

As the Court summarized in Smalley v. Planning Board of Harwich, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 599 (1980), the enactment of the approval not required process by the Legislature was not intended to enlarge the substantive powers of a Planning Board, but rather to provide a simple method to inform the Register of Deeds that the Planning Board was not concerned with a plan "because the vital access is reasonably guaranteed."

We are frequently asked for advice as to whether a Planning Board should endorse a plan "approval under the Subdivision Control Law is not required." Chapter 41, Section 81P, MGL, requires that such an endorsement cannot be withheld unless a plan shows a subdivision. Therefore, whether a plan requires approval or not rests with the definition of "subdivision" as found in Chapter 41, Section 81L, MGL. A "subdivision" is defined in Section 81L as "the division of a tract of land into two or more lots" but there is an exception to this definition. A division of land will not constitute a "subdivision" if, at the time it is made, every lot within the tract so divided has frontage on a certain type of way. Section 81L also requires that the frontage be at least the designated distance as required by the zoning bylaw, and if no distance is required, the frontage must be at least 20 feet.

Basically, the court has interpreted the Subdivision Control Law to impose three standards that must be met in order for lots shown on a plan to be entitled to an endorsement by the Planning Board that "approval under the Subdivision Control Law is not required."

1. The lots shown on such plan must front on one of the three types of ways specified in Chapter 41, Section 81L, MGL;

2. The lots shown on such plan must meet the minimum frontage requirements as specified in Chapter 41, Section 81L, MGL; and,

3. A Planning Board's determination that the vital access to such lots as contemplated by Chapter 41, Section 81M, MGL, otherwise exists.

One of the more interesting aspects of the ANR process, if not the Subdivision Control Law, is the vital access standard. The necessity that the Planning Board determines that vital access exists to the lots shown on a plan before endorsing an ANR plan is not expressly stated in the Subdivision Control Law. The vital access standard has evolved from court decisions. The decisions have been concerned as to whether proposed building lots have practical access and have focused on the following two issues:

1. Adequacy of the way on which the proposed lots front; and

2. Adequacy of the access from the way to the buildable portion of the lot.

ADEQUACY OF A WAY

The first case that dealt with the question of the adequacy of a way was Rettig v. Planning Board of Rowley, 322 Mass. 476 (1955). A plan was presented to the Planning Board showing 15 lots abutting three ways that were created long before the Subdivision Control Law became effective in the Town of Rowley. Two of the roadways shown on the plan were between ten and fourteen feet wide, contained severe ruts and were impassable at times due to heavy rains. The Planning Board determined that the plan constituted a subdivision, which required their approval.

The Subdivision Control Law in effect at that time defined "subdivision" as the "division of a tract of land into two or more lots in such manner as to require provision for one or more new ways, not in existence when the Subdivision Control Law became effective in the . . . town . . . to furnish access for vehicular traffic to one or more of such lots . . . ."

The court found that the ways shown on the plan did not provide adequate access for vehicular traffic. Because of the inadequacy of the ways serving the proposed lots, the court found that the Planning Board did not exceed its authority when they did not endorse the plan.

RETTIG V. PLANNING BOARD OF ROWLEY

332 Mass. 476 (1955)

Wilkins, J. . . .

> The plan must be judged as a whole. Irrespective of the meaning of "way" in Section 81L, and for present purposes taking "way" in the sense of a physical way on the ground, as ruled by the judge, it is plain that Orchard Drive on the ground is not a way "adequate for access for vehicular traffic" to ten of the lots shown on the plan. As recently as 1951, when the subdivision control law became effective in Rowley, it could not in any practical sense have been in existence as a way. All that appeared at the view were outlines of a ten foot roadway, once used by a vehicle or vehicles of unknown character, and ruts and a condition of impassability due to rain. Orchard Drive clearly does not rise even to the dignity of a rough country road, broken and sunken in spots, as is Bowlery Drive off which it leads. Obviously, the plaintiffs propose to make "division of a tract of land into two or more lots in such manner as to require provision for one or more new ways . . . to furnish access for vehicular traffic to one or more of such lots." The decree is reversed and a decree is to be entered stating that the planning board of Rowley did not exceed its authority, and that no modification of its decision is required.

Rettig, 332 Mass. at 481.

The authority of a Planning Board to make a determination as to the adequacy of a way was again noted in Malaguti v. Planning Board of Wellesley, 3 Mass. App. Ct. 797 (1975). The Planning Board had denied endorsement because the proposed building lots did not have frontage on an "adequate way." The trial judge found that not every lot had frontage on a public way and that the way in question was inadequate for vehicular traffic. The court agreed and in citing Rettig found that the Planning Board did not exceed its authority or act in bad faith in refusing to endorse the plan because the plan showed a subdivision. The vital access standard which requires that ways must be safe and convenient for travel was again considered in Richard v. Planning Board of Acushnet, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 216 (1980). In this case, the court looked at ways that had been previously approved in accordance with the Subdivision Control Law. In 1960, the Board of Selectmen, acting as an interim Planning Board, approved a 26 lot subdivision. The Selectmen did not specify any construction standards for the proposed ways, nor did they specify the municipal services to be furnished by the applicant. The Selectmen also failed to obtain the necessary performance guarantee as required in Chapter 41, Section 81U, MGL. Eighteen years after the approval of the subdivision plan by the Board of Selectmen, Richard submitted an ANR plan to the Planning Board. During the 18 year period, the locus shown on the ANR plan had been the site of gravel excavation so that it was now located 25 feet below the grade of surrounding land. The Planning Board refused to endorse the plan. The central issue before the court was whether the lots shown on the ANR plan had sufficient frontage on ways that had been previously approved in accordance with the Subdivision Control Law. The court found that to be entitled to the ANR endorsement, when a plan shows proposed building lots abutting a previously approved way, such way must be built, or the assurance exists that the way will be constructed in accordance with specific municipal standards.

RICHARD V. PLANNING BOARD OF ACUSHNET
10 Mass. App. Ct. 216 (1980)

Excerpts:

Kass, J. . . .

> As stated by the parties, the fundamental question is whether a plan showing lots of sufficient frontage and area to comply with then applicable zoning requirements, fronting on ways shown on a plan previously approved and endorsed in accordance with the Subdivision Control Law, is exempt from further subdivision control . . ., even though those ways have never been built and exist on paper only. Put in that fashion, the question is not susceptible to an answer of uniform application because it fails to take into account significant factual variables.

> For example, if the new plan showed lots of lawful dimensions abutting ways on an earlier approved plan, but the earlier approved plan contained conditions which had not been met, then the new plan would not be exempt from subdivision control and would not be entitled to an "approval not required" endorsement under Section 81P. Costanza & Bertolino, Inc. v. Planning Bd. of North Reading, 360 Mass. 677, 678-681 (1971). In that case, a covenant entered into by the developer pursuant to G.L. c. 41, Section 81U, required him to complete the construction of ways and installation of the municipal services within two years from the date of the execution of the covenant. The developer had not done so, and the court held that the planning board had properly declined to make a Section 81P endorsement.
> It follows that in a case where the landowner has filed a bond, or deposited money or negotiable securities, or entered into a covenant to secure the construction of ways and installation of municipal services, and a new plan is presented which merely alters the number, shape and size of the lots, such a plan is entitled to endorsement under Section 81P, "provided every lot so changed still has frontage on a public way . . . of at least such distance, if any, as is then required by . . . by-law . . ." G.L. c. 41, Section 81O; and provided, of course, that conditions for execution of the plan have not already been violated, as was the case in Costanza & Bertolino.
> Indeed, the provisions of the fifth paragraph of Section 81U concerning securing of completion of the ways and municipal services of a subdivision plan are mandatory. For all that appears, the Acushnet selectmen, acting as the interim planning board, did not articulate the manner in which the ways were to be constructed, what municipal services were to be furnished or the standards to which that work was to be done. . . . We are of the opinion that exception (b) of the definition of "Subdivision" in Section 81L requires either that the approve ways have been built, or that there exists the assurance required by Section 81U that they will be built. Otherwise, the essential design of the Subdivision Control Law - that ways and municipal services shall be installed in accordance with specific municipal standards - may be circumvented. . . . In the instant case, where the locus is twenty-five feet below the surrounding land, the municipal concern about the safety of the grades of the roads giving access to the lots and about adequate drainage facilities is particularly compelling.

Richard, 10 Mass. App. Ct. at 218-219 (emphasis added).

The Subdivision Control Law gives the Planning Board some discretion in determining the adequacy of a private way. As was noted in Hutchinson v. Planning Board of Hingham, 23 Mass. App. Ct. 416 (1987), a Planning Board has broader powers in determining the adequacy of a way which is not a public way but was a way in existence when the Subdivision Control Law took effect in the community. A Planning Board has the authority to deny an ANR endorsement if the way, in the opinion of the Planning Board, does not have a sufficient width, suitable grades and adequate construction to provide for the needs of vehicular traffic in relation to the proposed use of the land.

In order to qualify as a way in existence, the Land Court, in Coolidge Construction Co., Inc. v. Planning Board of Andover, 7 LCR 75 (1999) (Misc. Case No. 238169), Gould v. Planning Board of Pembroke, 7 LCR 78 (1999) (Misc. Case No. 237217) and Musto v. Medfield Planning Board , 7 LCR 281 (1999) (Misc. Case No. 229690), concluded that a way does not qualify as a "way in existence" if it did not exist on the ground at the time the Subdivision Control Law took effect in the community. As explained in Gould:

> A fair reading of … the subdivision control law … suggests that the legislature intended merely to recognize ways already in use at the time the subdivision control law became effective, provided such ways offer adequate access, and not to create a mechanism to circumvent the subdivision review process for ways newly constructed within the layout of previously delineated 'paper streets.

In Musto it was noted that the existence of the way and the adequacy of the way are not synonymous. In determining the adequacy of a way that was in existence prior to the Subdivision Control Law taking effect, a Planning Board must consider the present condition of the way in relationship to its rules and regulations. In Barton Properties, Inc. v. Hetherington, 4 LCR 293 (1996) (Misc. Case No. 223621) and Centore v. Town of Georgetown, 11 LCR 1 (2003) (Misc. Case No. 245882), the Land Court decided that the adequacy of the way is determined at the time the ANR plan is submitted to the Planning Board.

ADEQUACY OF A PUBLIC WAY

A statutory private way is a way laid out and accepted by a town, for the use of one or more inhabitants, pursuant to MGL, Chapter 82. In Casagrande v. Town Clerk of Harvard, 377 Mass. 703 (1979), it was argued that a statutory private way was a public way for the purposes of determining whether a plan was entitled to be endorsed "approval not required." The court found that such a way was not as a matter of law a public way for the purposes of subdivision control and that development on a statutory private way would require Planning Board approval unless it could be proven that such a way was both maintained and used as a public way. In Spalke v. Board of Appeals of Plymouth, 7 Mass App. Ct. 683 (1979), the court rejected the argument that the Atlantic Ocean was a public way for access purposes. The close reading by the court as to a qualified public way for the purposes of access is important. However, even if a proposed division of land abuts a public way, the Planning Board must consider the adequacy of the public way.

In Perry v. Planning Board of Nantucket, 15 Mass. App. Ct. 144 (1983), the court looked at the adequacy of access of an existing public way. Perry submitted a two lot ANR plan to the Planning Board. Both lots had the required zoning frontage on Oakland Street, which was a way that had appeared on town plans since 1927. The County Commissioners of Nantucket, by an order of taking registered with the Land Court in 1962, took an easement for the purposes of a public highway. Oakland Street, a public way, had never been constructed. The Planning Board decided that the plan constituted a subdivision because the lots did not front on a public way as defined in the Subdivision Control Law. The court agreed.

PERRY V. PLANNING BOARD OF NANTUCKET

15 Mass. App. Ct. 144 (1983)

Excerpts:

Greaney, J. . . .

> A "subdivision" for purposes of the Subdivision Control Law, is defined as "the division of a tract of land into two or more lots . . ." A division is excluded from the definition of a subdivision . . . if "at the time when [the division] is made, every lot within the tract so divided has frontage on . . . a public way . . . ." The question for decision is what is intended by the term "public way" in this exclusion.
> The Legislature provided, in G.L. c. 82 Sections 1-16, for the layout and establishment of highways within municipalities by county commissioners . . .

When the way is completed, the municipality is required, among other things, to repair and maintain it, and the municipality becomes liable for damages caused by defects. See G.L. c. 84, Sections 1, 15 and 22. . . . .

The Legislature presumably knew of the existing body of statutory law pertaining to public ways when it enacted the exemption from subdivision control . . . The exemptions from subdivision control . . . are important components of the Subdivision Control Law which itself creates a "comprehensive statutory scheme," . . . and which includes among its express purposes the protection of the "safety, convenience and welfare of the inhabitants of the cities and towns" by means of regulation of "the laying out and construction of ways in subdivisions providing access to the several lots therein . . ." We note that the Legislature has provided, consistent with these goals, that planning boards are to administer the law "with due regard for the provision of adequate access to all of the lots in a subdivision by ways that will be safe and convenient for travel; for lessening congestion in such ways and in the adjacent public ways; for reducing danger to life and limb in the operation of motor vehicles; for securing safety in the case of fire, flood, panic and other emergencies; . . . [and] for securing adequate provision for . . . fire, police, and other similar municipal equipment . . . ."

We note further that the exclusions set out in Section 81L, . . . which excuse a plan from subdivision approval, thereby providing a basis for an 81P endorsement, do so with reference to specific objective criteria apparently chosen by the Legislature for the quality of access they normally provide. . . . We conclude that whatever status might be acquired by ways as "public ways" for purposes of other statutes by virtue of their having been "laid out," . . . such ways will not satisfy the requirements of the "public way" exemption in Section 81L, . . . of the Subdivision Control Law, unless they in fact exist on the ground in a form which satisfies the previously quoted goals of Section 81M.

. . . In our view, . . . a board can properly deny an 81P endorsement because of inadequate access, despite technical compliance with frontage requirements, where access is nonexistent for the purposes set out in Section 81M. . . . We also recognize that Section 81M, insofar as it treats the sufficiency of access, is couched primarily in terms of the adequacy of subdivision ways rather than the adequacy of the public ways relied upon by an owner seeking exemption from subdivision control. We do not view these considerations as affecting the soundness of our reasoning. The board's power in these circumstances arises out of the provisions of the subdivision control law itself, read in light of the statutes pertaining to public ways and relevant decisions. The statutory and decisional framework > provides for orderly land development through the assurance that proper access to all lots within a subdivision will be reasonably guaranteed. Because no way exists on the ground to serve [the] lots. . . . the board was right to require the plan's antecedent approval under the Subdivision Control Law, and its action should not have been annulled.

Perry, 15 Mass. App. Ct. at 149-150, 153-154 (emphasis added).

Relying on the Perry decision, among others, the Hingham Planning Board denied endorsement of a plan where all the proposed lots abutted an existing public way. In Hutchinson v. Planning Board of Hingham, 23 Mass. App. Ct. 416 (1987), the court found that the existing public way provided adequate access and that the Planning Board had exceeded its authority in refusing to endorse the plan.

Hutchinson proposed to divide a 17.74 acre parcel on Lazell Street in Hingham into five lots. Lazell Street was a public way that was used by the public and maintained by the Town of Hingham. Each lot met the Hingham zoning bylaw requirements. The Planning Board contended that the plan was not entitled to an endorsement for the following reasons:

1. Lazell Street did not have sufficient width, suitable grades, and adequate construction to provide for the needs of vehicular traffic in relation to the proposed use of land.

2. The frontage did not provide safe and adequate access to a public way.

HUTCHINSON V. PLANNING BOARD OF HINGHAM
23 Mass. App. Ct. 416 (1987)

Excerpts

Dreben, J. . . .

> Citing Perry v. Planning Bd. of Nantucket, 15 Mass. App. Ct. 144 (1983), and Hrenchuk v. Planning Bd. of Walpole, 8 Mass. App. Ct. 949 (1979), the board argues that, even if a way falls within the definition of Section 81L, that is not enough. "[I]t is also necessary that a planning board determine that the way in question . . . satisf[ies] the requirements of G.L. c. 41, Section 81M, which ... include the requirement that the way be safe for motor vehicle travel."
> The board misapprehends the Perry and Hrenchuk decisions. Those cases rest on the reasoning of Gifford v. Planning Bd. of Nantucket, 376 Mass.

801 (1978), which held that as an aid in interpreting the exclusions of Sections 81L and 81P the court may look to Section 81M as elucidating the purposes of those exclusions. . . . Thus, even though a statutory exemption (e.g., frontage on a public way) of Section 81L is technically or formally satisfied, if, in fact, there is no practical access to the lots, Section 81L will not apply. . . . .

In sum, where there is the access that a public way normally provides, that is, where the "street [is] of sufficient width and suitable to accommodate motor vehicle traffic and to provide access for fire-fighting equipment and other emergency vehicles," . . . the goal of access under 81M is satisfied, and an 81P endorsement is required.

We turn now to the findings of the judge. He found that Lazell Street is a paved public way, that, except for a portion which is one-way, it is twenty to twenty-one feet wide, about the same width as the other streets in the area, and that it can "provide adequate access to all the proposed lots for the owners, their guests, police, fire, and other emergency vehicles." The judge also found that the road "is as safe to travel upon as any of the hundreds of comparable rural roads that criss-cross the entire Commonwealth."

We do not reach the board's arguments on traffic safety as we do not deem them relevant. We note that even if those arguments were to be considered, the judge's findings on traffic safety are not clearly erroneous and are dispositive. The board's contentions to the contrary are without merit. These findings bring Lazell Street within the "specific objective criteria . . . chosen by the Legislature for the quality of access," . . . which entitle a landowner to an 81P endorsement.

Hutchinson, 23 Mass. App. Ct. at 413, 420-421, FN6 (emphasis added).

Since 1987, the Perry and Hutchinson decisions represented the parameters for determining the adequacy of a public way for the purposes of an ANR endorsement. If proposed lots abutted an unconstructed public way (paper street), the plan was not entitled to an ANR endorsement. However, if the proposed lots abutted an existing public way that was (1) paved, (2) comparable to other ways in the area, and (3) provided adequate access, the plan was entitled to ANR endorsement.

What remained unclear was whether a plan showing lots that abutted an existing substandard or unpaved public way was entitled to an ANR endorsement. In previous decisions, the court had stated that Planning Boards are authorized to withhold ANR endorsement in those unusual situations where the "access implied by the frontage is illusory." The court, however, had not had the opportunity to consider the "illusory" standard in relation to a public way existing on the ground which was either unpaved or not properly maintained until Sturdy v. Planning Board of Hingham, 32 Mass. App. Ct. 72 (1992).

In Sturdy, the court had to determine whether a public way having certain deficiencies provided suitable access within the meaning of the Subdivision Control Law. Sturdy presented a plan to the Planning Board requesting an approval not required endorsement. The Planning Board denied endorsement and Sturdy appealed. The proposed lots shown on the plan abutted Side Hill Road, which was a public way. A Superior Court judge found that Side Hill Road was a passable woods road of a dirt substance with some packed gravel. It was approximately eleven to twelve feet wide, muddy in spots and close to impassable during very wet portions of the year. The road was wide enough for only one car and it would be very difficult for large emergency vehicles to turn onto Side Hill Road at either end.

Whether Sturdy's plan was entitled to an ANR endorsement depended on whether the access that Side Hill Road afforded was, in fact, illusory. The Superior Court judge determined that the plan was entitled to the ANR endorsement notwithstanding any deficiencies in the way. The Massachusetts Appeals Court agreed.

STURDY V. PLANNING BOARD OF HINGHAM
32 Mass. App. Ct. 72 (1992)

Excerpts:

Dreben J. ...

> ... a planning board may withhold the ANR endorsement (where the tract has the required frontage on a public way) only where the access is "illusory in fact." ... Deficiencies in a public way are insufficient ground for denying the endorsement. The ANR endorsement for lots fronting on a public way, provided for in G.L. c.41, § 81L, is a legislative recognition that ordinarily "lots having such a frontage are fully accessible, and as the developer does not contemplate the construction of additional access routes, there is no need for supervision by the planning board on that score." ... Moreover, since municipal authorities have the obligation to maintain such ways, there is already public control as to how perceived deficiencies, if any, in such public ways are to be corrected. ... .

Sturdy, 32 Mass. App. Ct. at 75-76 (emphasis added).

What was interesting in Sturdy was the Court's observation that deficiencies in a public way are an insufficient ground for denying an ANR endorsement. In Ball v. Planning Board of Leverett, 58 Mass. App. Ct. 513 (2003), landowners relied on such observation to support their argument that as long as access is not illusory the Planning Board may not consider the physical condition of a public way. January Road, a public way, was unpaved with a stonewall along one side and a raised bed of natural gravel in the middle. To be serviceable for a typical automobile approximately 1,000 feet of the way needed to be improved. The required improvements included the clearing of leaf mulch; creating ditches and culverts to prevent groundwater from eroding the road; clearing the topsoil; and laying down and rolling six inches of gravel, twelve to twenty feet wide. A Superior Court judge decided that January Road was a constructed public way rather than a paper street and provided more than nonexistence or illusory access. The judge concluded that although January Road needed improvements such as grading and culverts, such deficiencies did not prevent passage along it by emergency vehicles.

BALL V. PLANNING BOARD OF LEVERETT
58 Mass. App. Ct. 513 (2003)

Excerpts:

Cypher, J. …

> … Most recently, in Gates v. Planning Bd. Of Dighton, 48 Mass. App. Ct. 394, 399 (2000), we stated the perceived tensions between the cases concerning ANR endorsements and questions of physical access, including Perry and Sturdy, as creating "[t]wo categories of access on public ways … . There is the 'could be better but manageable' category and the 'illusory' category. The first category warrants a Section 81P endorsement; the second does not." … .
> We must determine then whether the portion of January Road … is merely "deficient" (i.e. "could be better but manageable") or whether it fails to provide acceptable physical access according to the goals of Section 81M (i.e., access is "illusory").
> … All of the experts, including the landowners' expert, testified that a two-wheel drive vehicle could not traverse the portion of January Road that fronts upon Lot 1. The fire chief explained that his emergency vehicles would not be able to access Lot 1 from January Road and that the two-wheel drive ambulances … also would not be able to access Lot 1. Admittedly, January Road is more than a paper street; but it provides no practical means of access for emergency vehicles to Lot 1. The uncontradicted evidence at trial established that January Road does not provide access as contemplated > by Section 81M and that its inadequacies place it beyond the deficiencies of the way at issue in Sturdy and beyond the 'could be better but manageable" category referred to in Gates.

Ball, 58 Mass. App. Ct. 517-518 (emphasis added).

A public way that is passable but temporarily unusable at certain times of the year may pass the vital access test. In Sturdy, the Court noted that the public way was close to impassable during very wet portions of the year. We assume from the Sturdy decision that, although more difficult, the way was still passable during the wet season. However, in Long Pond Estates Ltd. v. Planning Board of Sturbridge, 406 Mass. 253 (1989), the court decided that a public way providing principal access to a lot can be temporarily unavailable provided that adequate access for emergency vehicles exists on another way.

In Long Pond, the plaintiff had submitted a plan to the Planning Board for ANR endorsement. The plan showed three lots, each of which had adequate frontage on Champeaux Road, a public way. However, a portion of the way between the proposed lots was within a flood easement held by the United States Army Corps of Engineers, and was periodically closed due to flooding. Between 1980 and 1988, the Corps of Engineers closed the affected portion of the public way on an average of 33 1/2 days a year.

In refusing to endorse the plan, the Planning Board stated that (1) the existence of the flood easement meant that the public way did not provide adequate access for emergency vehicles to the proposed lots and (2) alternative access to the proposed lots through an abutting town would involve excessive response time. A Superior Court judge decided that the plaintiff was entitled to an ANR endorsement. The Planning Board appealed and on its own motion, the SJC transferred the appeal to the High Court from the Appeals Court.

LONG POND ESTATES LTD V. PLANNING BOARD OF STURBRIDGE
406 Mass. 253 (1989)

Excerpts:

Lynch, J. . . .

> . . . As authority for its inquiry into the adequacy of Champeaux Road as a public way, the planning board cites cases upholding denials of ANR endorsements based on restrictions on access to the public roads leading to the proposed developments. See McCarthy v. Planning Bd. of Edgartown, 381 Mass. 86 (1980) (limited access highway); Perry v. Planning Bd. of Nantucket, 15 Mass. App. Ct. 144 (1983) (planned yet unconstructed highway); Hrenchuk v. Planning Bd. of Walpole, 8 Mass. App. Ct. 949 (1979) (limited access highway).

The periodic flooding of a portion of the public way that exists here does not bring this case within the ambient of McCarthy, Perry, or Hrenchuk. "[P]lanning boards are authorized to withhold 'ANR' endorsements in those unusual situations where the 'access implied by [the] frontage is . . . illusory in fact.' " Corcoran v. Planning Bd. of Sudbury, ante 248, 251 (1989), quoting Fox v. Planning Bd. of Milton, 24 Mass. App. Ct. 572, 574 (1987). Here, adequate access to the proposed lots is available via ways in a neighboring town during the time when a portion of Champeaux Road is closed due to flooding. Moreover, the distance that Sturbridge emergency vehicles must travel to reach the proposed lots using the alternative route is no greater than the distance they must travel to reach numerous other points within Sturbridge. Thus the undisputed facts disclose that the lots meet the literal requirements for an ANR endorsement and that access is available at all times, albeit occasionally on ways of a neighboring town. For these reasons, we find that the planning board exceeded its authority . . . in refusing to endorse the plaintiff's plan "approval under the subdivision control law not required."

Long Pond Estates, Ltd., 406 Mass. at 255 (emphasis added).

The Long Pond decision adds a variation to the practical access theory in that the public way access to a lot can be temporarily unavailable provided that adequate access for emergency vehicles exists on another way.

ADEQUACY OF ACCESS

Not only must a Planning Board consider the adequacy of the existing way, the vital access standard requires an inquiry as to the adequacy of the access from the way to the buildable portion of the lot.

The court was first confronted with the issue of the adequacy of access from the way to the lot in Cassani v. Planning Board of Hull, 1 Mass. App. Ct. 451 (1973). Certain lots shown on a plan were connected to a public way by a long, narrow strip of land that flared out at the street to satisfy the frontage requirement of the zoning bylaw. The Planning Board had originally endorsed the plan as "Approval Not Required" (ANR) but at a later date rescinded their endorsement. Cassani argued that the Planning Board was required as a matter of law to endorse the plan. The Planning Board took the position that the lots were merely connected to the way but did not front on the public way to comply with the frontage requirement of the zoning bylaw. Since meaningful, adequate frontage did not exist, the Planning Board argued that the plan constituted a subdivision that required its approval under the Subdivision Control Law.

Because the court found that a Planning Board cannot rescind an ANR endorsement, it did not reach the substantive issue of whether the Planning Board acted erroneously in originally endorsing the plan. However, the court did express a certain degree of sympathy towards the Planning Board on the question of adequate access when it noted:

> We do not disagree with the contention of the planning board that it ought to have the power to rescind a determination under Section 81P that approval is not required in order better to protect the public interest in preventing subdivisions without adequate provision for access, sanitation and utilities. But if such a power is to be found, it must be found in the Subdivision Control Law, which is a "comprehensive statutory scheme" . . . and not in our personal notations of sound policy. As the statute is clear, we are not at liberty to interpose such notions, but must apply the statute as the Legislature wrote it.

It was not until 1978 that the court would again have the opportunity to consider the adequacy of access from the way to the buildable portion of a lot. Gifford v. Planning Board of Nantucket, 376 Mass. 801 (1978), dealt with a most unusual plan which technically complied with the requirements of the Subdivision Control Law so as to be entitled to an ANR endorsement.

The Nantucket zoning bylaw required a minimum lot frontage of 75 feet. An owner of a 49 acre parcel of land submitted a plan to the Planning Board showing 46 lots and requested an ANR endorsement. Each of the 46 lots abutted a public way for not less than the required 75 feet of frontage. However, the connection of a number of the lots to the public way was by a long, narrow neck turning at acute angles in order to comply with the 75 foot frontage requirement.

One lot had a neck that was 1,185 feet long having seven changes of direction before it reached Madaket Road which was a paved road and in good condition. The neck narrowed at one stage to seven feet. Another lot had a neck that was 1,160 feet long having six changes of direction before it reached Cambridge Street at a twelve degree angle. Cambridge Street was unpaved and in relatively poor condition. Of all the lots shown on the plan, the necks ranged from forty to 1,185 feet in length. Twenty-nine necks were over 300 feet, sixteen were over 500 feet, and five were over 1,000 feet. Thirty-two necks changed direction twice or more while nine changed three times, one four times, five five times, one six times, and two seven times. Three necks narrowed to ten feet or less and six to not more than 12 feet.

The Planning Board endorsed the plan ANR, and 15 residents commenced an action in Superior Court to annul the Board's endorsement on the grounds that the plan constituted a subdivision. A judgment was entered in favor of the residents, and the landowner appealed to the Appeals Court. The Massachusetts Supreme Court, on its own initiative, ordered direct appellate review.

In deciding the case, the court looked at the purposes of the Subdivision Control Law as stated in Section 81M and noted that "a principal object of the law is to ensure efficient vehicular access to each lot in a subdivision, for safety, convenience, and welfare depend critically on that factor." In reviewing the plan, it was found that it would be most difficult, if not impossible, to use a number of the necks to provide practical vehicular access to the main or buildable portions of the lots. The court concluded that the plan was an obvious attempt to circumvent the purpose and intent of the Subdivision Control Law and that the lots shown on the plan did not have sufficient frontage as contemplated by the Subdivision Control Law.

GIFFORD V. PLANNING BOARD OF NANTUCKET

Kaplan, J. . . .

> Where our statute relieves certain divisions of land of regulation and approval by a planning board ("approval . . .not required"), it is because the vital access is reasonably guaranteed in another manner. The guaranty is expressed in Sections 81L and 81P of the statute in terms of a requirement of sufficient frontage for each lot on a public way. In the ordinary case, lots having such a frontage are fully accessible, and as the developer does not contemplate the construction of additional access routes, there is no need for supervision by the planning board on that score. Conversely, where the lots shown on a plan bordered on a road "not in any practical sense . . . in existence as a way," and thus incapable of affording suitable access to the lots, we insisted that the relevant plan was a subdivision under the then current law. Rettig v. Planning Board of Rowley, 332 Mass. 476, 481 (1955).

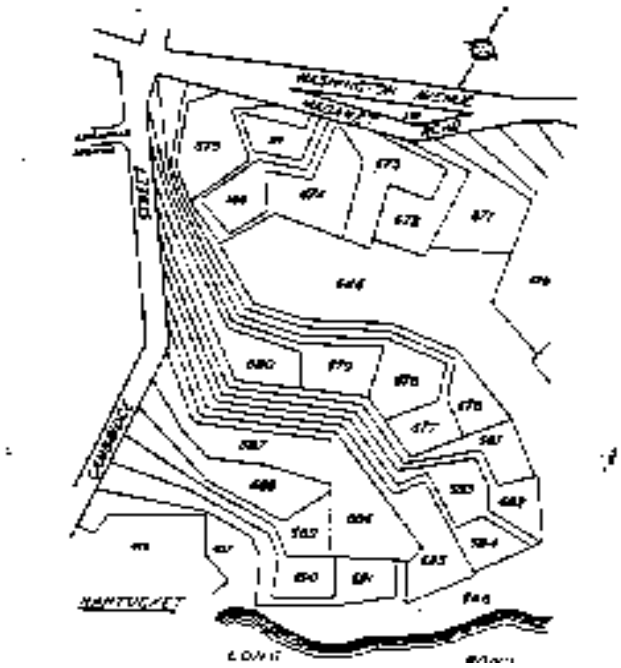
If the purpose of a frontage requirement is to make certain that each lot "may be reached by the fire department, police department, and other agencies charged with the responsibility of protecting the public peace, safety and welfare" . . ., then in the plan at bar frontage fails conspicuously to perform its intended purpose, and the master and the judge were right to see the plan as an attempted evasion of the duty to comply with the regulations of the planning board. The measure of the case was indicated by the master (and by counsel at argument before us) in the observation that the developer would ultimately have to join some of the necks to provide ways from lots to the public way: but that is an indication that we have here a subdivision requiring antecedent approval.

We stress that we are concerned here with a quite exceptional case: a plan so delineated that within its provisions the main portions of some of the lots are practically inaccessible from their respective borders on a public way. To hold that such a plan needs approval is not to interfere with the sound application of the "approval not required" technique.

Gifford, 376 Mass. at 807-808 (emphasis added).

Gifford v. Planning Board of Nantucket



The Gifford decision was a bellwether case as it established the requirement that a proposed building lot have accessibility from the way to the buildable portion of the lot. Hrenchuk v. Planning Board of Walpole, 8 Mass. App. Ct. 949 (1979), was the first case decided after the Gifford that dealt with this requirement. Hrenchuk submitted a plan to the Planning Board requesting an ANR endorsement. All the lots shown on the plan had frontage on Interstate 95, a limited access highway. There was no means of vehicular passage between the highway and any of the lots. The lots could only be reached by use of a 30 foot wide private way, which was not a qualified way for the purposes of the Subdivision Control Law. The court determined that Hrenchuk was not entitled to an ANR endorsement because there was no actual access to Route 95, the public way on which Hrenchuk claimed his lots had frontage. The court also noted that the following elements must be met before a plan can receive an ANR endorsement from the Planning Board.

1. The lots shown on the plan front on one of the three types of ways specified in Chapter 41, Section 81L, MGL; and,

2. The Planning Board determines that adequate access, as contemplated by Chapter 41, Section 81M, MGL, otherwise exists.

One of the more interesting cases dealing with the question of whether proposed building lots actually have access to a way is McCarthy v. Planning Board of Edgartown, 381 Mass. 86 (1980). McCarthy submitted a plan to the Planning Board for an ANR endorsement. The lots shown on the plan each had at least 100 feet of frontage on a public way, which was the minimum frontage requirement of the Edgartown zoning bylaw. However, the Martha's Vineyard Commission (MVC) had previously adopted a regulation that imposed a requirement that "any additional vehicular access to a public road must be at least 1,000 feet measured on the same side of the road from any other vehicular access." The Planning Board voted to deny the requested endorsement because the vehicular access would not be 1000 feet apart, and McCarthy appealed.

McCarthy claimed that the plan did not show a subdivision because every lot had 100 feet of frontage on a public way as required by the Edgartown zoning bylaw. The Planning Board contended that the MVC requirement deprived McCarthy's lots of vehicular access to the public way so the lots did not have frontage for the purposes of the Subdivision Control Law. Citing the Gifford and Hrenchuk decisions, the court agreed with the Planning Board.

> We agree. Whatever the meaning of "frontage" in a particular town by-law, we have read the definition of "subdivision" to refer to "frontage" in terms of the statutory purpose, expressed in Section 81M, to provide "adequate access to all of the lots in a subdivision by ways that will be safe and convenient for travel.

Shortly after the McCarthy decision, the Appeals Court had an opportunity to further define the accessibility issue in Gallitano v. Board of Survey & Planning of Waltham, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 269 (1980). The Gallitanos submitted a plan to the Planning Board requesting an ANR endorsement. The plan showed four lots, each meeting the requirements of the Waltham zoning ordinance for a buildable lot. In the particular district where the lots were located, the zoning ordinance did not specify any frontage requirement. In such a case where a zoning ordinance or bylaw does not specify any frontage requirement, Section 81L requires that proposed lots, to be entitled to an ANR endorsement, must have a minimum of 20 feet of frontage. Each of the lots shown on the plan had frontage on Beaver Street, an accepted public way, for a distance of not less than 20 feet. The access to the buildable portion of one lot was 20 feet wide for a distance of 76 feet where it widened to permit compliance with the width and yard requirements for a buildable lot. This was the lot that raised the most concern with the Planning Board. The Planning Board denied endorsement of the plan apparently inspired by the analysis in the Gifford decision.

The Planning Board sought to establish that despite literal compliance with the lot area and frontage requirements of the zoning ordinance, the lots would be left without access (or without easy access) to municipal services. The Planning Board supported its arguments with affidavits from city officials responsible for fire and police protection, traffic control, and public works. The affidavits claimed that certain lots intersected the public way at so acute an angle as to make entrance by vehicle difficult or impossible. The access was said to be “blind to oncoming traffic” thus creating a traffic hazard. The affidavits asserted that houses built on the lots would most likely be invisible from the way and would jeopardize fire and police protection in cases of emergencies. Although sympathetic with the Board’s position, the court decided against the Planning Board and stated a general rule to guide Planning Boards in determining whether access exists to the buildable portion of a lot.

GALLITANO V. BOARD OF SURVEY & PLANNING OF WALTHAM

10 Mass. App. Ct. 269 (1980)

Excerpts:

Armstrong, J. . . .

> It is obvious that all of the difficulties complained of are possible even in municipalities which require minimum frontage but which do not regulate the widths or angles of driveways and do not limit the setbacks of dwellings or require that they be visible from the street. It is equally obvious that a zoning ordinance which, like Waltham's, requires building lots to be one hundred feet wide but allows them to have as little as twenty feet of frontage contemplates that some degree of development will be permissible on back lots exempt from planning board control. Such is the choice made by a municipality which fails to expand the twenty-foot minimum frontage requirement of G. L. c. 41, Section 81L. If not a conscious choice, but merely an omission, it is probably one beyond the power of a planning board to rectify: for a planning board controls development principally through its regulations, . . . and it is powerless to pass regulations governing "the size, shape, width, [or] frontage . . . of lots." G. L. c. 41, Section 81Q, as amended through St. 1969, c. 884, Section 3.
> Gifford v. Planning Bd. of Nantucket, on which the board relies, involved a plan showing a division of a parcel into forty-six lots, each meeting the frontage and area requirements of Nantucket's zoning by-law, but only by means of long, narrow connector strips, some over a thousand feet long, some narrowing to as little as seven feet in places, some containing changes of direction at angles as sharp as twelve degrees. Holding that such a plan was "an attempted evasion" and should be treated as one showing a subdivision, the court stated: "We stress that we are concerned here with a quite exceptional case: a plan so delineated that within its provisions the main portions of some of the lots are practically inaccessible from their respective borders on a public way." The plan before us is qualitatively different: access is not impossible or particularly difficult for ordinary vehicles, and such difficulty as there is seems implicit in a zoning scheme which allows frontage as narrow as twenty feet. To permit the board to treat such a plan as subject to their approval would be to confer on the board the power to control, without regulation, the frontage, width, and shape of lots. The Gifford case, if we read it correctly, was not intended thus to broaden the powers of planning boards. The Gifford case does preclude mere technical compliance with frontage requirements in a manner that renders impossible the vehicular access which frontage requirements are intended in part to ensure; it does not create a material issue of fact whenever municipal officials are of the opinion that vehicular access could be better provided for. As a rule of thumb, we would suggest that the Gifford case should not be read as applying to a plan, such as the one before us, in which the buildable portion of each lot is connected to the required frontage by a strip of land not narrower than the required frontage at any point, measured from that point to the nearest point of the opposite sideline.

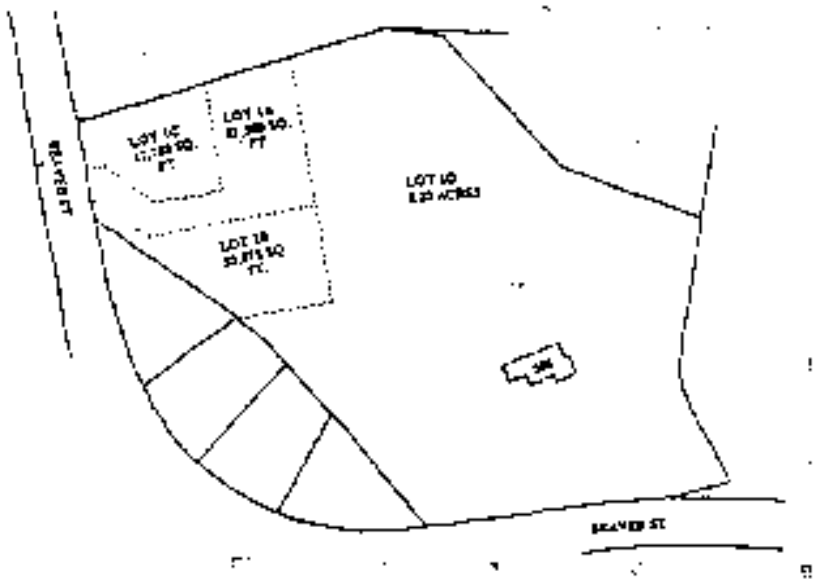
Gallitano, 10 Mass. App. Ct. at 272-274 (emphasis added).

Gallitano v. Board of Survey & Planning of Waltham



None of the previous cases dealt with a situation where the question of access centered on a topographical situation that might prevent access from the building site to the way. In DiCarlo v. Planning Board of Wayland, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 911 (1984), the court considered whether a steep slope which prevented practical access onto a public way was an appropriate matter for the Planning Board to consider.

In 1980, DiCarlo submitted a subdivision plan showing eight lots, numbered 1 through 8, which was rejected by the Planning Board. One reason given by the Planning Board for such denial was that the proposed grading plan would create a steep slope onto a public way which would prevent adequate access to two lots (lots 1 and 2) fronting on River Road, a public way. DiCarlo decided to create the same lots by filing two separate plans. The first plan, filed in 1981, showed lots 1,2,3, and 8. These lots all had the required frontage on River Road. No grading plan was required and the Planning Board endorsed the plan ANR. The second plan, filed in 1982, showed lots 4,5,6, and 7 as well as the lots that were shown on the ANR plan. It was noted on the plan, however, that the ANR lots were not part of the subdivision but were shown on the plan only for area identification purposes. This plan included a grading plan that would change the grade of lots 1 and 2 to deny those lots practical access to River Road. Unlike the original subdivision plan filed in 1980, this plan showed a 24 foot easement over lots 4 and 5 in favor of lots 1 and 2 to a proposed subdivision road.

A Superior Court judge, in examining the history of the development, considered all eight lots as one basic plan and found that the evidence presented and the 24 foot easement provided lots 1 and 2 with adequate access out of the subdivision. In deciding against DiCarlo, the Appeals Court expressed that Planning Boards must have the opportunity and are responsible for ensuring that adequate access exists to building lots.

DICARLO V. PLANNING BOARD OF WAYLAND

19 Mass. App. Ct. 911 (1984)

Excerpts:

> . . . We need not determine, however, whether the judge's finding was warranted, as we hold that in any event the question of access should, in the first instance, be determined by the board. . . . the submissions and the board's 1982 decision show that the question of access to lots 1 and 2 under the easement was never considered by the board.
> While the judge could easily conclude that the board looked at all eight lots in considering the proposed changes in grade, no similar inference can be drawn on the question of access. The 1980 plan did not contain the easements, and, in considering the plan . . ., there was no occasion for the board to look at access to lots 1 and 2. In light of G.L. c. 41, Section 81M, > and the evidence, it is not a foregone conclusion that the board will find that the easement provides adequate access to lots 1 and 2. . . . .

> The plaintiff argues that a remand to the board is inappropriate as matter of law since lots 1 and 2 front on a public way. He claims that the stipulation that "the proposed grades of Lots 1 and 2 . . . would prevent practical access from Lot 1 and 2 to River Road" is irrelevant under Section 81L. Our cases, however, are to the contrary. "[A] principal object of the law [G. L. c. 41, Section 81M] is to ensure efficient vehicular access to each lot in a subdivision, for safety, convenience, and welfare depend critically on that factor." . . . We hold, therefore, that the plaintiff cannot rely on the River Road frontage to preclude a remand on the question of access.

DiCarlo, 19 Mass. App. Ct. at913 (emphasis added).

Since the DiCarlo decision revolved around the submission of a subdivision plan, there was still no court case on point as to what extent a Planning Board could consider topographical issues when reviewing approval not required plans until the Massachusetts Appeals Court decided Corcoran v. Planning Board of Sudbury, 26 Mass. App. Ct. 1000 (1988). In that case, the Appeals Court ruled that a Planning Board could consider the presence of wetlands, which are subject to the Wetlands Protection Act, when reviewing an approval not required plan. The Massachusetts Supreme Court granted further appellate review and reversed the decision of the Appeals Court.

Corcoran had submitted a six lot ANR plan to the Planning Board. Each lot had the required frontage on a public way. The ANR plan showed wetland areas between the buildable portions of some of the lots and the public way.

The plan also showed a 25 foot wide common driveway. Presumably, the proposed driveway would provide access to those lots which could not directly access onto the public way. The Planning Board refused to endorse the plan and Corcoran appealed.

The Planning Board argued that even though Corcoran's plan met the statutory requirements for an ANR endorsement, such technical compliance alone was not enough. The Planning Board claimed that Corcoran was not entitled to an endorsement because the presence of wetlands on the lots prevented practical access to buildable sites in the rear of several of the lots. The Planning Board also noted the judge's finding that not all of the lots could accommodate both a house and its accompanying septic system on dry areas between the road and the wetland.

The Planning Board maintained that this case was governed by Gifford v. Planning Board of Nantucket, 376 Mass. 801 (1978), and other decisions which have held that technical compliance with the frontage requirement of the Subdivision Control Law does not in itself entitle a plan to an ANR endorsement. The SJC disagreed that the rationale contained in Gifford and subsequent cases was applicable to Corcoran's plan.

CORCORAN V. PLANNING BOARD OF SUDBURY
406 Mass. 248 (1989)

Excerpts:

Lynch, J. . . .

> Here, by contrast, there is no question that the frontage provides adequate vehicular access to the lots. The presence of wetlands on the lots does not raise a question of access from the public way, but rather the extent to which interior wetlands can be used in connection with structures to be built on the lots. Wetlands use is a subject within the jurisdiction of two other public agencies, the conservation commission of Sudbury and the DEQE. The conservation commission and the DEQE are also authorized to determine the threshold question whether the wet areas are in fact wetlands subject to regulation. This determination involves questions of fact concerning the kind of vegetation in the area in question and whether the wetlands are significant.
> Gifford was not intended to broaden significantly the powers of planning boards. See Gallitano v. Board of Survey & Planning of Waltham, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 269, 273 (1980). The guiding principle of Gifford and its progeny is that planning boards are authorized to withhold "ANR" endorsements in those unusual situations where the "access implied by [the] frontage is . . . illusory in fact." Fox v. Planning Bd. of Milton, 24 Mass. App. Ct. 572, 574 (1987). We conclude that the existence of interior wetlands, that do not render access illusory, is unlike the presence of distinct physical impediments to threshold access or extreme lot configurations that do. That the use of the wetlands is, or must be, subject to the approval of other public agencies (G. L. c. 131, section 40) does not broaden the scope of the board's powers.
> The judgment of the Land Court is affirmed. The plaintiffs' plan should be endorsed "approval under the subdivision control law not required."

Corcoran, 406 Mass. at 251-252, FN4 (emphasis added).

In Corcoran, the court decided that a Planning Board cannot deny an ANR endorsement in those instances where other permitting approvals may be necessary before practical access exists from the way to the building site. Therefore, the necessity of obtaining wetlands approval under G.L. 131, Section 40, a Title 5 permit, or insuring the availability of water pursuant to G.L. 40, Section 54 are not relevant considerations when reviewing an ANR plan. However, a Planning Board review can consider extreme topographical conditions as the Court qualified its decision when it noted that the existence of wetlands that do not render access illusory is a different situation than when there exists a distinct physical impediment or unusual lot configuration which would bar practical access.

The court again looked at the wetlands issue in Gates v. Planning Board of Dighton, 48 Mass. App. Ct. 394 (2000), and concluded that the Planning Board was correct in denying ANR endorsement because the existence of wetlands prevented practical, safe and efficient access to the buildable portions of the proposed lots. In this case, the land owner proposed to divide his parcel into twelve lots. One lot had conforming frontage on Milken Avenue, which was a public way. The remaining eleven lots had frontage on Tremont Street, which was also a public way.

As to the eleven lots on Tremont Street, the front land was wetlands and unsuitable for residential construction. Leaving aside practicality and the necessity of other public approvals, the developer's engineer said access from Tremont Street was theoretically possible. To reach the portions of the lots from Tremont Street where a house could be built, it would be necessary to build driveways on bridges over the wetlands. In the case of six of those lots the bridges would be about 2,000 feet long.

The developer's professional engineer conceded at trial that approaching the lots from Tremont Street would be an "environmental disaster" as well as an economic calamity. His plan showed alternate access from other points and at those points the frontage was less than the 175 feet required under the Dighton zoning bylaw. Access for eight lots was to be achieved by constructing an extension to Chase Street, which was an existing private way. A common driveway was also proposed with a cul-de-sac for a vehicular turn around.

The court reminded the developer that the object of the Subdivision Control Law and the task of the Planning Board is to ensure, by regulating their design and construction, safe and efficient roadways to lots that do not otherwise have safe and efficient access to an existing public roadway. In upholding the ANR denial, the court concluded that the proposed Chase Street extension and common driveways constituted a road system which required approval by the Planning Board under the Subdivision Control Law.

Gates v. Planning Board of Dighton

Is a plan entitled to ANR endorsement if a distinct physical impediment exists that prevents practical access but can be removed at a later date so that each lot would have practical access onto a public way? The court, in Poulos v. Planning Board of Braintree, 413 Mass. 359 (1992), shed some light on this issue.

Poulos owned a parcel of land that abutted a paved public way in the town of Braintree. He submitted a plan to the Planning Board requesting an ANR endorsement from the Planning Board. The plan showed 12 lots, each lot having the minimum 50 feet of frontage on a public way as required by the Braintree zoning bylaw. However, there was a guardrail along the street extending for about 659 feet between the paved way and the frontage of eight lots shown on the plan. The State Department of Public Works had installed the guardrail due to the existence of a steep downward slope between the public way and portions of the property owned by Poulos. The Board denied ANR endorsement because the lots had no practical access to the street, and Poulos appealed to the Land Court.

The Land Court judge found that the policy of the State Department of Public Works is to remove guardrails when the reason for their installation no longer exists. Neither State nor local approval would be required for Poulos to regrade and fill his property so as to eliminate the slope. An order of conditions authorizing such filling had been issued to Poulos by the Braintree Conservation Commission. The judge concluded that neither the slope nor the guardrail constituted an insurmountable impediment and found that adequate access existed from the public way to the lots. He based his decision on the fact that there was nothing to prevent Poulos from filling and regrading his property which would result in the removal of the slope and therefore eliminate the need for the guardrail. The Planning Board appealed and the Massachusetts Appeals Court reversed the decision of the Land Court judge. The Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court allowed further appellate review and agreed with the Appeals Court.

POULOS v. PLANNING BOARD OF BRAINTREE
413 Mass. 359 (1992)

Excerpts:

O'Connor, J. ...

> Planning boards may properly withhold the type of endorsement sought here when the "access implied by the frontage is...illusory in fact." ... The plaintiff argues that the access is not illusory in this case because, as the judge determined, the plaintiff could regrade the slope, and regrading would result in the DPW's removal of the guardrail, which would no longer be needed. The plaintiff also argues that, subject to reasonable restrictions, he has a common law right of access from the public way to his abutting lots that would require the DPW to remove the guardrail if it were not to do so voluntarily. ...
> We conclude, as did the Appeals Court, that c. 41, §§ 81L & 81M, read together, do not permit the endorsement sought by the plaintiff in the absence of present adequate access from the public way to each of the plaintiff's lots. It is not enough that the plaintiff proposes to regrade the land in a manner satisfactory to the DPW and that the DPW may respond by removing the guardrail. In an analogous situation, the Appeals Court upheld the refusal of a planning board to issue an "approval not required" endorsement where the public way shown on the plan did not yet exist, even though the town had taken the land for future construction of a public street. The Appeals Court concluded that public ways must in fact exist on the ground" to satisfy the adequate access standard of c. 41, § 81M. Perry v. Planning Bd. of Nantucket, supra at 146, 150-151. While Perry dealt with nonexistent public ways, and this case deals with nonexistent ways of > access, the principle is the same. There should be no endorsement in the absence of existing ways of access.

> In addition, we reject the argument, based on Anzalone v. Metropolitan Dist. Comm'n, supra, that, at least after regrading, the plaintiff would have a common law right of access that would entitle him to the requested endorsement. It is not a right of access, but rather actual access, that counts. In Fox v. Planning Bd. of Milton, supra at 572-573, the Appeals Court held that abutting lots had adequate access to a Metropolitan District Commission (MDC) parkway, not merely because the abutter possessed a common law right of access, but because, in addition, the MDC had granted the landowner a permit for a common driveway to run across an MDC green belt bordering the parkway. In the present case, the plaintiff has not received such an approval.

Poulos, 413 Mass at 361-362 (emphasis added).

Relying on Poulos, the Lincoln Planning Board denied an ANR endorsement in Hobbs Brook Farm Property Company Limited Partnership v. Planning Board of Lincoln, 48 Mass. App. Ct. 403 (2000). Hobbs Brook submitted a five lot ANR plan to the Planning Board. Each lot had at least the 120-foot minimum frontage required by the Lincoln zoning bylaw although the frontage on four lots was partially obstructed by a metal guardrail or concrete Jersey barrier. However, each lot had unobstructed access ranging from twenty-two feet to eighty-seven feet. Hobbs Brook needed curb cuts from the Massachusetts Department of Highways (MDH) because all the lots abutted State Route 2. MDH had advised Hobbs Brook that it would not issue a curb cut permit until the town approved the plan.

The Planning Board denied ANR endorsement on the grounds that (1) access to Route 2 was extraordinarily unsafe and dangerous; (2) the owner had not obtained curb cut permits from the MDH; and (3) guardrails, Jersey barriers, and Cape Cod berms might impede access along the full length of the 120 feet required as frontage. The court decided that none of the reasons stated by the Planning Board justified the denial of the plan. As to the guardrails, Jersey barriers, and Cape Cod berms, those partial obstructions did not have the physical barrier effect described in Poulos. As previously noted, in that case there was a guardrail along almost the entire frontage of eight of the twelve lots shown on the plan. There was also a sharp drop in the grade of land behind the guardrail. Here, by comparison, the court concluded that adequate access existed to each of the lots.

> It is simply not correct, as the planning board argues, that the entire frontage required for a lot under Lincoln's zoning by-law must be unobstructed. The by-law makes no such statement. Moreover, the purpose of the minimum frontage requirement in zoning codes deals with the spacing of buildings and the width of lots as well as access. For purposes of access, it is worth remembering, twenty feet is the minimum frontage required by c.41, s. 81L, although we do not intimate that the MDH or other authority having jurisdiction may not impose a higher standard.

APPROVING ANR LOTS ON SUBDIVISION WAYS

Under the Subdivision Control Law, one method for amending a previously approved subdivision plan is found in MGL, Chapter 41, § 81W, which provides in part that:

> A planning board, on its own motion or on the petition of any person interested, shall have the power to ... amend ... its approval of a plan of a subdivision ... . All of the provisions of the subdivision control law relating to the submission and approval of a plan of a subdivision shall, so far as apt, be applicable to the ... amendment ... of such approval and to a plan which has been changed under this section.

Another method for amending a previously approved subdivision plan can be found in MGL, Chapter 41, § 81O which provides in part that:

> After the approval of a plan ... the number, shape and size of the lots shown on a plan so approved may, from time to time, be changed without action by the board, provided every lot so changed still has frontage on a public way or way shown on a plan approved in accordance with the subdivision control law for at least such distance, if any, as is then required ... and if no distance is so required, has such frontage of at least twenty feet.

The process for amending a subdivision plan pursuant to § 81W is the same process that a Planning Board must follow when approving the original subdivision plan. Rather than going through the public hearing process, Section 81O allows a developer/landowner, as a matter of right, to change the number, shape and size of lots shown on a previously approved subdivision plan. A developer/landowner may also submit an ANR plan when changing the number, shape, and size of lots shown on a previously approved subdivision plan. What must a Planning Board consider when reviewing an ANR plan where the proposed lots abut a way shown on a plan that has been previously approved and endorsed by the Planning Board pursuant to the Subdivision Control Law ?

Before endorsing an ANR plan where the lots shown on a plan abut such a way, the court has determined that a Planning Board should consider the following:

1. Are the approved ways built or is there a performance guarantee in place, as required by MGL, Chapter 41, § 81U, that they will be built?

2. Was there a condition placed on the previously approved subdivision plan which has not been met or which would prevent further subdivision of the land?

MGL, Chapter 41, § 81U provides several techniques for enforcement of the Subdivision Control Law. A Planning Board, before endorsing its approval of a subdivision plan, is required to obtain an adequate performance guarantee to insure that the construction of the ways and the installation of municipal services will be completed in accordance with the rules and regulations of the Planning Board. The court has decided that a plan is not entitled to an ANR endorsement unless the previously approved subdivision way shown on the ANR plan has been built or there is a performance guarantee assuring that the way will be built.

In Richard v. Planning Board of Acushnet, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 216 (1980), the Board of Selectmen, acting as an interim Planning Board, approved a 26 lot subdivision. The Selectmen did not specify any construction standards for the proposed ways, nor did they specify the municipal services to be furnished by the applicant. The Selectmen also failed to obtain the necessary performance guarantee. Eighteen years after the approval of the subdivision plan by the Board of Selectmen, Richard submitted an ANR plan to the Planning Board. During the 18 year period, the locus shown on the ANR plan had been the site of gravel excavation so that it was now 25 feet below the grade of surrounding land. The Planning Board refused to endorse the plan. The central issue before the court was whether the lots shown on the ANR plan had sufficient frontage on ways that had been previously approved in accordance with the Subdivision Control Law. The court found that to be entitled to the ANR endorsement, when a plan shows proposed building lots abutting a previously approved way, such way must be built, or the assurance exists that the way will be constructed in accordance with specific municipal standards. Since there was no performance guarantee, Richard's plan was not entitled to ANR endorsement.

A Planning Board, when approving a subdivision plan, has the authority to impose reasonable conditions. A Planning Board may impose a condition which can result in the automatic rescission of a subdivision plan. A Planning Board may also impose a condition which can limit the ability of a developer/landowner to further subdivide the land shown on the plan without modifying or rescinding the limiting condition through the § 81W process. Therefore, in reviewing an ANR plan where the proposed lots abut a previously approved subdivision way, a Planning Board should check for the following:

1. Has the previously approved subdivision plan expired for failure to meet a specific condition?

2. Does the previously approved subdivision plan contain a condition which prevents the land shown on the plan from being further subdivided?

The issue of an automatic rescission of a previously approved subdivision plan was discussed in Costanza & Bertolino, Inc. v. Planning Board of North Reading, 360 Mass. 677 (1971). In that case, the Planning Board approved a subdivision plan on the condition that the developer complete all roads and municipal services within a specified period of time or else the Planning Board's approval would automatically be rescinded. The Board voted its approval and endorsed the plan with the words "Conditionally approved in accordance with G.L. Chap. 41, Sec. 81U, as shown in agreement recorded herewith." The agreement referred to was a covenant which contained the following language:

> The construction of all ways and installation of municipal services shall be completed in accordance with the applicable rules and regulations of the Board within a period of two years from date. Failure to so complete shall automatically rescind approval of the plan.

After the expiration of the two-year time period, the landowner submitted a plan to the Planning Board requesting an "approval not required" endorsement. The plan showed a portion of the lots that were shown on the previously approved definitive plan which abutted a way which was also shown on the plan. The landowner's position was that he was entitled to an ANR endorsement since the lots shown on this new plan abutted a way that had been previously approved by the Planning Board pursuant to the Subdivision Control Law. The Planning Board denied endorsement. The court found that the automatic rescission condition was consistent with the purposes of the Subdivision Control Law and that the Planning Board could rely on that condition when considering whether to endorse a plan "approval not required". Since the ways and installation of municipal services had not been completed in accordance with the terms of the conditional approval, the court held that the plan before the Board constituted a "subdivision" and was not entitled to the ANR endorsement. A similar result was also reached in Campanelli, Inc. v. Planning Board of Ipswich, 358 Mass. 798 (1970).

In SMI Investors(Delaware), Inc. v. Planning Board of Tisbury, 18 Mass. App. Ct. 408 (1984), the Planning Board approved a definitive subdivision plan with the notation stating that "All building units will be detached as covenanted" and a covenant to that effect was executed. At a later date, the landowner submitted a plan for ANR endorsement showing building lots abutting ways that were shown on the previously approved subdivision plan. The lots shown on the ANR plan were of such a size to accommodate a multi-family housing development. The Planning Board denied ANR endorsement.

SMI INVESTORS (DELAWARE), INC. V. PLANNING BOARD OF TISBURY
18 Mass. App. Ct. 408 (1984)

Excerpts:

Armstrong, J. ...

> ... the 1973 [definitive] plan was approved subject to a condition that all dwellings erected on the lots shown thereon be detached. The imposition of that condition was not appealed, and its propriety is not now before us. ...The 1981 [ANR] plan showed the same roads but altered lot lines. The plan also showed that the lots are designed to serve multi-family dwellings. The plaintiff asked the planning board to disregard the proposed use, but this it could not demand as of right. …
> The application for the § 81P endorsement was necessarily predicated on the approval of the 1973 plan, which remained contingent on acceptance of the condition. As the 1981 plan does not contemplate compliance with the condition, it is, in effect, a new plan, necessitating independent approval. We need not consider whether the plaintiff might have been entitled to a § 81P endorsement if each lot shown on the plan had been expressly made subject to the condition on the 1973 plan ... The record in the case before us makes clear that the plaintiff did not seek such a qualified endorsement ... .
> It follows that the judge did not err in ruling that the planning board was correct in refusing the § 81P endorsement.

SMI Investors (Delaware), Inc., 18 Mass. App. Ct. at 412-413.

In Hamilton v. Planning Board of Beverly, 35 Mass. App. Ct. 386 (1993), the court held that the Planning Board did not modify or waive a condition imposed on a previously approved subdivision plan by endorsing a subsequent plan "approval not required." In Hamilton, the Beverly Planning Board approved a five lot definitive plan on the stated condition that "This subdivision is limited to five (5) lots unless a new plan is submitted to the Beverly Planning Board which meets their full standards and approval." Seven years later, Hamilton, an owner of one of the lots shown on the 1982 definitive plan, submitted an ANR plan to the Planning Board. He wished to divide his lot into two lots which would meet the current lot area and lot frontage requirements of the Beverly Zoning Ordinance. The Planning Board endorsed the plan. Thereafter, Hamilton applied for a building permit to erect a single-family residence on one of the newly created lots. The Building Inspector was made aware of the condition noted on the 1982 definitive plan that had limited the subdivision to five lots. On the strength of that limitation, the Building Inspector declined to issue the building permit. On appeal, Hamilton argued that the "approval not required" endorsement superseded the limiting condition imposed on the 1982 definitive plan.

HAMILTON V. PLANNING BOARD OF BEVERLY

35 Mass. App. Ct. 386 (1993)

Excerpts:

Kass, J. ...

> Approval of a subdivision plan involves procedures, including a public hearing (G. L. c. 41, § 81T) as well as open sessions of the planning board at which the proposed division of a tract of land into smaller lots is carefully reviewed so as to meet design criteria and certain policy objectives relating to streets (with emphasis on maximizing traffic convenience and minimizing traffic congestion), drainage, waste disposal, catch basins, curbs, access to surrounding streets, accommodation to fire protection and policing needs, utility services, street lighting, and protecting access to sunlight for solar energy. ...
> The number of lots in a subdivision has a bearing on those considerations. What might be an adequate access road or waste disposal system for five lots is not necessarily adequate for seven or ten. For that reason a planning board may limit the number of lots in a subdivision. ... If it does so, the board must, as here, note the lot number limitation on the approved plan, which becomes a matter of record. Otherwise, under G.L. c. 41, § 81O, the number, shape and size of the lots shown on a plan may be changed as a matter of right, provided every lot still has frontage that meets the minimum requirements of the city or town in which the land is located.
> Under G.L. c. 41, § 81W, a person having a cognizable interest may petition the planning board for modification of an approved subdivision plan. Action by a planning board on such a petition for modification incorporates all the procedures attendant on original approval, including, therefore, a public hearing. Section 81W also provides that no modification may affect the lots in the original subdivision which have been sold or mortgaged.
> The provisions built into §§ 81T and 81W, which are designed to protect purchasers of lots in a subdivision and the larger public, would be altogether - and easily - subverted if an approved plan could be altered by the simple expedient of procuring a § 81P "approval not required" endorsement. All that is required to obtain such an endorsement is presentation to a planning board of a plan that shows lots fronting on a public street or its functional > equivalent, see G.L. c. 41, § 81L, with area and frontage that meet local municipal requirements. The endorsement of such plan is a routine act, ministerial in character, and constitutes an attestation of compliance neither with zoning requirements nor subdivision conditions. ... Restrictions in an approved subdivision plan are binding on a building inspector. ... .

> The limited meaning which may be ascribed to a § 81P endorsement and the ministerial nature of the endorsement defeat the argument of the plaintiffs that the endorsement constituted a waiver of the five-lots limitation - prescinding from the question whether the board, for reasons we have discussed, could waive the limitation, thus altering the plan, without a public hearing. ...

Hamilton, 35 Mass. App. Ct. at 388-389 (emphasis added).

As Judge Kass noted in Hamilton, restrictions in an approved subdivision plan are binding on a building official. Specifically, MGL, Chapter 41, § 81Y provides that a building inspector cannot issue a building permit until satisfied that:

> "... the lot on which the building is to be erected is not within a subdivision, or that a way furnishing the access to such lot as required by the subdivision control law is shown on a plan recorded or entitled to be recorded ... and that any condition endorsed thereon limiting the right to erect or maintain buildings on such lot have been satisfied, or waived by the planning board, ...

MGL, Chapter 41, § 81P further provides that a statement may be placed on an ANR plan indicating the reason why approval is not required under the Subdivision Control Law. As was noted by the court in SMI Investors, if a Planning Board believes its endorsement may tend to mislead buyers of lots shown on a plan, they may exercise their powers in a way that protects persons who will rely on the endorsement. Before endorsing a plan "approval not required" where the proposed lots abut a way shown on a previously approved and endorsed subdivision plan, the Planning Board should review the subdivision plan to see if there is any limiting condition which would prevent the land shown on the subdivision plan from being further subdivided. If no such condition exists but there were other conditions imposed, it may be prudent to place a notation on the ANR plan indicating that the lots shown on the plan abut a way which has been conditionally approved by the Planning Board pursuant to the Subdivision Control Law. Hopefully, this notation will alert a building official to review the previously approved subdivision plan to determine if there is any condition which would prevent the issuance of a building permit. If the subdivision way shown on the ANR plan has not been constructed, the Planning Board should check to make sure that there exists a performance guarantee as required by the Subdivision Control Law. If the construction of such way is secured by a covenant, the Planning Board may want to consider placing a statement on the ANR plan which will alert a future buyer of any lot shown on the plan to the existence of such a covenant.

A Planning Board should check with municipal counsel if there is any question concerning the applicability of the covenant to the lots shown on the ANR plan.

APPROVING ANR LOTS ON EXISTING ADEQUATE WAYS

In determining whether a proposed building lot has adequate frontage for the purposes of the Subdivision Control Law, MGL, Chapter 41, § 81L provides that the proposed building lots must front on one of three types of ways:

> (a) a public way or a way which the municipal clerk certifies is maintained and used as a public way,
> (b) a way shown on a plan approved and endorsed in accordance with the Subdivision Control Law, or
> (c) a way in existence when the Subdivision Control Law took effect in the municipality having, in the opinion of the Planning Board, suitable grades, and adequate construction to provide for the needs of vehicular traffic in relation to the proposed use and for the installation of municipal services to serve such use.

In determining whether a lot has adequate frontage for zoning purposes, many zoning bylaws contain a definition of "street" or "way" which includes the types of ways defined in the Subdivision Control Law. The fact that a lot may abut a way which is defined in the Subdivision Control Law does not mean the lot complies with the frontage requirement of the local zoning bylaw.

Where a zoning bylaw allows lot frontage to be measured along a way which in the opinion of the Planning Board has sufficient width, suitable grades, and adequate construction for vehicular traffic, there must be a specific determination by the Planning Board that the way meets such criteria. In Corrigan v. Board of Appeals of Brewster, 35 Mass. App. Ct. 514 (1993), the court determined that a lot abutting such a way does not have zoning frontage unless the Planning Board has specifically made that determination.

In Corrigan, the Planning Board had given an ANR endorsement to a plan of land showing the lot in question. At the direction of the Land Court, the Planning Board noted on the ANR plan that "No determination of compliance with zoning requirements has been made or is intended." At a later date, the Building Inspector denied a building permit because the lot lacked frontage on a "street" as defined in the Brewster Zoning Bylaw. The Brewster Zoning Bylaw defined a "street" in the following way:

> (i) a way over twenty-four feet in width which is dedicated to public use by any lawful procedure;

> (ii) a way which the town clerk certifies is maintained as a public way;
> (iii) a way shown on an approved subdivision plan; and
> (iv) a way having in the opinion of the Brewster Planning Board sufficient width, suitable grades and adequate construction to provide for the needs of vehicular traffic in relation to the proposed uses of the land abutting thereon or served thereby, and for the installation of municipal services to serve such land and the buildings erected or to be erected thereon.

The Building Inspector denied the building permit because the lot did not abut a public way which is over twenty-four feet in width as noted in (i) above. The Building Inspector's decision did not discuss whether the definition of street as defined in (iv) above was applicable to the lot in question.

On appeal to the court, Corrigan argued that the previous ANR endorsement by the Planning Board constituted a zoning determination by the Planning Board that the way shown on the plan had sufficient width, suitable grades, and adequate construction as required by the Brewster Zoning Bylaw. Corrigan's argument was that the Planning Board could not have given its ANR endorsement unless the Board determined that the lots shown on the plan fronted on one of the three types of ways specified in the Subdivision Control Law. Since the way shown on the ANR plan was not (a) a public way or, (b) a way shown on a plan approved and endorsed by the Planning Board in accordance with the Subdivision Control Law, Corrigan concluded that the Planning Board must have determined that the way was in existence prior to the Subdivision Control Law and had suitable width and grades and adequate construction to provide for the needs of vehicular traffic in relation to the proposed use of land and that determination also constituted the favorable determination by the Planning Board required by the Brewster Zoning Bylaw.

CORRIGAN V. BOARD OF APPEALS OF BREWSTER

Excerpts:

Gillerman, J. ...

> The argument is appealing. If the Planning Board has in fact decided that a lot has adequate frontage on a "street" under § 81L of the Subdivision Control Law because it is adequate in all material respects for vehicular traffic, then it is wasteful, if not silly, not to extend that decision to the resolution of the same issue by the same board applying the same criteria under the Brewster zoning by-law.

Previous decisions of this court, nevertheless, have repeatedly pointed out that a § 81P endorsement does not give a lot any standing under the zoning by-law. See Smalley v. Planning Bd. of Harwich, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 599, 603 (1980). There we said, "In acting under § 81P, a planning board's judgment is confined to determining whether a plan shows a subdivision."... Smalley, however, involved a lot with less than the minimum area requirements, ... and we rightly rejected the argument that a § 81P endorsement would constitute a decision that the unrelated requirements of the Harwich zoning code had been met. ...

Another decision of major importance is Arrigo v. Planning Bd. of Franklin, 12 Mass. App. Ct. 802 (1981). There we held that § 81L is not merely definitional, but imposes a substantive requirement that each lot have frontage on a "street" for the distance specified in the zoning by-law, or absent such specification, twenty feet, and that § 81R gives the planning board the power to waive strict compliance with the frontage requirements of § 81L, whether that requirement is twenty feet or the distance specified in the zoning by-law. We also held in that case that the waiver by the planning board under § 81R was valid only for the purposes of the Subdivision Control Law and did not operate as a variance by the zoning board of appeals under the different and highly restrictive criteria of G.L. c. 40A, § 10. ... . Arrigo, too, is different from the present case: there the criteria for the grant of the § 81R waiver by the planning board were different from the criteria for the granting of a § 10 variance, ... In Arrigo, there was no reason whatsoever to make the action of one agency binding upon the other.

Here, unlike Smalley and Arrigo, the subject to be regulated is the same for both the Subdivision Control Law and the Brewster zoning by-law (the requirement that the lot have frontage on a "street"), the criteria for a "street" are the same for both (a determination of the adequacy of the way for vehicular traffic), and the agency empowered to make that determination is the same (the Brewster planning board). The difficulty, however, is that the judge found - and we find nothing to the contrary in the record before us - that the Brewster planning board never in fact determined that the way relied upon by the plaintiffs was a "street" within the meaning of § 81L; the record is simply silent as to the route followed by the board in reaching its decision to issue a § 81P endorsement. Given the variety of possible explanations, we should not infer what the planning board did - as the plaintiffs would have us do - and certainly we will not guess as to the board's reasoning.

Corrigan, 35 Mass. App. Ct. at 517-518.

The last sentence of MGL, Chapter 41, § 81P provides that a statement may be placed on an ANR plan indicating the reason why approval under the Subdivision Control Law is not required. Placing a statement on an ANR plan stating the reason for endorsement takes on added importance where a local zoning bylaw authorizes frontage to be measured on a "street" or "way" which in the opinion of the Planning Board provides suitable access. As was noted in Corrigan, in such situations a record must exist that clearly indicates that the Planning Board has made such a determination. Before endorsing such a plan, we would suggest that a Planning Board make a determination that the way shown on the plan provides suitable access and then place a statement on the ANR plan indicating that they have made such a determination.

DETERMINING ANR ENDORSEMENT

In determining whether a plan is entitled to be endorsed "approval under the Subdivision Control Law not required," a Planning Board should ask the following questions:

1. Do the proposed lots shown on the plan front on one of the following types of ways?

   A. A public way or a way which the municipal clerk certifies is maintained and used as a public way.

   Case Notes: Casagrande v. Town Clerk of Harvard, 377 Mass. 703 (1979) (way must be used and maintained as a public way, not just maintained); Spalke v. Board of Appeals of Plymouth, 7 Mass. App. Ct. 683 (1979) (Atlantic Ocean is not a public way for purposes of the Subdivision Control Law); Matulewicz v. Planning Board of Norfolk, 438 Mass. 37 (2002) (planning board denial of ANR overturned because every lot had frontage on a way that town clerk certified was maintained and used as public way).

   B. A way shown on a plan which has been previously approved in accordance with the Subdivision Control Law.

   Case Notes: Richard v. Planning Board of Acushnet, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 216 (1980) (paper street shown on plan approved by selectmen before subdivision control in community, is not a way previously approved and endorsed under the Subdivision Control Law); Costanza & Bertolino, Inc. v. Planning Board of North Reading, 360 Mass. 677 (1971) (where condition of approved definitive plan required that construction of ways shown on such plan be completed in two years or definitive plan is automatically rescinded, such ways are not ways approved in accordance with the Subdivision Control Law if two year condition is not met); SMI Investors(Delaware), Inc. v. Planning Board of Tisbury, 18 Mass. App. Ct. 408 (1984) (condition of original subdivision plan prevented subsequent plan showing a division of land from obtaining ANR endorsement); Hamilton v. Planning Board of Beverly, 35 Mass. App. Ct. 386 (1993) (landowner not entitled to building permit for ANR lot where lot was created in violation of a condition imposed on a subdivision plan which prevented the land shown on subdivision plan from being further subdivided to create additional lots).

C. A way in existence when the Subdivision Control Law took effect in the municipality, which in the opinion of the Planning Board is suitable for the proposed use of the lots.

Case Notes: Rettig v. Planning Board of Rowley, 332 Mass. 476 (1955) (ways which were impassable were not adequate for access and subdivision approval was required).

2. Do the proposed lots shown on the plan meet the minimum frontage requirements of the local zoning ordinance or bylaw?

Case Notes: Gallitano v. Board of Survey & Planning of Waltham, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 269 (1980) (if the local zoning ordinance or bylaw does not specify any minimum frontage requirement, then the proposed lots must have a minimum of 20 feet of frontage in order to be entitled to the ANR endorsement).

3. Can each lot access onto the way from the frontage shown on the plan?

Case Notes: Hrenchuk v. Planning Board of Walpole, 8 Mass. App. Ct. 949 (1979) (limited access highway does not provide frontage and access for purposes of ANR endorsement); McCarthy v. Planning Board of Edgartown, 381 Mass. 86 (1980) (driveway requirement deprived lots shown on plan of vehicular access to the public way so the lots did not have frontage for the purposes of ANR endorsement).

4. Does the way on which the proposed lots front provide adequate access?

Case Notes: Perry v. Planning Board of Nantucket, 15 Mass. App. Ct. 144 (1983) (a paper street, even though a public way, does not provide adequate access as the Subdivision Control Law requires that a public way be constructed on the ground); Hutchinson v. Planning Board of Hingham, 23 Mass. App. Ct. 416 (1987) (a public way provides adequate access if it is paved, comparable to other ways in the area, and is suitable to accommodate motor vehicles and public safety equipment); Sturdy v. Planning Board of Hingham, 32 Mass. App. Ct. 72 (1992) (deficiencies in a public way are insufficient ground to deny ANR endorsement); Long Pond Estates Ltd v. Planning Board of Sturbridge, 406 Mass. 253 (1989) (a public way provided adequate access though temporarily closed due to flooding where adequate access for emergency vehicles existed on another way); Ball v. Planning Board of Leverett, 58 Mass. App. Ct. 513 (2003) (planning board can consider condition of public way to determine whether the way provides acceptable physical access).

5. Does each lot have practical access from the way to the buildable portion of the lot?

Case Notes: Gifford v. Planning Board of Nantucket, 376 Mass. 801 (1978) (a plan showing lots connected to a public way with long necks narrowing to such a width so as not to provide adequate access was not entitled to an ANR endorsement); Gallitano v. Board of Survey & Planning of Waltham, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 269 (1980) (as a rule of thumb, practical access exists where the buildable portion of each lot is connected to the required frontage by a strip of land not narrower than the required frontage at any point, measured from that point to the nearest point of the opposite sideline); Corcoran v. Planning Board of Sudbury, 406 Mass. 248 (1989) (where no physical impediments affect access from the road to the buildable portion of a lot, practical access exists even though several lots would require regulatory approval for alteration of a wetland); Gates v. Planning Board of Dighton, 48 Mass. App. Ct. 394 (2000) (where wetlands presented a physical barrier preventing practical, safe and efficient access to proposed lots); Poulos v. Planning Board of Braintree, 413 Mass. 359 (1992) (existence of a guardrail and downward slope constituted physical impediments so that practical access did not exist to permit ANR endorsement); Hobbs Brook Farm Property Company Limited Partnership v. Planning Board of Lincoln, 48 Mass. App. Ct. 403 (2000) (it is simply not correct that the entire frontage required for a lot must be unobstructed).

ENDORSING ANR PLANS SHOWING ZONING VIOLATIONS

Frequently, Planning Boards are presented with a plan to be endorsed "approval under the Subdivision Control Law not required" where the plan shows a division of land into proposed lots in which:

a. all the proposed lots have the required zoning frontage either on public ways, previously approved ways or existing ways that are adequate in the board's opinion, but

b. one or more of the proposed lots lack the required minimum lot area or the plan indicates other zoning deficiencies.

Since the plan shows zoning violations, can the Planning Board refuse to endorse the plan as "approval not required" as requested by the applicant?

What can a Planning Board do to prevent future misunderstandings regarding the buildability of the proposed substandard lots if they are required to endorse the plan?

Relative to the Planning Board's endorsement, the answer is clear. The only pertinent zoning dimension for determining whether a plan depicts a subdivision is frontage. In Smalley v. Planning Board of Harwich, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 599 (1980), the Harwich Planning Board was presented with a plan showing a division of a tract of land into two lots, both of which had frontage on a public way greater than the minimum frontage required by the zoning bylaw. The Planning Board refused endorsement since the plan indicated certain violations to the minimum lot area and sideline requirements of the zoning bylaw. However, the Massachusetts Appeals Court decided that the plan was entitled to the Planning Board's endorsement.

Anne Smalley had submitted a plan to the Planning Board for endorsement that "approval under the Subdivision Control Law was not required." The plan showed a division of a tract of land into two lots on which there were two existing buildings, a residence and a barn. The barn and the residence were standing when the Subdivision Control Law went into effect in Harwich. One lot had an area of 14,897 square feet and included the existing residence. The other lot had an area of 20,028 square feet and included the existing barn. Both lots shown on the plan met the minimum 100 foot frontage requirement of the zoning bylaw.

The zoning bylaw required a minimum lot area of 20,000 square feet; thus, the smaller lot containing the residence did not conform to the minimum lot area requirement. The plan also indicated violations as to the minimum sideline requirements of the zoning bylaw. The Planning Board refused to endorse the plan and Smalley appealed to the Superior Court. The judge in Superior Court annulled the Planning Board's decision and the Planning Board appealed to the Massachusetts Appeals Court.

The Planning Board contended that the zoning violations shown on the plan justified its decision not to endorse the plan as "approval not required." The Planning Board argued that Chapter 41, Section 81M, MGL (which states the general purposes of the Subdivision Control Law) requires that the powers of the Planning Board under the Subdivision Control Law "shall be exercised with due regard ... for insuring compliance with the applicable zoning ordinances or by-laws ...." After reviewing the legislative history of the "approval not required plan," the court decided against the Planning Board.

SMALLEY V. PLANNING BOARD OF HARWICH
10 Mass. App. Ct. 599 (1980)

Excerpts:

Goodman, J. . . .

> In view of the legislative history and judicial interpretation of Section 81P, we do not read that section to place the same duties and responsibilities on the board as it has when it is called upon to approve a subdivision. .... Provision for an endorsement that approval was not required first appeared in 1953, when Section 81P was enacted. Theretofore plans not requiring approval by a planning board could be lawfully recorded without reference to the planning board. The purpose of Section 81P, as explained by Mr. Philip Nichols on behalf of the sponsors of the 1953 legislation, was to alleviate the "difficulty ... encountered by registers of deeds in deciding whether a plan showing ways and lots could lawfully be recorded." ... This purpose is manifested in the insertion by St. 1953, c. 674, Section 7, of G.L. c. 41, Section 81X, which provided - as it now provides -- that; "No register of deeds shall record any plan showing a division of a tract of land into two or more lots, and ways, ... unless (1) such plan bears an endorsement of the Planning Board of such city or town that such plan has been approved by such planning board, ... or (2) such plan bears an endorsement ... as provided in [Section 81P,]," ....
> Thus, Section 81P was not intended to enlarge the substantive powers of the board but rather to provide a simple method to inform the register that the board was not concerned with the plan -- to "relieve certain divisions of land of regulation and approval by a planning board ('approval ... not required') ... because the vital access is reasonably guaranteed ...." .... Further, were we to accept the defendant's contention that a planning board has a responsibility with reference to zoning when making a Section 81P endorsement, it would imply a similar responsibility with > reference to other considerations in Section 81M ..., not only "for insuring compliance with the applicable zoning [laws]" but "for securing adequate provision for water, sewerage, drainage, underground utility services," etc. A Section 81P endorsement is obviously not a declaration that these matters are in any way satisfactory to the planning board. In acting under Section 81P, a planning board's judgment is confined to determining whether a plan shows a subdivision.

> Nor can we say that the recording of a plan showing a zoning violation, as this one does, can serve no legitimate purpose. The recording of a plan such as the plaintiff's may be preliminary to an attempt to obtain a variance, or to buy abutting land which would bring the lot into compliance, or even to sell the non-conforming lot to an abutter and in that way bring it into compliance. In any event, nothing that we say here in any way precludes the enforcement of the zoning by-law should the recording of her plan eventuate in a violation.
> We therefore affirm the judgment. In this connection we note that the lower court has retained jurisdiction though so far as appears nothing remains to be done but to place a Section 81P endorsement on the plan in accordance with the judgment...

Smalley, 10 Mass. App. Ct. at 602-605 (emphasis added).

A plan showing proposed lots with sufficient frontage and access, but showing some other zoning violation, is entitled to an endorsement that "approval under the Subdivision Control Law is not required." If the necessary variances have not been granted by the Board of Appeals, what can a Planning Board do to make it clear that some of the proposed lots may not be available as building lots? A prospective purchaser of a lot may assume that the Planning Board's endorsement is an approval on zoning matters even though such endorsement gives the lots shown on the plan no standing under the applicable zoning bylaw.

Chapter 41, Section 81P, MGL, states, "The endorsement under this section may include a statement of the reason approval is not required." Court cases have supported the concept that, where a Planning Board knows its endorsement may tend to mislead buyers of lots shown on a plan, the Planning Board may exercise its powers in a way that protects persons who will rely on the ANR endorsement. See Perry v. Planning Board of Nantucket, 15 Mass. App. Ct. 144 (1983).

If an applicant is unwilling to note on the plan those lots which are in noncompliance with the zoning bylaw, or are otherwise not available as building lots, we suggest that the Planning Board may properly add on the plan under its endorsement an explanation to the effect that the Planning Board has made no determination regarding zoning compliance. Since a Planning Board has no jurisdiction to pass on zoning matters, we would suggest that Planning Boards consider the following type of statement:

1. "The above endorsement is not a determination of conformance with zoning regulations"

2. "No determination of compliance with zoning requirements has been made or intended."

3. "Planning Board endorsement under the Subdivision Control Law should not be construed as either an endorsement or an approval of Zoning Lot Area Requirements."

Hopefully, one of the above statements would have the affect of leading a purchaser to seek further advice. Of course, the Building Inspector should also be alerted.

ANR STATEMENTS AND ONE LOT PLANS

In Bloom v. Planning Board of Brookline, 346 Mass. 278 (1963), the court reached the conclusion that a plan showing the division of a tract of land into two parcels where one parcel was clearly not available for building was not a division of land into two lots which would require Planning Board approval under the Subdivision Control Law.

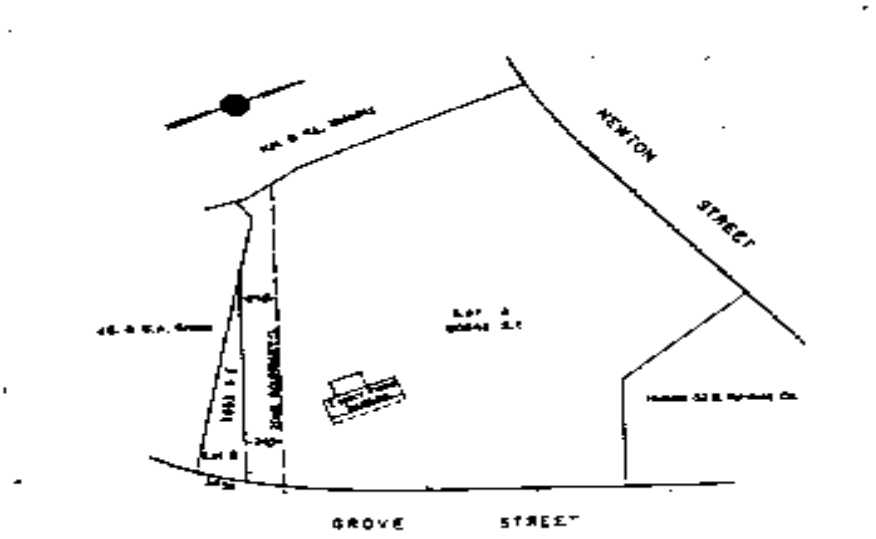
In Bloom, owners of a parcel of land were refused a variance to allow them to build an apartment complex. Their parcel extended more that 25 feet into a single-family zoning district. The zoning bylaw of the town of Brookline contained the following requirement:

> When a boundary line between districts divides a lot in single ownership, the regulations controlling the less restricted portion of such lot shall be applicable to the entire lot, provided such lot does not extend more that 25 feet within the more restricted district.

A plan was submitted to the Planning Board showing two lots. Lot A was a large parcel which only extended 24 feet into the single-family zone. The second lot, which was entirely in the single-family zone did not meet the frontage requirements of the zoning bylaw. A statement was placed on lot B that it did not conform to the Zoning Bylaw. The reason the plan was submitted to the Planning Board was to create a lot which would not be subject to the above noted zoning requirement making the lot available for apartment construction.

Section 81P provides that an ANR endorsement "shall not be withheld unless such plan shows a subdivision." For purposes of the Subdivision Control Law, a "subdivision" is a "division of a tract of land into two or more lots." A "lot" is defined in Section 81L as "an area of land in one ownership, with definite boundaries, used, or available for use, as the site of one or more buildings." The court determined that the plan was entitled to ANR endorsement since a statement had been placed on the plan making it clear that lot B was not available for the site of building.

Bloom v. Planning Board of Brookline



Section 81P states that the "endorsement under this section may include a statement of the reason approval is not required." Court cases have supported the concept that, where a Planning Board knows its endorsement may tend to mislead buyers of lots shown on a plan, the Planning Board may exercise its powers in a way that protects persons who will rely on the ANR endorsement. For example, in Bloom, the court noted that the Planning Board could have placed thereon or have caused the applicant to place thereon a statement that the lot was not a lot which could be used for a building. Since the Planning Board has no jurisdiction to pass on zoning matters, we would suggest that Planning Boards consider the following type of statement for one lot plans where one or more of the parcels shown on the plan do not meet the frontage requirement of the Subdivision Control Law.

> For the purposes of the Subdivision Control Law, parcel ___ cannot be used as the site for a building.

If a landowner wishes to divide his land in order to convey a portion of his property to another landowner, the following statement might be used.

> Parcel ___ to be conveyed to abutting property owner and is not available as a site for a building.

In Cricones v. Planning Board of Dracut, 39 Mass. App. Ct. 264 (1995), a landowner submitted a plan showing a division of land into three parcels. Two parcels shown on the plan contained a statement that the parcel was not a building lot. The third parcel contained no such statement and also did not meet the frontage requirement as specified in the zoning bylaw. The court found that, in effect, the landowner submitted a single lot plan which did not constitute a subdivision under the Subdivision Control Law and concluded that the plan was entitled to an ANR endorsement because it did not show a division of land into two or more lots. In reaching this conclusion, the court made the following observations:

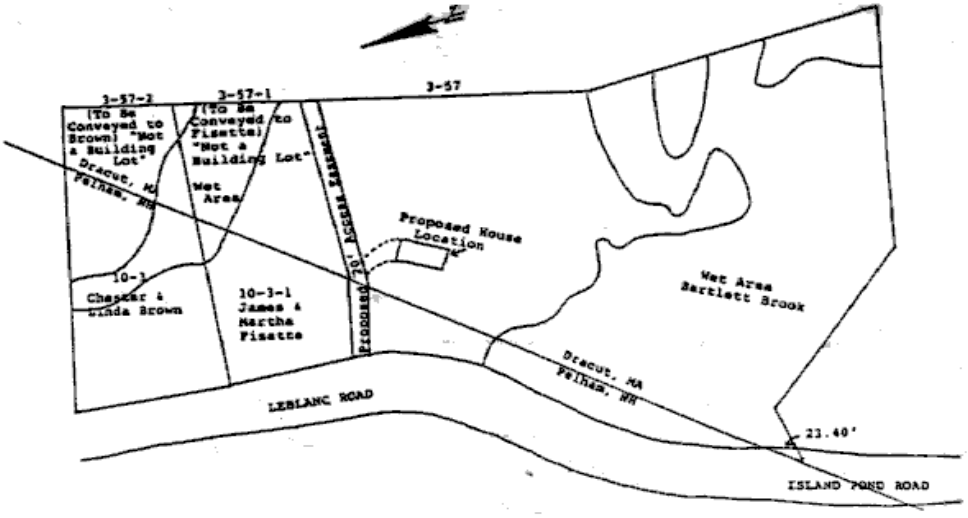
1. In determining whether to endorse a plan "approval not required," a Planning Board's judgment is confined to determining whether a plan shows a subdivision.

2. If a plan does not show a subdivision, a Planning Board must endorse the plan as not requiring subdivision approval.

3. If the Planning Board is presented with a plan showing a division of land into two or more "lots," each of which has sufficient frontage on a way, the Planning Board can properly concern itself with whether the frontage depicted is actual or illusory.

4. If a plan shows a subdivision rather than a single lot under the Subdivision Control Law, the Planning Board can consider the adequacy of the frontage of any lot shown on the plan independent of any variance which may have been granted by the Zoning Board of Appeals.

Cricones v. Planning Board of Dracut



ZONING PROTECTIONS FOR ANR PLANS

The submission of a definitive plan or approval not required plan protects the land shown on such plans from future zoning changes for a specified period of time. A definitive plan is afforded an eight year zoning freeze, while an approval not required plan obtains a three year zoning protection period. A definitive plan protects the land shown on such plan from all changes to the zoning bylaw. An approval not required plan protects the land shown on such plan from future zoning changes related to use.

Presently, Chapter 40A, Section 6, MGL, provides:

> ... the land shown on a [a definitive plan] ... shall be governed by the applicable provisions of the zoning . . . in effect at the time of ... submission ... for eight years from the date of the endorsement of ... approval ... .
> ... the use of land shown on [an approval not required plan] ... shall be governed by the applicable provisions of the zoning ... in effect at the time of submission of such plan ... for a period of three years from the date of endorsement ...that approval ... is not required ... .

Whether a plan requires approval or not is, in the first instance, determined by Chapter 41, Section 81L, MGL, which defines "subdivision." If Planning Board approval is not required, the plan may be entitled to a use freeze. The questionable phrase contained in the statute relative to the zoning protection afforded approval not required plans is, "the use of the land shown on such plan shall be governed ... ."

Does this mean that the use of the land shall be governed by all applicable provisions of the zoning bylaw in effect when the plan was submitted to the Planning Board? Or does it mean, as to use, that the land shown on the plan is only protected from any bylaw amendment which would prohibit the use?

In Bellows Farms v. Building Inspector of Acton, 364 Mass. 253 (1973), the Massachusetts Supreme Court determined that the language found in the zoning statute merely protected the land shown on such plans as to the kind of uses which were permitted by the zoning bylaw at the time of the submission of the plan. This decision established the court's view that the land shown on approval not required plans would not be immune to changes in the zoning bylaw which did not prohibit the protected uses.

On March 5, 1970, Bellows Farms submitted a plan to the Planning Board requesting the Board's endorsement that "approval under the Subdivision Control Law is not required." Since the plan did not show a subdivision, the Planning Board made the requested endorsement. Under the zoning bylaw in effect when Bellows Farms submitted the plan, apartments were permitted as a matter of right. Also, based upon the "Intensity Regulation Schedule" in effect at the time of submission, a maximum of 435 apartment units could be constructed on the land shown on such plan.

In 1970, after the submission of the approval not required plan, the town amended the "Intensity Regulation Schedule" and off street parking and loading requirements of the zoning bylaw. In 1971, the town adopted another amendment to its zoning bylaw which required site plan approval by the Board of Selectmen. If these amendments applied to the land shown on the approval not required plan, Bellows Farms would only be able to construct a maximum of 203 apartment units.

Bellows Farms argued that the endorsement by the Planning Board that "approval under the Subdivision Control is not required" protected the land shown on the plan from the increased zoning controls relative to density, parking and site plan approval for three years from the date of the Planning Board endorsement. However, the town of Acton argued that the protection afforded by the state statute only extended to the "use of the land" and, even though the zoning amendments would substantially reduce the number of apartment units which could be constructed on the parcel, Bellows Farm could still use its land for apartments.

The court agreed with the town of Acton and found that the 1970 and 1971 amendments to the zoning bylaw applied to Bellows Farms' land. In deciding that an approval not required plan does not protect the land shown on such plan from increased dimensional or bulk requirements, the court reviewed the legislative history relative to the type of zoning protection which have been afforded approval not required plans.

In 1960, the Legislature first provided zoning protection for approval not required plans. The Zoning Enabling Act at that time specified:

> No amendment to any zoning ordinance or by-law shall apply to or effect any lot shown on a plan previously endorsed with the words 'approval under the subdivision control law not required' or words of similar import, pursuant ... [G.L. C. 41, S 81P], until a period of three years from the date of such endorsement has elapsed...

In 1961, the Legislature eliminated the above noted provision. However, in 1963, the Legislature again provided a zoning protection. The 1963 amendment contained the same language which presently exists in Chapter 40A, Section 6, MGL, which is:

> The use of land shown on such plan shall be governed by applicable provisions of the zoning ordinance or by-law in effect at the time of the submission of such plan ... for a period of three years ... .

The court found that the difference between the 1960 and 1963 protection provisions for approval not required plans was "obvious and significant."

> This is not a case of using different language to convey the same meaning. The use of the different language in the current statute indicates a legislative intent to grant a more limited survival of pre-amendment rights under amended zoning ordinances and by-laws. We cannot ignore the fact that although the earlier statute protected without restriction "any lot" shown on a plan from being affected by a zoning amendment, the later statute purports to protect only "the use of the land" shown on a plan from the effect of such an amendment.

In deciding the Bellows Farms case, the court contrasted the broad zoning protection from all zoning changes afforded subdivision plans versus the more limited protection afforded approval not required plans.

BELLOWS FARMS V. BUILDING INSPECTOR OF ACTON
364 Mass. 253 (1973)

Excerpts:

Quirico, J. .. .

> ... when a plan requiring planning board approval under the subdivision control law is submitted to the board for such approval, "the land shown ... [on such plan] shall be governed by applicable provisions of the zoning ordinance or by-law in effect at the time of submission of the plan first submitted while such plan or plans are being processed ... [and] said provisions ... shall govern the land shown on such approved definitive plan, for a period of seven [now eight] years from the date of endorsement of such approval ... ." This language giving the land shown on a plan involving a subdivision protection against all subsequent zoning amendments for a seven [now eight] year period is obviously much more broad than the language of ... [the Zoning Act] covering land shown on a plan not involving a subdivision. We have already noted that the ... [Zoning Act] gives protection for a period of three years against zoning amendments relating to "the use of the land," and that this means protection only against the elimination of, or reduction in, the kinds of uses which were permitted when the plan was submitted to the planning board. ...
> The 1970 amendment to the zoning by-law did not eliminate the erection of apartment units from the list of permitted uses in a general business district, nor did it change the classification of the locus from that type of district to any other. It > changed the off street parking and loading requirements and the "Intensity Regulation Schedule" applicable to all new multiple dwelling units in a manner which, when applied to the locus, had the effect of reducing the maximum number of units which could be built on the locus from the previous 345 to 203, but that did not constitute or otherwise amount to a total or virtual prohibition of the use of the locus for apartment units. ...

> The 1971 amendment to the zoning by-law making the 1970 site plan approval provision applicable to the erection of multiple dwelling units makes no change in the kind of uses which the plaintiffs are permitted to make of the locus. It does not delegate to the board of selectmen any authority to withhold approval of those plans showing a proposed use of the locus for a purpose permitted by the by-law and other applicable legal provisions. Furthermore, the plaintiffs have submitted no site plan to the board of selectmen and we cannot be required to assume that the board will unreasonably or unlawfully withhold approval of such a plan when submitted. ...

Bellows Farm, 364 Mass. at 260-262 (emphasis added).

The Bellows Farms case established the principle that the protection afforded approval not required plans extends only to the types of uses permitted by the zoning bylaw at the time of the submission of the plan and not to the other applicable provisions of the bylaw. However, the court noted in Bellows Farms that the use protection would extend to certain changes in the zoning bylaw not directly relating to permissible uses, if the impact of such changes, as a practical matter, were to nullify the protection afforded to approval not required plans as authorized by the Zoning Act.

The court further stressed this "practical prohibition" theory in Cape Ann Land Development Corp v. City of Gloucester, 371 Mass. 19 (1976), where the city amended its zoning ordinance so that no shopping center could be constructed unless a special permit was obtained from the City Council. When Cape Ann had submitted its approval not required plan, a shopping center was permitted as a matter of right. The issue before the court was whether Cape Ann was required to obtain a special permit, and if so required, whether the City Council had the discretionary right to deny the special permit. The court held that Cape Ann was required to obtain a special permit, and the City Council could deny the special permit if Cape Ann failed to comply with the zoning ordinance except for those provisions of the ordinance that practically prohibited the shopping center use. The court warned the City Council that they could not decline to grant a special permit on the basis that the land will be used for a shopping center. However, the City Council could impose reasonable conditions which would not amount to a practical prohibition of the use. Later, in Marashlian v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Newburyport, 421 Mass. 719 (1996), a different result was reached when the Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court did not disturb a Superior Court judge's finding that a landowner was not required to obtain a special permit. In Marashlian, the use of the locus for a hotel was permitted as a matter of right at the time of the ANR endorsement. At a later date, the zoning was changed to require a special permit for hotel use. The Superior Court judge found that the use of the locus for a hotel was protected as of right and no special permit was required to allow the construction of a hotel.

In Cicatelli v. Board of Appeals of Wakefield, 57 Mass. App. Ct. 799 (2003), the court concluded that the impact of a dimensional regulation is gauged with respect to the subdivided parcel as a whole and not the individual lots. The Planning Board endorsed an ANR plan which created four lots out of a single parcel. At the time of the endorsement, a house was situated on one lot and the other three lots were undeveloped. Later, the Town amended its zoning bylaw by adopting a regulation referred to as the "front- to- back" amendment. This amendment provided, in pertinent part, that "no lot on which any building is located shall be divided or subdivided in such a way that the original front yard of such existing building shall face the rear yard of any proposed lot or lots." Two of the lots shown on the ANR plan did not comply with this provision. The landowner filed applications for building permits to construct houses on the two lots asserting that such uses were protected by the three year use freeze. The Zoning Board of Appeals upheld the Building Inspector's denials. It concluded that the "front- to back" amendment was a dimensional and not a use regulation and was therefore applicable to the land shown on the ANR plan. A Land Court judge affirmed the board's decision and the Massachusetts Appeals Court agreed.

CICATELLI V. BOARD OF APPEALS OF WAKEFIELD
57 Mass. App. Ct. 799 (2003)

Excerpts:

Laurence, J. …

> The judge rejected the plaintiff's contention that the board's application of the front-to-back amendment revealed its true nature as a de facto use regulation because it imposed a "virtual or total prohibition" of the protected residential use of lots 3 and 4. The judge reasoned that the phrase "use of the land shown on [the] plan" in G.L. c. 40A, s. 6 … meant that the zoning freeze attached to the original undivided parcel of land as a whole, rather than providing use protection for the individual subdivided lots. Consequently, the amendment precluded residential development on only half, not all, of that parcel. … .
> … [W]e agree entirely with the Land Court judge's determination that the Wakefield front-to-back amendment was a dimensional regulation, the application of which to the plaintiff's lots 3 and 4 did not impermissibly deprive him of the protection to which he was entitled under G.L. c. 40A, s. 6 … .

Cicatelli, 57 Mass. App. Ct. at 802-803, 805.

The Massachusetts Appeals Court held in Perry v. Building Inspector of Nantucket, 4 Mass. App. Ct. 467 (1976), that a proposed single family condominium development was not entitled to a three year grandfather protection from increased dimensional and intensity requirements. However, the court found that in applying the principle of the Bellows Farms case, relative to protection afforded by an approval not required plan for a use of land which is no longer authorized in the zoning district, a reasonable accommodation must be made by either applying the intensity regulation applicable to a related use within the zone or, alternatively, applying the intensity regulations which would apply to the protected use in a zoning district where that use is permitted. The court further noted that no hard and fast rule can be laid down, and reasonableness of the accommodation will depend on the facts of each case.

In Miller v. Board of Appeals of Canton, 8 Mass. App. Ct. 923 (1979), the Massachusetts Appeals Court held that uses authorized by special permit are also entitled to a three year protection period and that the use protection provisions of the Zoning Act are not confined to those uses which were permitted as a matter of right at the time of the submission of the approval not required plan.

Although it is possible that the Legislature intended to afford freeze protection only to ANR plans which have been recorded, the court, in Long v. Board of Appeals of Falmouth, 32 Mass. App. Ct. 232 (1992) held that nothing in the Zoning Act requires recording of a plan as a prerequisite for a zoning freeze. A landowner applied for a special permit to use a portion of his property for a dental office. The zoning bylaw would have allowed such use, subject to certain restrictions, with a special permit. The special permit application was accompanied by a plan showing the locus with proposed alterations to an existing structure, parking spaces, and other related features. While the Zoning Board of Appeals was reviewing the special permit application, the Planning Board published notice of a public hearing to consider an amendment to the zoning bylaw which would have made the locus ineligible for the special permit. Solely for the purpose of obtaining a zoning freeze, the landowner submitted a plan to the Planning Board seeking ANR endorsement. The plan, which was not the same plan submitted with the special permit application, showed two lots. The plan did not show a subdivision and the Planning Board gave the plan an ANR endorsement. The plan was never recorded.

LONG V. BOARD OF APPEALS OF FALMOUTH

32 Mass. App. Ct. 232 (1992)

Excerpts:

Fine, J. ...

> ... Although it is possible that the Legislature intended to afford freeze protection only to ANR-endorsed plans which are recorded in due course, nothing in G.L. C. 40A § 6, sixth par., requires recording of the plan as a prerequisite for a freeze. Only submission to the planning board and endorsement are referred to in the statute as prerequisites. ... The only proper basis under the statute for withholding an endorsement is that the plan shows a subdivision as defined in G.L. c. 41, § 81L, and Price's plan clearly did not show a subdivision. Application of a subjective test of intent to determine whether to endorse a plan would be inconsistent with the purpose of § 81P and the provision included within that no hearing be held. The test is, therefore, an objective one, and objectively the plan submitted, which showed two adjacent lots with adequate frontage, met the requirement for endorsement.

Second, the abutters claim that, because the plan submitted for ANR endorsement is different from the plan submitted with the application for a special permit, the endorsement did not entitle Price to a zoning freeze. It is true that the lot with respect to which Price sought the special permit is different from the lot with the proposed new boundary line shown on the endorsed plan. All the land with respect to which the special permit was sought, however, was included within the proposed new lot shown on the endorsed plan, and G.L. c. 40A, § 6, sixth par., provides a zoning freeze for "the use of the land shown on [the endorsed] plan" [emphasis added]. The difference in the plans, therefore, did not disqualify Price from benefiting from the freeze.

Third, the abutters argue that the freeze did not apply to the locus because much earlier, in accordance with a 1949 subdivision plan, the lot had been fully developed with a residential structure. Because G.L. c. 40A, § 6, sixth par., refers to freezes of the use of land, they argue, it does not apply to developed land. ... The purpose of the freeze provision is to protect a developer during the planning stage of a building project. ... One may wish to invest in the development of property in accordance with the applicable current zoning regulations whether or not some structure already exist on the property. Price certainly incurred expenses, for example, for the purchase of the property and the preparation of his special permit application, in reliance on the zoning regulations existing at the time he applied for the special permit. The presence of a structure on the property at the time of that application should not deprive him of the protection the freeze provision was designed to provide.

... The fact that Price's effort to obtain a special permit had almost reached fruition before the zoning by-law was changed makes us comfortable with the result we reach. We recognize, however, in general, the right to obtain a three- year zoning freeze by submitting a plan for ANR endorsement is very broad. As we interpret the statute, it has the potential for permitting a developer, or at least a sophisticated one, to frustrate municipal legislative intent by submitting a plan not for any purpose > related to subdivision control and not as a preliminary to a conveyance or recording, but solely for the purpose of obtaining a freeze. Any overbreadth in the protection afforded by the statute, however, will have to be cured by the Legislature.

Long, 32 Mass. App. Ct. at 235-238, FN7 (emphasis added).

In Wolk v. Planning Board of Stoughton, 4 Mass. App. Ct. 812 (1976), the court found no basis in the language or history of the old section 7A zoning freezes of the Zoning Enabling Act, which are now found in section 6 of the Zoning Act, permitting the freeze provisions to be combined in a "piggy-back" fashion. Wolk had an ANR plan endorsed by the Planning Board prior to a zoning change being adopted which would have applied to his property. Wolk argued unsuccessfully that the ANR zoning freeze protected his land in such a manner so as to allow him to submit, within the ANR freeze period, a preliminary or subdivision plan which would be governed by the provisions of the old zoning bylaw.

ANR AND THE COMMON LOT PROTECTION

The fourth paragraph of Chapter 40A, Section 6, MGL, protects certain residential lots from increased dimensional requirements to a zoning bylaw or ordinance. The first sentence protects separate ownership lots and the second sentence affords protection for lots held in common ownership.

In Sieber v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Wellfleet, l6 Mass. App. Ct. 90l (l983), the Massachusetts Appeals Court determined that the separate lot protection provisions protect a lot if it: l) has at least 5,000 square feet and fifty feet of frontage; 2) is in an area zoned for single or two-family use; 3) conformed to existing zoning when legally created, if any; and 4) is in separate ownership prior to the town meeting vote which made the lot nonconforming. At a later date, the Massachusetts Supreme Court reached the same conclusion in Adamowicz v. Town of Ipswich, 395 Mass. 757 (l985).

The second sentence of the fourth paragraph of Section 6 which provides protection for common ownership lots was inserted into the Zoning Act in l979 (see St. l979, c. l06). As enacted, the "grandfather" protection for common ownership lots provides as follows:

> Any increase in area, frontage, width, yard or depth requirement of a zoning ordinance or bylaw shall not apply for a period of five years from its effective date or for five years after January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-six, whichever is later, to a lot for single and two family residential use, provided the plan for such lot was recorded or endorsed and such lot was held in common ownership with any adjoining land and conformed to the existing zoning requirements as of January first, nineteen hundred and seventy-six, and had less area, frontage, width, yard or depth requirements than the newly effective zoning requirements but contained at least seven thousand five hundred square feet of area and seventy-five feet of frontage, and provided that said five year period does not commence prior to January first nineteen hundred and seventy-six, and provided further that the provisions of this sentence shall not apply to more than three of such adjoining lots held in common ownership.

The Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court found in Baldiga v. Board of Appeals of Uxbridge, 395 Mass. 829 (l985), that the grandfather provision for common ownership lots is not limited to lots which were created by a plan and recorded or endorsed by January l, l976. The court's interpretation of the common lot provision provides a unique opportunity to landowners and developers.

In Baldiga, the plaintiff had purchased three lots in the town of Uxbridge. The lots were shown on a plan, dated February 20, l979, which contained the Planning Board's endorsement "Approval Under the Subdivision Control Law Not Required." At the time of the Planning Board's endorsement, the three lots conformed with the requirements of the zoning bylaw that single-family building lots have a minimum frontage of 200 feet, and a minimum lot area of one acre.

On May l3, l980, the Town amended its zoning bylaw requiring that single-family building lots have a minimum frontage of 300 feet and a minimum lot area of two acres. In October, l983, the plaintiff filed building permit applications for the three lots. The Building Inspector denied the applications. The plaintiff appealed to the Zoning Board of Appeals, and the Board denied the plaintiff's appeal because the lots did not meet the 300 foot frontage requirement that had been adopted by the town meeting in l980.

Both the town and the plaintiff agreed that, at all relevant times, the three lots were held in common ownership, and that the lots complied with the zoning in effect at the time of the Planning Board's endorsement, as well as to the zoning requirements in existence as of January l, l976. However, the town contended that the plaintiff's lots were not entitled to "grandfather rights" since the plan for such lots was not "recorded or endorsed" as of January l, l976. The plaintiff argued that the lots were entitled to zoning protection since the phrase "as of January l, l976," only qualifies the condition that the lots conform with zoning requirements as of that date, and that lots shown on a plan "recorded or endorsed" after January l, l976 are entitled to a zoning freeze.

BALDIGA V. BOARD OF APPEALS OF UXBRIDGE

395 Mass. 829 (l985)

Excerpts:

Abrams, J. ...

> We agree with the plaintiff. ... the first part of the second sentence of section 6 entitles an owner of property to an exemption from any increase in minimum lot size required by a zoning ordinance or bylaw for a period of five years from its effective date or for five years after January l, l976, "whichever is later." ...We conclude ... that "the statute looks to the most recent instrument of record prior to the effective date of the zoning change." If we were to interpret the "as of January l, l976," clause as qualifying the "plan recorded or endorsed" condition, it would negate the effect of the words "whichever is later." As we read the statute, the phrase "as of January l, l976," only modifies the condition immediately preceding, that requiring conformity with zoning laws.
> We reject the town's contention that the statute's use of the word "conformed," rather than "conforms," to precede the phrase "to the existing zoning requirements as of > January l, l976," suggests that the plan and the lot must not only conform at some later date to the zoning requirements in effect on January l, l976, but also must have been in existence in l976 and conformed to the zoning requirements at that time. The town's argument ignores the fact that the statutory language consistently uses the past tense to describe all of the conditions needed for a lot to qualify for "grandfather" protection. The word "conformed" is thus appropriate in the context of the statutory provision as a whole and does not specifically signify that the lot or plan must have existed before l976. ...

> The town also argues that the interpretation proposed by the plaintiff would permit the practice of "checkerboarding" as a means of avoiding compliance with local zoning requirements. This result, the town asserts, would contravene the recognition by the new G.L. c. 40A, ... of local autonomy in dealing with land use and zoning issues. However, the specific purpose of the disputed sentence ... was to grant "grandfather rights" to owners of certain lots of land. If we accept the town's interpretation, the ability to checkerboard two or three parcels would be eliminated as of January l, l976. But there also would be a substantial reduction in "grandfather rights," a result which is inconsistent with the general purposes of the fourth paragraph of section 6, which is "concerned with protecting a once valid lot from being rendered unbuildable for residential purposes, assuming the lot meets modest minimum area ... and frontage ... requirements... .
> We thus conclude that the second sentence of the fourth paragraph of G.L. C. 40A, s. 6, does not require that the plan of the lot in question be recorded or endorsed before January l, l976. We also conclude that for lots to be entitled to a five-year exemption from the requirements of a zoning amendment, pursuant to the second sentence of the fourth paragraph of G.L. C. 40A, s.6, the plan showing the lots must have been endorsed or recorded before the effective date of the amendment.

Baldiga, 395 Mass. at 833-835 (emphasis added).

Through the years, one prime concern of the Legislature has been to protect certain divisions of land from future increases in local zoning requirements. Zoning protection for subdivisions and non-subdivision plans has always been measured from the date of the Planning Board's endorsement. However, the common ownership freeze runs from the effective date of the zoning amendment and not from the date the Planning Board endorsed the plan.

The interpretation of the common ownership grandfather protection by the Massachusetts Appeals Court opens doors which would otherwise not be available to landowners. Since the freeze period does not commence until the effective date of the zoning amendment, having a plan recorded or endorsed guarantees a landowner a future five-year zoning exemption from increased dimensional requirements to single or two-family use.

The interpretation by the Massachusetts Appeals Court has increased the protection afforded "Approval Not Required Plans." In addition to land being protected from use changes to the zoning bylaw or ordinance, the lots shown on such plans will also be protected from increased dimensional requirements to single and two-family use if they meet the conditions for common ownership protection.

The common ownership zoning freeze protects no more than three adjoining lots from increases in area, frontage, width, yard, or depth requirements to a lot for single or two-family use. In order for a lot to qualify for the grandfather protection, it must meet the following conditions:

1. The lot must be shown on a plan which is either recorded or endorsed before the effective date of the increased zoning requirements.

2. The lot must have at least 7,500 square feet of area and at least 75 feet of frontage.

3. The lot must comply with applicable zoning requirements when recorded or endorsed and conform to the zoning requirements in effect as of January l, l976.

4. The lot must have been held in common ownership with any adjoining land before the effective date of the increased zoning requirements.

In Marinelli v. Board of Appeals of Stoughton, 440 Mass. 255 (2003), the Town argued that when a landowner owns more than three lots in common ownership, the common lot protection does not apply to any of the lots. Under this interpretation of the statute, if a landowner owns two or three adjacent lots, all of the lots are protected, but if a landowner owns four or more adjacent lots, none of the lots are protected. A Land Court judge rejected this argument and interpreted the statute to mean that if a landowner owns four or more adjacent lots, the common lot protection applies to the first three lots for which protection is sought. The Massachusetts Supreme Judicial Court agreed and noted that the plain language of the common lot protection does not exclude landowners of four or more lots from the protection but merely limits the number of lots for which any owner can obtain such protection. The Town also contended that the common lot protection requires common ownership of the lot at the time of the building permit application. The Court also disagreed and concluded that lots held in common ownership at the effective date of the zoning change are grandfathered under the common lot protection for five years whether or not they remain in common ownership at the time of a subsequent building permit application.

ANR AND COMMON DRIVEWAYS

Case law has established that each lot shown on an ANR plan must be able to access onto the way from the designated frontage. For example, in McCarthy v. Planning Board of Edgartown, 381 Mass. 86 (1980), the Massachusetts Supreme Court upheld the denial of an ANR plan because the landowner could not access his proposed lots to the public road shown on the plan. The Martha's Vineyard Commission had adopted a regulation which was in force in the town of Edgartown. The regulation required that any additional vehicular access (driveways) to a public road had to be at least 1,000 feet apart. McCarthy had submitted an ANR plan to the Planning Board. The Edgartown Zoning Bylaw required a minimum lot frontage of 100 feet. Each lot shown on McCarthy's plan had the required frontage on a public road. However, the Planning Board denied the requested ANR endorsement. The Planning Board contended that the Martha's Vineyard Commission's vehicular access regulation deprived the lots practical access as driveways could not be constructed to the public way. Therefore, the proposed lots did not have the type of frontage required by the Subdivision Control Law for the purposes of an ANR endorsement. The Massachusetts Supreme Court agreed with the Planning Board. See also Hrenchuk v. Planning Board of Walpole, 8 Mass. App. Ct. 949 (1979), where the Massachusetts Appeals Court held that lots abutting a limited access highway did not have the required frontage on a way for the purpose of an ANR endorsement.

All lots shown on an ANR plan must be able to provide vehicular access to a way from the designated frontage. However, what happens when a landowner proposes to construct a common driveway rather than individual driveways to a way?

1. Is a proposed common driveway a relevant factor in determining whether a plan is entitled to an ANR endorsement?

2. In reviewing an ANR plan, does the Planning Board have the authority to make a determination that a proposed common driveway provides the necessary vital access to each lot?

The Massachusetts Appeals Court took a look at both questions in Fox v. Planning Board of Milton, 24 Mass. App. Ct. 572 (1987). Robert Fox owned a parcel of land which abutted the Neponset Valley Parkway. Fox submitted a plan to the Planning Board for an ANR endorsement. The plan showed the division of his parcel into four lots. Each lot abutted parkway land for a distance of 150 feet which was the minimum frontage requirement of the Milton Zoning Bylaw. The proposed lots were separated from the paved portion of the parkway by a greenbelt which was approximately 175 feet wide. However, Fox had obtained an access permit from the Metropolitan District Commission for a "T" shaped common driveway connecting, at the base, to the paved road and, at the top, to the four lots where they abutted the greenbelt. The proposed common driveway was shown on the ANR plan. The Planning Board denied endorsement ruling that the plan showed a subdivision. Fox appealed.

The Planning Board, in denying its endorsement, relied on a line of previous court cases which have held that the frontage on a public way required by the Subdivision Control Law must be frontage that offers serviceable access from the buildable portion of the lot to the public way on which the lot fronts. In the Board's view, Fox's parcel was effectively blocked from the paved roadway by the greenbelt so that his proposal was essentially for the development of back land. Therefore, the Planning Board contended that the proposed common access driveway should be subject to their regulations governing the construction of roads in subdivisions.

The two issues before the court were:

1. whether the parcel in question had a right of access over the greenbelt to the parkway; and

2. whether the proposed common driveway would prevent Fox from obtaining an ANR endorsement from the Planning Board.

As to the question of access, the court found that Fox had rights of access to the Neponset Valley Parkway. Chapter 288 of the Acts of 1894 authorized the Metropolitan Park Commissioners to take land for the construction of parkways and boulevards. Pursuant to this authority, the Metropolitan Park Commissioners took land in 1904 to construct the Neponset Valley Parkway. In Anzalone v. Metropolitan District Commission, 257 Mass. 32 (1926), the court ruled that in contrast to roadways constructed within public parks, roadways constructed under the 1894 statute were public ways to which abutting owners had a common-law right of access. Anzalone also noted that if land, adjacent to roadways which were constructed under the authority of the 1894 statute, was divided into separate ownership lots, then each lot owner would have a right of access from his lot to the roadway. The court concluded that Fox's right of access to the parkway was not impaired or limited by the substantial intervening greenbelt. Since each of the proposed lots shown on the plan had a guaranteed right of access to the parkway, Fox argued that the construction of a common driveway rather than four individual driveways should be of no concern to the Planning Board when reviewing an ANR plan. The court agreed.

FOX V. PLANNING BOARD OF MILTON
24 Mass. App. Ct. 572 (1987)

Excerpts:

Armstrong, J. . . .

> The proposed common driveway is not relevant to determining whether Fox's plan shows a subdivision. If all the lots have the requisite frontage on a public way, and the availability of access implied by that frontage is not shown to be illusory in fact, it is of no concern to a planning board that the developer may propose a common driveway, rather than individual driveways, perhaps for aesthetic reasons or reasons of cost. The Subdivision Control Law is concerned with access to the lot, not to the house; there is nothing in it that prevents owners from choosing, if they are so inclined, to build their houses far from the road, with no provision for vehicular access, so long as their lots have the frontage that makes such access possible. See Gallitano v. Board of Survey & Planning of Waltham, 10 Mass. App. Ct. at 272-273. Here, each of the proposed lots has the frontage called for by the Milton by-law. Under the Anzalone case each has a guaranteed right of access to the road itself. These facts satisfy the requirements of Section 81L.

Fox, 24 Mass. App. Ct. at 574-575 (emphasis added).

The Fox decision provides valuable insight concerning common driveways and vital access. Ask the following questions when reviewing ANR plans and proposed common driveways.

1. Do all the proposed building lots have the frontage on an acceptable way as defined in Chapter 41, Section 81L, MGL?

2. Is access to any of the lots from such frontage illusory in nature? The lot frontage must provide practical access to the way or public way. A lot condition which would prevent practical access over the front lot line such as a steep slope is an appropriate matter for a Planning Board to consider before endorsing an ANR plan. See DiCarlo v. Planning Board of Wayland, 19 Mass. App. Ct. 911 (1984); Corcoran v. Planning Board of Sudbury, 406 Mass. 248 (1989); Poulos v. Planning Board of Braintree, 413 Mass. 359 (1992).

3. Does the proposed common driveway access over the frontage shown on the ANR plan to the acceptable way or public way? Access obtained by way of easement over a side or rear lot line is not authorized unless approved by the Planning Board. See DiCarlo v. Planning Board of Wayland, supra.

An issue that the Fox decision did not address was the question of zoning. Just because a proposed division of land may be entitled to an ANR endorsement for the purposes of the Subdivision Control Law does not mean that the lots or a proposed common driveway are buildable under the provisions of the local zoning bylaw. An ANR endorsement gives the lots no standing under the zoning bylaw. See Smalley v. Planning Board of Harwich, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 599 (1980).

Access roadways are a use of land which must conform to the provisions of the local zoning bylaw. This issue first came to light when, in 1954, the town of Braintree amended its zoning map by changing a large parcel of land from a residential district to an industrial district. The rezoning resulted in creating an industrial district which was entirely surrounded by residential zoning districts. Textron Industries purchased a tract of land in which the major portion was located in the industrial district and constructed a factory. Textron also constructed roadways for access to the factory built in the industrial zone. However, the access roadways passed through residential zoning districts. Tredwell Harrison, an abutter, sought enforcement action as to the construction of the access roadways and requested their relocation. Textron argued that the access over the residential land was necessarily implicit in a zoning scheme which completely surrounds industrial areas with residentially zoned land and pointed out that without access across the residentially zoned land, the industrially zoned land could not be used for the purposes intended in an industrial district. In Harrison v. Building Inspector of Braintree, 350 Mass. 559 (1966), the court found that since the residential zone did not expressly authorize industrial use, then the use of land in the residential zone as an access roadway for an industrial use violated the requirements of a residential zone. The court did not rule on Textron's claim that the 1954 amendment was an unreasonable classification of the industrial land without the necessary access as there was no statutory basis for modifying the requirements of the residential zone to make reasonable the classification in the industrial zone. The court noted that if the 1954 amendment was invalid because of unreasonable classification it would appear that the residential land, as well as the industrial land, would remain residential. In deciding against Textron, the court delayed any order for compliance with the zoning bylaw to allow the town of Braintree an opportunity to determine whether to provide legal access to the land in the industrial zone.

The issue of the Textron access roadways would be considered in two more court cases. Eventually, however, the problem would be solved when the town accepted the access ways as town ways. See Harrison v. Braintree, 355 Mass. 651 (1969); Harrison v. Textron, Inc., 367 Mass. 540 (1975).

Since the first Harrison decision, there have been other cases which have looked at the issue of access roadways and their relationship to local zoning. Richardson v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Framingham, 351 Mass. 375 (1966), dealt with an access way for a forty-four unit apartment house.

The access roadway was located on land zoned for single family. An apartment house was not listed as a permitted use in a single family zone. The Zoning Board of Appeals had determined that the implied intent of the zoning bylaw was to allow access roadways in single family zones. The court overturned the Board's decision reasoning that access roadways should be expressly dealt with in the zoning bylaw. The court also noted that other access was available to the apartment building.

In Building Inspector of Dennis v. Harvey, 2 Mass. App. Ct. 584 (1974), the court found that the use of land lying within a residential zone as an access roadway for commercial use located in an unrestricted zone was not authorized by the zoning bylaw. As was the case in Richardson, other access was available to the property.

Sometimes a tract of land will be divided by a municipal boundary. Town of Chelmsford v. Byrne, 6 Mass. App. Ct. 848 (1978) involved access to industrially zoned property located in the city of Lowell by means of an access road which was located in a residential zone in the town of Chelmsford. The court held that the principle established in the first Harrison case that an owner of land in an industrial district may not use land in an adjacent residential zone as access roadways for its industrial use is also controlling when districts zoned for different uses lie in different municipalities. However, the access roadway was the only means of access to the industrial land. The court remanded the case to the Superior Court for a determination whether the effect of the Chelmsford bylaw was to bar any access to the land located in Lowell for a lawful use.

In Lapenas v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Brockton, 352 Mass. 530 (1967), the court faced the situation where a tract of land consisting of a strip from 14-23 feet wide was located in an area of the city of Brockton which was zoned residential, and the remainder of the parcel was located in the town of Abington and zoned for business. The only access to the business portion of the land was through the residentially zoned strip located in Brockton. Lapenas sought a variance under the Brockton ordinance for access to a gasoline station for which the Building Inspector in Abington had issued a building permit. The variance was denied by the Zoning Board of Appeals. The court held that the Zoning Board of Appeals' interpretation of the Brockton ordinance was in error and could not be construed as prohibiting access to the land located in Abington. Even though a variance was not considered necessary, the court found that since the land in the residential zone was too narrow to be useable for any permitted purpose, and the commercially zoned land in Abington was without access, Lapenas was entitled to relief from the literal operation of the Brockton zoning ordinance.

If a local zoning bylaw remains silent relative to the use of land for a common driveway, then the zoning enforcement officer will have to determine whether a proposed common driveway would be an allowable accessory use. In order to make this interpretation we believe, as a minimum, each lot would have to access over its own frontage. In its report to the General Court relative to restricting the zoning power to city and town governments, (see 1968 Senate No. 1133, at 107) the Legislative Research Council noted that one of the primary purposes of zoning frontage requirements for residential lots is to “assure adequate access of these lots to the street which faces them ... .”

The Land Court has not looked favorably towards the use of land for a common driveway where the zoning bylaw has not expressly authorized common driveways. In Litchfield Company, Inc. v. Board of Appeals of the City of Woburn, Misc. Case No. 199971 (August 5, 1997), the court held that if the intent of the City's zoning ordinance was to permit residential driveways to access streets from lot lines other than the front lot line, the ordinance should have been so written. In the absence of a zoning provision authorizing a common driveway, the prohibition stated in the zoning ordinance that "no use of land not specified in this zoning ordinance shall be permitted" must be enforced. In RHB Development, Inc. v. Duxbury Zoning Board of Appeals, Misc. Case No. 237281 (September 19, 1997), the court concluded that "it strains credulity past the breaking point to suggest that common driveways are permitted as an accessory use to a residential use, as a matter of right and without limitations, where (i) such a common driveway is not expressly authorized anywhere in the by-law, (ii) accessory uses to a residential use are required to be 'on the same lot,' (iii) common driveways for 'cluster' developments require a special permit and are limited to serving no more than two dwellings, and (iv) driveways serving as part of mandated parking facilities are required to be on the same lot."

To assist the zoning enforcement officer in interpreting your local zoning ordinance or bylaw we would suggest that communities adopt zoning provisions either authorizing or prohibiting common driveways. If you choose to permit common driveways, consider the following regulations.

1. Authorize common driveways through the issuance of a special permit.

2. Limit the number of lots that may be accessed by a common driveway.

3. Specify that common driveways may never be used to satisfy zoning frontage requirements.

4. Establish construction standards for common driveways.

5. Require that common driveways access over approved frontage.

6. Designate a maximum length for common driveways.

81L EXEMPTION

Whether a plan is entitled to be endorsed "approval under the Subdivision Control Law not required" is determined by the definition of "subdivision" found in Chapter 41, Section 81L, MGL. Included in this definition is the following exemption:

> . . . the division of a tract of land on which two or more buildings were standing when the subdivision control law went into effect in the city or town in which the land lies into separate lots on each of which one of such buildings remains standing, shall not constitute a subdivision.

The original versions of the Subdivision Control Law, as appearing in St. 1936, c. 211, and St. 1947, c. 340, did not contain this exemption. It was added in a 1953 general revision of the law by St. 1953, c. 674, s.7. The purpose of the exemption is not clear but the Report of the Special Commission on Planning and Zoning, 1953 House Doc. No. 2249, at 54, shows that the drafters were aware of what they were doing, although it does not explain their reasons.

The main issue dealing with the 81L exemption has been the interpretation of the term "buildings." The legislation is unclear as to what types of structures had to be in existence prior to the Subdivision Control Law taking effect in a community in order to qualify for the exemption. There were no reported cases dealing with this exclusion until Citgo Petroleum Corporation v. Planning Board of Braintree, 24 Mass. App. Ct. 425 (1987).

Citgo owned a parcel of some 68 acres of land which contained a number of buildings. Clean Harbors leased eleven acres of the parcel for a hazardous waste terminal and reached an agreement with Citgo to buy the eleven acres. Citgo prepared a plan dividing the parcel into two lots each containing several buildings. Citgo’s contention was that the buildings existed before the Subdivision Control Law went into effect in Braintree and thus the plan was not a subdivision because of the 81L exemption. The Planning Board denied ANR endorsement because the lot to be conveyed to Clean Harbors lacked the necessary frontage. The Board took the position that a literal reading of the term “building” would undercut the purposes the Subdivision Control Law by allowing a landowner to use any detached garage, shed or other outbuilding as a basis for unrestricted backland development.

CITGO PETROLEUM CORP. V. PLANNING BOARD OF BRAINTREE
24 Mass. App. Ct. 425 (1987)

Excerpts:

Armstrong, J. . . .

> The defendants argue that a literal reading of this exception would completely undercut the purposes of the Subdivision Control Law, as set out in G.L. c. 41, section 81M, by allowing a homeowner to use any detached garage, shed, or other outbuilding as a basis for unrestricted backland development. There are several replies. First, this language in section 81L is not the result of legislative oversight. . . . Second, just because a lot can be divided under this exception does not mean that the resulting lots will be buildable under the zoning ordinance. Smalley v. Planning Board of Harwich, 10 Mass. App. Ct. 599, 603 (1980). Third, the lots in this case are being used for distinct, independent business operations, and the preexisting buildings relied upon the main office, the underwriter's pump house/machine shop, the wax plant building, the earth burner building, and the new yard office - are substantial buildings. A claim that a detached garage or a chicken house or woodshed qualifies under this exception might present a different case. Finally, a building, to qualify under this provision, must have been in existence when the Subdivision Control Law went into effect in the town. It is too late for speculators to buy tracts of back land, cover them with shacks, and divide them into lots accordingly. In short, we see no sufficient reason to refuse application of the plain language of the exclusion in this case.

Citgo Petroleum Corp., 24 Mass. App. Ct. at 426-427.

What constitutes a "substantial building" is still unclear. However, a landowner may have a problem arguing that a garage, woodshed or chicken house are buildings that would qualify under the 81L exemption. In Taylor v. Pembroke Planning Board, (Plymouth) Misc. Case No. 126703, 1990, Judge Fenton of the Land Court determined that in order to qualify for the 81L exemption, the use of a building is no way controlling on the issue. An 88.6 foot by 30.8 foot cement block building with its own cesspool and electricity that had been used to store automobiles and as a turkey farm was found to be a substantial building.

Can a single-family home be treated as a lawful nonconforming structure when the nonconformity is created under the 81L exemption? The Massachusetts Appeals Court considered this issue in Branagan v. Zoning Board of Appeals of Falmouth, 75 Mass. App. Ct. 1107 (2009). Branagan argued that a single-family home on a lot created under the 81L exemption retained its status as a preexisting nonconforming structure. The panel observed that nothing in the governing bylaw, statutes, or appellate decisions supports a conclusion that a dwelling remaining on a lot created under the 81L exemption acquires protected status as a preexisting nonconforming structure and rejected Branagan's argument that the single-family home enjoys protection as a preexisting nonconforming structure. This decision was issued by the Appeals Court pursuant to its rule 1:28. A rule 1:28 decision may be cited for it persuasive value but not as binding precedent.

PERIMETER PLANS

A perimeter plan is a plan of land showing existing property lines, with no new lines drawn indicating a division of land. Such plans are usually filed so that the property owner can obtain a three year zoning protection for the land shown on such plan.

The Subdivision Control Law is a comprehensive scheme for regulating the creation of new lots and for the recording of plans showing such new lots. There are three sections of the Subdivision Control Law which are relevant to the perimeter plan issue.

1. Section 81L which defines the term "subdivision" as well as divisions of land that will not be considered a subdivision.

2. Section 81P which sets out the procedure for endorsement of plans not requiring subdivision approval.

3. Section 81X which provides a procedure for recording plans which show no new lot lines.

The first paragraph of Section 81X states:

> Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions of this section, the register of deeds shall accept for recording and the land court shall accept with a petition for registration or confirmation of title any plan bearing a certificate by a registered land surveyor that the property lines shown are the lines dividing existing ownerships, and the lines of streets and ways shown are those of public or private streets or ways already established, and that no new lines for division of existing ownerships or for new ways are shown.

Perimeter plans can be recorded pursuant to Chapter 41, Section 81X, MGL. Such plans, however, are not entitled to the three year zoning protection found in Chapter 40A, Section 6, MGL. Chapter 41 is only concerned with the recordation of plans and what plans require Planning Board approval or endorsement. Chapter 41 does not deal with zoning protection.

If it were not for the fact that ANR plans are entitled to a zoning protection pursuant to the provisions of the Zoning Act, there probably would have been little interest whether a perimeter plan should receive an ANR endorsement.

Should a perimeter plan be recorded only with a certificate of a registered land surveyor under Section 81X or is a perimeter plan entitled to an ANR endorsement from the Planning Board pursuant to Section 81L and 81P?

In Horne v. Board of Appeals, Town of Chatham, Barnstable Superior Court C.A. No. 4635, November 3, 1986 (Dolan J.), a landowner obtained an ANR endorsement to protect his property from a zoning change. The Planning Board had endorsed the plan which depicted one lot with the exact dimensions and bounds shown on an earlier plan registered with the land court. In finding that the Planning Board had mistakenly endorsed the plan, the court noted:

> As a matter of law, the plaintiffs cannot file their April, 1985, plan in the Land Court. The plan is not a subdivision nor is it a division of land with "approval not required". Lot No. 91 was created in 1960 and registered as noted. As far as the Land Court would be concerned, its status has not changed since 1960. As a matter of law, the Planning Board should not have endorsed the April, 1985, plan. Nevertheless, the action of the Planning Board was not appealed and the legality of its action is not before this Court for review. Once a plan has been endorsed 'approval not required', the Court cannot go behind that endorsement unless the action of the board is before the Court for review. As a matter of law, the plaintiffs are entitled to the three-year protection despite the method by which same was derived. In an exercise of judicial constraint, I make no comment on the methods utilized and with judicial reluctance enter this judgment.

In Horne, the landowner succeeded in protecting his property from the zoning change because the Court could not revoke the Planning Board's endorsement since the issue was not properly before the Court. However, in Malden Trust Company v. Twomey, Middlesex Superior Court C.A No. 6574, September 28, 1989 (McDaniel J.), the Planning Commission declined to endorse a plan "ANR" which showed no new property lines. In upholding the Commission's decision not to endorse the plan, the court noted:

> . . ., it should be clear that the purpose of section 81P is to relieve certain divisions of land of regulation and approval by a planning board when a proposed plan indicates that newly created lots will be guaranteed access to the outside world by preexisting ways or roads. In sum, section 81P facilitates the recording process, and was "not intended to enlarge the substantive powers of a [planning] board." Thus, when section 81P states that "an endorsement shall not be withheld unless such plan shows a subdivision," it is clear from the above discussion that the Legislature intended to expedite the recording of 'non-subdivision' plans, and not to encourage the filing under section 81P of plans showing no subdivision of lots whatsoever. . . .

> Plaintiff's plan shows no division of land and hence there is no need for the verification process of section 81P. Moreover, plaintiff's plan may have easily been filed under section 81X. It is clear that plaintiff instead sought section 81P endorsement to achieve the advantage of the zoning protection provided under G.L. c. 40A, section 6 to those plans endorsed ANR under section 81P. Withholding comment on this tactic, the Court simply states that plaintiff's perimeter plan is properly filed under section 81X, not section 81P. Consequently, the defendant was never under an obligation to endorse plaintiff's plan under section 81P.

In Costello v. Planning Board of Westport, (Bristol) Misc. Case No. 152765, 1991 (Sullivan, J.), a Land Court Judge decided that perimeter plans are entitled to an ANR endorsement. In her opinion, Judge Sullivan determined that Section 81P of the Subdivision Control Law, provides for such an endorsement. Judge Sullivan summarized that:

> Nothing in the statute requires the conclusion that only divisions of land which are deemed by virtue of the provisions of G.L. c. 41, § 81L not to constitute a subdivision were entitled to such an endorsement. The plain language says otherwise, and as it presently reads, a perimeter plan must be endorsed by the Board.

It should be noted that the Costello, Twomey, and Horne cases were not controlling on the issue as a higher court is not required to follow an opinion written by a lower court. There had been several appellate decisions acknowledging planning board endorsement of perimeter plans. Cape Ann Development Corp. v. Gloucester, 371 Mass. 19 (1976); Wolk v. Planning Board of Stoughton, 4 Mass. App. Ct. 812 (1976); Sampson v. San Land Development Corp., 17 Mass. App. Ct. 977 (1984); Stampfl v. zoning Board of Appeals of Norwood, 33 Mass. App. Ct. 354 (1992); Regan v. Planning Board of Braintree, 37 Mass. App. Ct.956 (1994); Stefanick v. Planning Board of Uxbridge, 39 Mass. App. Ct. 418 (1995).

In Cumberland Farms, Inc. v. Planning Board of West Bridgewater, 64 Mass. App. Ct. 902 (2005), the Massachusetts Appeals Court decided that perimeter plans are entitled to ANR endorsement.

CUMBERLAND FARMS, INC. v. PLANNING BOARD OF WEST BRIDGEWATER

Excerpts:

> The judge correctly reversed the action of West Bridgewater's planning board refusing to endorse the plaintiff's "perimeter plan" … as one not requiring approval under the Subdivision Control Law. (The parties refer to the plan as a "perimeter plan"; it does, however, alter boundary lines by consolidating several lots owned by > the plaintiff intro a single lot). The plaintiff acknowledges that the plan was submitted to forestall application of a proposed zoning provision prohibiting gasoline service stations in the zoning district by invoking the three-year zoning freeze … .The plaintiff's motivation, however, was irrelevant to the decision before the board … and the argument that perimeter plans, because they do not contain new lines indicating a division of land, are ineligible for submission and endorsement under Section 81P flies in the face of decades of contrary practice.

PROCESS FOR APPROVING BUILDING LOTS LACKING ADEQUATE FRONTAGE

Frequently a landowner wishes to create a building lot which will not meet the minimum frontage requirement of the local zoning bylaw. As a Building Inspector, or member of a Planning Board or Zoning Board of Appeals, you have probably been asked by a local property owner what he or she must do to get approval for a building lot which does not meet the frontage requirement specified in the local zoning bylaw.

In Seguin v. Planning Board of Upton, 33 Mass. App. Ct. 374 (1992), the Massachusetts Appeals Court reviewed the process for approving building lots lacking the necessary frontage.

The Seguins wished to divide their property into two lots for single family use. One lot had the required frontage on a paved public way. The other lot had 98.44 feet of frontage on the same public way. The Seguins applied for and were granted a variance from the 100 foot frontage requirement of the Upton Zoning Bylaw. Upon obtaining the variance, the Seguins submitted a plan to the Planning Board seeking the Board's endorsement that approval under the Subdivision Control Law was not required. The Planning Board denied endorsement on the ground that one of the lots shown on the plan lacked the frontage required by the Upton Zoning Bylaw. Rather than resubmitting the plan as a subdivision plan for approval by the Planning Board pursuant to Section 81U of the Subdivision Control Law, the Seguins appealed the Planning Board's denial of the ANR endorsement.

Whether a plan requires approval or not rests with the definition of "subdivision" as found in MGL, Chapter 41, Section 81L. A "subdivision" is defined in Section 81L as the "division of a tract of land into two or more lots," but there is an exception to this definition. A division of land will not constitute a "subdivision" if, at the time it is made, every lot within the tract so divided has the required frontage on a certain type of way. MGL, Chapter 41, Section 81L states that a subdivision is:

> the division of a tract of land into two or more lots...[except where] every lot within the tract so divided has frontage...of at least such distance as is then required by zoning...ordinance or by-law if any...and if no distance is so required, such frontage shall be of at least twenty feet.

The only pertinent zoning requirement for determining whether a plan depicts a subdivision is frontage. The Seguins argued that the words "frontage...of at least such distance as is then required by zoning...by-law" should be read as referring to the 98.44 foot frontage allowed by the Zoning Board's variance, with the result that each lot shown on the plan had the required frontage. In making their argument that their plan was entitled to an ANR endorsement, the Seguins relied on previous court cases which had held that the required frontage requirement of the Subdivision Control Law is met when a special permit is granted approving a reduction in lot frontage from what is normally required in the zoning district.

In Haynes v. Grasso, 353 Mass. 731 (1968), the court reviewed a zoning bylaw provision which had been adopted by the town of Needham. The bylaw empowered the Board of Appeals to grant special permits authorizing a reduction from the minimum lot area and frontage requirements of the bylaw. Before granting such special permits, the Board of Appeals had to make one of the following findings:

> a. Adjoining areas have been previously developed by the construction of buildings or structures on lots generally smaller than is prescribed by (the bylaw) and the standard of the neighborhood so established does not reasonably require a subdivision of the applicant's land into lots as large as (required by the bylaw).
> b. Lots as large as (required by the bylaw) would not be readily saleable and could not be economically or advantageously used for building purposes because of the proximity of the land to through ways bearing heavy traffic, or to a railroad, or because of other physical conditions or characteristics affecting it but not affecting generally the zoning district.

The Board of Appeals granted a special permit which authorized the creation of two lots having less lot area and frontage than normally required by the zoning bylaw. On appeal, it was argued that the creation of the two lots was a matter within the jurisdiction of the Planning Board because the division of land creating lots lacking the necessary frontage was governed by the Subdivision Control Law. The court ruled that the Planning Board did not have jurisdiction as there was no subdivision of land requiring approval under the Subdivision Control Law. The court found that the requirement that each lot has frontage of at least such distance as required by the zoning bylaw was met by the granting of the special permit. The court further noted that this was not a variance from the zoning law but a special application of its terms.

The court reached the same conclusion in Adams v. Board of Appeals of Concord, 356 Mass. 709 (1970), where the Concord Zoning Bylaw authorized the Board of Appeals to approve garden apartment developments having less than the minimum frontage requirement of the bylaw. The court found that a lot, having less frontage than normally required by the zoning bylaw but which has been authorized by special permit, met the frontage requirement of the zoning bylaw and the Subdivision Control Law. Since the reduced frontage for the garden apartment plan had been approved by special permit, the Planning Board was authorized to endorse the plan approval not required.

The distinction in the Seguin case was that the Seguins received a variance to create a lot lacking the frontage normally required by the zoning bylaw. The court found that a plan showing a lot having less than the required frontage, even if the Zoning Board of Appeals had granted a frontage variance for the lot, was a subdivision plan which required approval under the Subdivision Control Law. In holding that the Seguins' plan was not entitled to an approval not required endorsement from the Planning Board, the court noted its previous decision in Arrigo v. Planning Board of Franklin, 12 Mass. App. Ct. 802 (1981). In that case, the court analyzed the authority of a Planning Board to waive strict compliance with the frontage requirement specified in the Subdivision Control Law.

Landowners, in Arrigo, wished to create a building lot which would not meet the minimum lot frontage requirement of the zoning bylaw. The minimum lot frontage requirement was 200 feet, and the minimum lot area requirement was 40,000 square feet. They petitioned the Zoning Board of Appeals for a variance and presented the Board with a plan showing two lots, one with 5.3 acres and 200 feet of frontage, and the other lot with 4.7 acres and 186.71 feet of frontage. The Board of Appeals granted a dimensional variance for the lot which had the deficient frontage. Upon obtaining the variance, the landowners applied to the Planning Board for approval of a plan showing the two lot subdivision.

The Planning Board waived the 200 foot frontage requirement for the substandard lot pursuant to the Subdivision Control Law and approved the two lot subdivision. MGL, Chapter 41, Section 81R, authorizes a Planning Board to waive the minimum frontage requirement of the Subdivision Control Law provided the Planning Board determines that such waiver is in the public interest and not inconsistent with the intent and purpose of the Subdivision Control Law.

As stated earlier, the minimum frontage requirement of the Subdivision Control Law is found in MGL, Chapter 41, Section 81L, which states that the lot frontage is the same as is specified in the local zoning bylaw, or 20 feet in those cases where the local zoning bylaw does not specify a minimum lot frontage.

In deciding the Arrigo case, the Massachusetts Appeals Court had the opportunity to comment on the fact that the Planning Board and the Zoning Board of Appeals are faced with different statutory responsibilities when considering the question of creating a building lot lacking minimum lot frontage. Although MGL, Chapter 41, Section 81R gives the Planning Board the authority to waive the frontage requirement for the purposes of the Subdivision Control Law, the court stressed that the authority of the Planning Board to waive frontage requirements pursuant to 81R should not be construed as authorizing the Planning Board to grant zoning variances. The court noted that there is indeed significance between the granting of a variance for the purposes of the Zoning Act and approval of a subdivision plan pursuant to the Subdivision Control Law. On this point, the court summarized the necessary approvals in order to create a building lot lacking minimum lot frontage.

> In short, then, persons in the position of the Mercers, seeking to make two building lots from a parcel lacking adequate frontage, are required to obtain two independent approvals: one from the planning board, which may in its discretion waive the frontage requirement under the criteria for waiver set out in G.L. c. 41, s. 81R, and one from the board of appeals, which may vary the frontage requirement only under the highly restrictive criteria of G.L. c. 40A, s. 10. The approvals serve different purposes, one to give marketability to the lots through recordation, the other to enable the lots to be built upon. The action of neither board should, in our view, bind the other, particularly as their actions are based on different statutory criteria.

Absent a zoning bylaw provision authorizing a reduction in lot frontage by way of the special permit process, an owner of land wishing to create a building lot which will have less than the required lot frontage needs to obtain approval from both the Zoning Board of Appeals and the Planning Board. A zoning variance from the Zoning Board of Appeals varying the lot frontage requirement is necessary in order that the lot may be built upon for zoning purposes. It is also necessary that the lot owner obtain a frontage waiver from the Planning Board for the purposes of the Subdivision Control Law.

In the Arrigo case, the landowners had submitted a subdivision plan to the Planning Board. The court noted that without obtaining the frontage waiver the plan was not entitled to approval as a matter of law because, although it may have complied with the Planning Board's rules and regulations, it did not comply with the frontage requirements of the Subdivision Control Law. After the Arrigo decision, it was debatable as to the process a landowner followed to obtaining a frontage waiver from the Planning Board. Rather than submitting a subdivision plan, another view was that a landowner could submit a plan seeking an approval not required endorsement from the Planning Board and at the same time petition the Board for a frontage waiver pursuant to 81R. If the Planning Board granted the frontage waiver and noted such waiver on the plan, then the Board could endorse the plan approval not required.

The Seguin case clarifies the process that must be followed when a landowner seeks a frontage waiver from the Planning Board. If a lot shown on a plan lacks the frontage required by the zoning bylaw, then the plan shows a subdivision and must be reviewed under the approval procedure specified in Section 81U of the Subdivision Control Law. The Planning Board must hold a public hearing before determining whether a frontage waiver is in the public interest and not inconsistent with the Subdivision Control Law. A notation that a frontage waiver has been granted by the Planning Board should either be shown on the plan or on a separate instrument attached to the plan with reference to such instrument shown on the plan. It is unclear whether a Planning Board must allow the Board of Health 45 days to comment on the plan when the only issue before the Planning Board is the frontage waiver. We would recommend that Planning Boards consider amending their rules and regulations providing for a shorter review period when a landowner is only seeking a frontage waiver from the Planning Board. A Planning Board may also want to specify a fee and any relevant information that should be submitted with the plan.

In determining whether to grant a frontage waiver, a Planning Board should consider if the frontage is too narrow to permit easy access or if the access from the frontage to the buildable portion of the lot is by a strip of land too narrow or winding to permit easy access. In the Seguin case, the court noted that the lot appeared to present no problem and indicated that the Planning Board would be acting unreasonably if the Seguins submitted a subdivision plan and the Board did not approve the plan.

ANR PROCESS

If you have a question concerning the process for reviewing ANR plans, your answer will most likely be found in either Sections 81L, 81P, 81T or 81BB.

Section 81T provides that every person submitting an ANR plan to the Planning Board must give written notice to the municipal clerk by delivery or by registered mail that he has submitted the plan. This is an important requirement if the Planning Board fails to act in timely manner. In Korkuch v. Planning Board of Eastham, 26 Mass. App. Ct. 307, (1988), the court determined that a developer who submitted an ANR plan but did not give immediate or very prompt written notice of the submission of the plan to the municipal clerk was not entitled to a certificate from the municipal clerk certifying constructive approval of the plan when the Board failed to act on the plan in a timely manner.

If the Planning Board determines that a plan does not require approval under the Subdivision Control Law, it should immediately, without a public hearing, endorse the plan "approval under the Subdivision Control Law not required" or words of similar import. Once the Planning Board has endorsed a plan, it cannot change its mind and rescind the ANR endorsement. In Cassani v. Planning Board of Hull, 1 Mass. App. Ct. 451 (1973), the court found that the authority to modify, amend or rescind plans under Section 81W is not applicable to ANR plans.

If the Planning Board determines that the plan requires approval under the Subdivision Control Law, the Board must give written notice of its determination to the municipal clerk and the person submitting the plan within 21 days after the plan has been submitted to the Board.

If the Planning Board determines that approval under the Subdivision Control Law is required, the person submitting the ANR plan may appeal the Planning Board's determination pursuant to Section 81BB. If the Planning Board endorses the plan "approval not required", judicial review of the endorsement can be claimed pursuant to MGL, Chapter 249, Section 4 and the time period for claiming review is 60 days. See Stefanick v. Planning Board of Uxbridge, 39 Mass. App. Ct. 418 (1995).

Section 81L contains a requirement that "a majority of the members" of a Planning Board must provide signatures in order for there to be a proper certification or endorsement of a plan. Section 81L defines "Certified" as follows:

> Certified by (or endorsed by) a planning board", as applied to a plan or other instrument required or authorized by the subdivision control law to be recorded, shall mean bearing a certification or endorsement signed by a majority of the members of a planning board, or by its chairman or clerk or any other person > authorized by it to certify or endorse its approval or other action and named in a written statement to the register of deeds and recorder of the land court, signed by a majority of the board.

The general rule as to existence of a quorum is that, in the absence of a statutory restriction, a majority of a board is a quorum and a majority of the quorum can act. However, where a statute requires a majority of the board to perform a certain function then the quorum requirement is a majority of the members of the entire board and not a majority of those present and voting on the particular matter.

In Duddy v. Mankewich, 66 Mass. App. Ct. 789 (2006), the court reviewed the above definition of "Certified by (or endorsed by) a planning board" and concluded that the affirmative vote of a majority of the planning board, and not merely a majority of a quorum, is necessary in order for a Planning Board to approve a definitive subdivision plan.

Automatic approval of a properly submitted plan will occur if the Planning Board fails to act on the plan or fails to notify the municipal clerk or the person submitting the plan of its determination within 21 days after the plan has been submitted to the Board. If the plan becomes approved for failure to take timely action, the Planning Board must immediately endorse the plan.

If the Planning Board fails to make such endorsement, the municipal clerk must issue a certificate of approval to the person who submitted the plan. The certificate should indicate that the approval of the plan under the Subdivision Control Law is not required since no notice of action was received from the Planning Board within the required time period. As noted in Kupperstein v. Planning Board of Cohasset, 66 Mass. App. Ct. 905 (2006), an ANR plan is constructively approved after the 21 day period and a landowner is entitled "forthwith" to an endorsement or clerk certificate.

Goldman v. Planning Board of Burlington, 347 Mass. 320 (1964) (an ANR endorsement of a plan which was given in error does not obligate a planning board to endorse a later plan showing the same lots and the same frontage).

Devine v. Town Clerk of Plymouth, 3 Mass. App. Ct. 747 (1975) (where clerk of the planning board, who clearly had authority to accept ANR plan for the board, for some unexplained reason, returned the anr plan to the petitioner which resulted in a constructive grant).

Lynch v. Planning Board of Groton, 4 Mass. App. Ct. 781 (1976) (planning board failure to act on an anr plan within 14 [now 21] days entitled petitioner to such endorsement and board's determination thereafter that the plan did require approval was without legal effect).

Landgraf v. Building Commissioner of Springfield, 4 Mass. App. Ct. 840 (1976) (lots shown on a definitive plan which had frontage on a public way were entitled to the zoning protection afforded subdivision plan lots).

Kelly v. Planning Board of Dennis, 6 Mass. App. Ct. 24 (1978) (where planning board failed to meet notice requirement of open meeting law when voting to deny anr plan).

J & R Investment, Inc. v. City Clerk of New Bedford, 28 Mass. App. Ct. 1 (1989) (mandamus is the appropriate remedy and owner's delay of 25 days between clerk's refusal to issue certificate endorsing owner's plan of land and owner's commencement of suit seeking mandamus relief was not unreasonable delay, and thus mandamus was available).

J. & R. Investment, Inc. v. City Clerk of New Bedford, 28 Mass. App. Ct. 1 (1989) (whether a board acted within the allowable time period will depend on whether reasonable persons examining the formal record could ascertain that a particular action was taken).

Stefanie- Can you please forward this email and the attachments to the members of the ZBA? The matter has been continued generally at the moment and the court and appellant will watch and wait to see if the City Council changes the process for Class 2 licenses. It may be dispositive of the case. I am in the process of drafting a zoning amendment that would permit Class 2 auto licenses conditioned on a special permit approval. The plan is to file the ordinance with the City Council as soon as their first meeting in February.

I apologize for not notifying the Board earlier.

Steve

2. Plaintiff's property is zoned Business A. The Town's posture is that the current language of the Code of the Town of Agawam (local Town ordinances) prohibits the selling of used motor vehicles on parcels zoned Business A.

3. The Town of Agawam is pursuing a course of amending the Code of the Town of Agawam that would redefine permitted uses on Business A zoned parcels and permit the issuance of licenses to sell motor vehicles through a special permit application and hearing.

4. If the Code of the Town of Agawam is amended as recommended, Plaintiff's parcel will be eligible to apply for a license to sell used motor vehicles through a special permit.

5. Zoning amendments to the Code of the Town of Agawam require public hearings by various boards and are subject to City Council and mayoral approval.

6. The local process to amend the Code of the Town of Agawam generally takes 90-120 days from beginning to end if no delays encountered.

7. The Town of Agawam's intention is to file the proposed ordinance with the City Council within thirty (30) days if this Court grants the continuance.

8. Plaintiff's Counsel has been consulted on the proposal and assents to the continuance.

WHEREFORE, the Plaintiff requests this Honorable Court to allow the motion to continue the above entitled matter scheduled for trial on January 23, 2024 and proposes a status conference date in approximately 90 days to assess the Town's progress in amending the Code of the Town of Agawam.

FINDINGS OF FACT AND ORDER FOR JUDGMENT

2024 MAY -2 AM 11:13
HOUSING COURT

This action came on for a hearing before the Court on December 21, 2023, with the Honorable Robert G. Fields, presiding, and the issues having been duly heard and Findings of Fact and Conclusions of Law, having been duly rendered after the Plaintiff's Motion for Summary Judgment under Mass. R. Civ. P. 56(a). The Court makes the following Findings of Fact and Order for Judgment:

FINDINGS OF FACT

1. The Plaintiff, John G. Kudlic, purchased 33 Highland Avenue, Agawam, Massachusetts in 2002. The property had a single-family house on it (built in the early 1900's prior to zoning) at the time of purchase, but it was being used as the Victor Emmanuel Social Club.

2. The property at 33 Highland Avenue, Agawam, Massachusetts was vacant from 2002 through 2012. Because of vandalism at the property, then Building Inspector Dominic Urbinati requested the Plaintiff to demolish the building, which he did in 2013.
3. At the time of the demolition of the structure at 33 Highland Avenue, the existing foundation would have violated both the setback and side yard requirements of the Agawam Zoning Ordinance.
4. The Plaintiff, John G. Kudlic, was led to believe by the former Agawam Building Inspector that a Special Permit would be granted to put in a new foundation that would comply with both the setback and side yard requirements.
5. The Plaintiff then sold 33 Highland Avenue, Agawam, Massachusetts to Calabrese Construction, LLC for $98,000.00 but had to buy it back for $98,000.00 in 2016 when Calabrese was denied a Special Permit to build a duplex on the lot.
6. The Plaintiff, John G. Kudlic, then sought a Variance to build a duplex without the 100 feet of frontage needed under Section 180-35 of the Agawam Zoning Ordinance with the Agawam Board of Appeals in 2017. The location of 33 Highland Avenue is zoned Residence "B" which allows for single family and two-family structures.
7. The Agawam Board of Appeals held hearings on September 11, 2017 and October 10, 2017. Some of the opposition from neighbors suggested a single-family house would be better for the area as there would be less traffic from a single family as opposed to a two-family structure.

8. Doreen Prouty was the Senior Member of the Agawam Board of Appeals in 2017 as she was a member since 1993. She voted in favor of a Variance for a duplex house on 33 Highland Avenue because she thought it met the three requirements for a Variance.

9. In 2017, a Plaintiff would be entitled to a Variance if he met the following three requirements.

   a. There are circumstances on account of soil conditions, shape or topography, but not affecting generally the zoning district.

   b. A literal enforcement of the provisions of the ordinance or bylaw would involve substantial hardship financial or otherwise to the petitioner.

   c. Desirable relief may be granted without nullifying or substantially derogating from the intent of the purpose of the bylaw.

10. a. As to the first requirement for a Variance, the Court finds that it is the only triangular shaped lot on Highland Avenue and it was the only lot on that street that had frontage on two streets.

10. b. As to the second Variance requirement, the Court finds that the Plaintiff John G Kudlic would endure a substantial financial hardship by not being able to build on this lot that had a single-family house on it when he purchased it in 2002. Although Mr. Kudlic had the lot sold to Calabrese Construction, LLC after he demolished the structure on it in 2013, he had to buy it back for $98,000.00 when Calabrese could not obtain a special permit to build on it.

10. c. As to the third requirement to a Variance, the Court finds that granting the Variance would not nullify or substantially derogate from the intent of the bylaw (100 feet of frontage required under Section 180-35 of the Agawam Zoning Ordinance) because there are currently 18 houses on Highland Avenue and only 5 of them have 100 feet of frontage.

11. Thus, the Court finds that the Agawam Board of Appeals denial of the Variance on October 10, 2017 is based on legally untenable grounds and it is unreasonable, whimsical, capricious and arbitrary as it applied to the Plaintiff John G. Kudlic.

ORDER FOR JUDGMENT

Accordingly, I order Judgment to enter for the Plaintiff, John G. Kudlic, and this Court further confirms judgment to enter on the following matters:

1. The October 10, 2017 decision of the Agawam Board of Appeals denying the Plaintiff's request for a Variance is hereby annulled.
2. Judgment should enter for the Plaintiff John G. Kudlic.
3. The Plaintiff John G. Kudlic is hereby given a Variance to build a single family 2200 square foot Garrison style house at 33 Highland Avenue, Agawam, Massachusetts.

Subscribed and Sworn to Under the Pains and Penalties of Perjury this 13th day of May, 2024.

Massachusetts Bomb Threat Response Guidance

Guidance for local police, fire and facility managers

Every facility should have an emergency operations plan or all-hazard plan.
Use these guidelines to review and revise the bomb threat response section of your plan.
Every bomb threat is unique and should be handled in accordance with the needs of the facility.

If a Threat is Received

- Immediately contact local law enforcement and fire to request a response, initiate the threat assessment team, and to establish a unified command.
- Law enforcement or dispatch should contact their fusion center of jurisdiction to report the threat and determine if other entities or jurisdictions are reporting the same or similar threat.
- Conduct a Threat Assessment.
- Execute other appropriate actions as outlined in this guidance or your established emergency operations plan.

Planning Considerations

- Coordinate in advance with local law enforcement and first responders to ensure smooth handling of a bomb threat.
- Update primary and secondary contact names and information annually, or when there are changes in personnel – share this information with your local public safety agencies.

Preparation Considerations

- Control building access.
- Implement strict master key control.
- Inspect incoming parcels.
- Safeguard confidential material.
- Keep exits unobstructed.
- Ensure adequate internal and external emergency lighting.
- Utilize electronic surveillance.
- Have building floor plans for first responders to help with searches.

Threat Assessment

Threat assessment is the most important step when responding to a bomb threat. It determines appropriate actions, including the level of public safety response, the scope of the search and whether to evacuate. Each incident is unique, and all circumstances must be carefully evaluated by the police/fire/facility management team.

Low Risk Threats

Low risk threats lack credibility and pose a minimum risk to the facility and/or public safety. Disruption is the probable motive.

- Threat is vague and indirect.
- Information in the threat is inconsistent or implausible.
- Caller is known to the facility management and has called numerous times in the past with no credible threat.
- Threat was discovered instead of called in (e.g., written on a wall).
- Multiple identical threats received in numerous jurisdictions.

Medium Risk Threats

A medium risk threat has an increased level of credibility and could be carried out, although it may not appear entirely realistic.

- Threat is direct and feasible.
- Wording in the threat suggests the perpetrator has thought about how the act will be carried out.
- Threat may include indications of a potential time and place.
- No strong indication that the perpetrator has taken preparatory steps, although there may be some indirect reference pointing to that possibility.
- Indication that the perpetrator has details regarding the availability of components needed to construct an improvised explosive device.
- Increased determination to carry out the threat (e.g., "I'm serious!").

High Risk Threats

A high-risk threat is specific and realistic and appears to pose an immediate and serious danger to the facility and its personnel

- The threat is direct, specific, and realistic and may include names of possible victims or location of the device.
- The perpetrator provides his/her identity.
- Threat suggests concrete steps have been taken toward carrying out the threat.
- Perpetrator makes statements indicating they have practiced with a weapon or have had the intended victim(s) under surveillance.
- Ongoing dispute, a recently terminated employee, or other situational factor that may increase the site's likelihood as a target.

Public Safety Response

- Local police and fire must respond to the facility as part of the threat assessment team.
- Notify Regional response team (if one exists), and State Police or local Bomb Squad if needed, based on threat assessment.
- State Police Bomb Squad is available to provide guidance.
- Explosive detection canines may be used for low, medium, and high-risk threats at the discretion of the threat assessment team and the EK-9 handler.

Site Decision Makers

- Mobilize the facility's emergency response teams.
- Communicate with facility personnel about bomb threat.
- Limit access to building(s).
- Decide, with threat assessment team, on appropriate action or combination of actions:
  - Search: A search should always be conducted. The scope of the search is dependent on the threat assessment.
  - Shelter-in-place: partial or full.
  - Evacuation: partial or full and determine the best route.

Searching the Building

All Risk Levels

- Always conduct a search.
- The search team should include police/fire/facility manager.
- Search common areas first (lobbies, hallways, cafeteria, bathrooms).
- Search the exterior perimeter second.
- If there is to be an evacuation, a search of the evacuation route should be prioritized.

Medium Risk: Search more controlled areas.

High Risk: Search additional locked and controlled areas such as the roof and utility areas.

Search Role of Facility Personnel

- When search is initiated by the facility manager, make a quick and complete 360 visual scan of the workplace and any other common areas for anything unusual.
- If anything unusual is noticed, move people away from the potential hazard and immediately report the location of the object to the site decision makers.

Suspicious vs. Unattended Items

An unattended item is not automatically a suspicious one. The totality of circumstances make an item suspicious (e.g., item is out of context, making a noise, visible wires protruding, or placement witnessed). Facility personnel are best equipped to identify items that are out of place.

If a Suspicious Item is Found

- Do not touch, tamper with, or move the item.
- Immediately report item to the unified command.
- Public safety controls the scene if a suspicious item is found.
- Refrain from using radio communication near the item.

Shelter in Place/Evacuation Decision Tree

It is important not to reward threatening behavior, so unless a threat assessment warrants evacuation, consider search, shelter-in-place, or limited evacuation alternatives first.

- Consider shelter in place and conduct a search for a low-risk threat.
- Partial evacuation depends on the specificity of the threat (if threat specifies an area, evacuate that area).
- Full evacuation – when a suspected item is located or there is a high-risk threat.

When Evacuation is Initiated

- Never pull the fire alarm unless there is a fire. Other means should be used to communicate the evacuation.
- Everyone should take their personal belongings with them when possible.
- Evacuate to a safe and controlled area that has been previously searched and not specifically mentioned in the threat.

Continuing Actions After Evacuation

- Debrief emergency services and assist in coordinating further actions.
- Take accountability and report.
- Open media, medical and family areas and provide regular briefings.
- Police/fire/facility officials coordinate on what can be released publicly. Often the specifics of a threat may need to be kept quiet to aid the investigation and to prevent copycats.
- As appropriate, determine reoccupy action. Time of day and specificity of the threat may dictate this decision.
- Law enforcement or dispatch should follow up with the fusion center of jurisdiction on outcome.
- Communicate with internal/external stakeholders.

Reporting Considerations

Threat via Telephone/VOIP

- Record call if possible.
- Identify the number calling.
- Document date, time, and duration of the call.
- Identify if threat was or was not made by a pre-recorded voice.

Email Threat

- Save the email and DO NOT delete it.
- Print, photograph, or copy the email.
- Obtain full email header data from the original email.

Online Web Form Threat

- Obtain IP address logs of visitors to the organizations public facing website to include source ports and timestamps.
- Run a Whois lookup to identify the telecommunications provider.
- Provide law enforcement contact information for your web hosting service to expedite evidence collection.

As part of ongoing enhancements to MUNIS, a new module was recently implemented that replaces the way we add attachments records in MUNIS. The new module is called TCM or Tyler Content Manager. With this new module, attachments can be indexed and searched very easily.

The instructions below will show, step by step, the process for attaching documents to requisitions or any other records you might have attached documents to in the past.

When you added attachments before, you clicked the attach button and entered a description and clicked save. With the new version there are two components:

- Documents
- Attachments

Documents are used in MUNIS to hold the attachment and store information about the attachment like the Requisition number, vendor number, attachment title, notes about the attachment, etc.

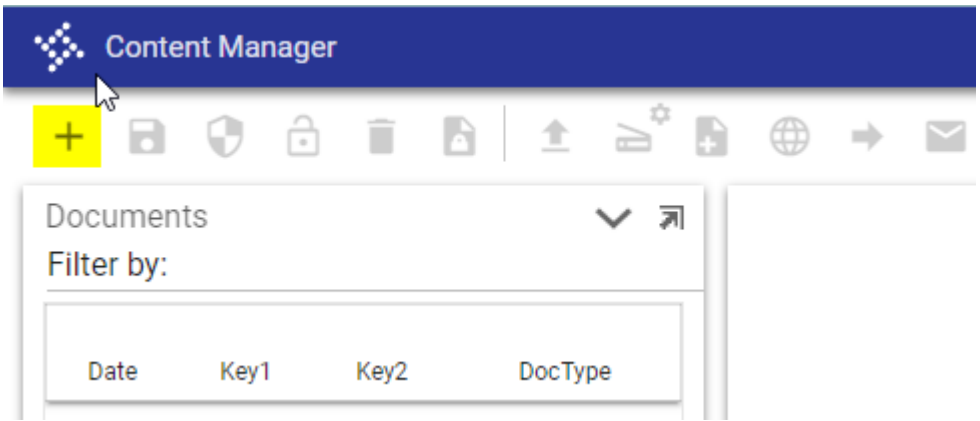
Before we begin, here are few things to remember about attachments:

- Each document can have only 1 attachment
- You can attach multiple documents to a record
- You can attach just about any type of file. PDF, Excel, Word, Text, etc. to a document

Let's Begin:

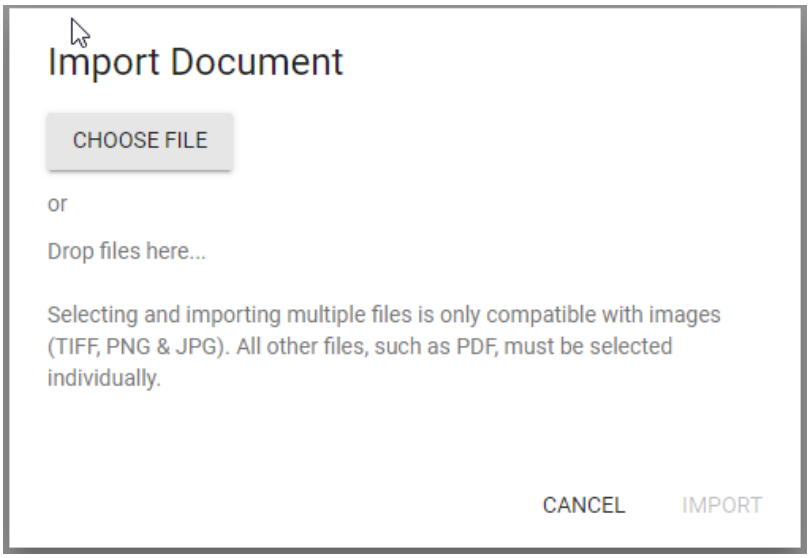
From the REQ Entry screen click attach

1. The Content Manager Window will appear. Click the "+" to create a new document



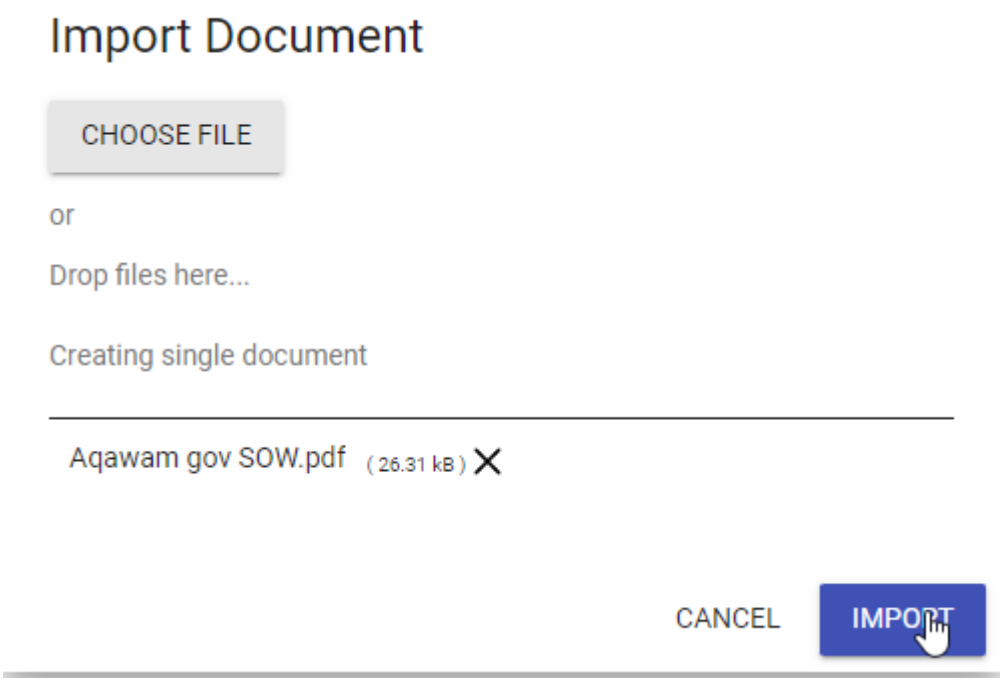
2. Click the up arrow icon

3. Much like before, you can browse to attach files or simply drag them on the Import Document window.



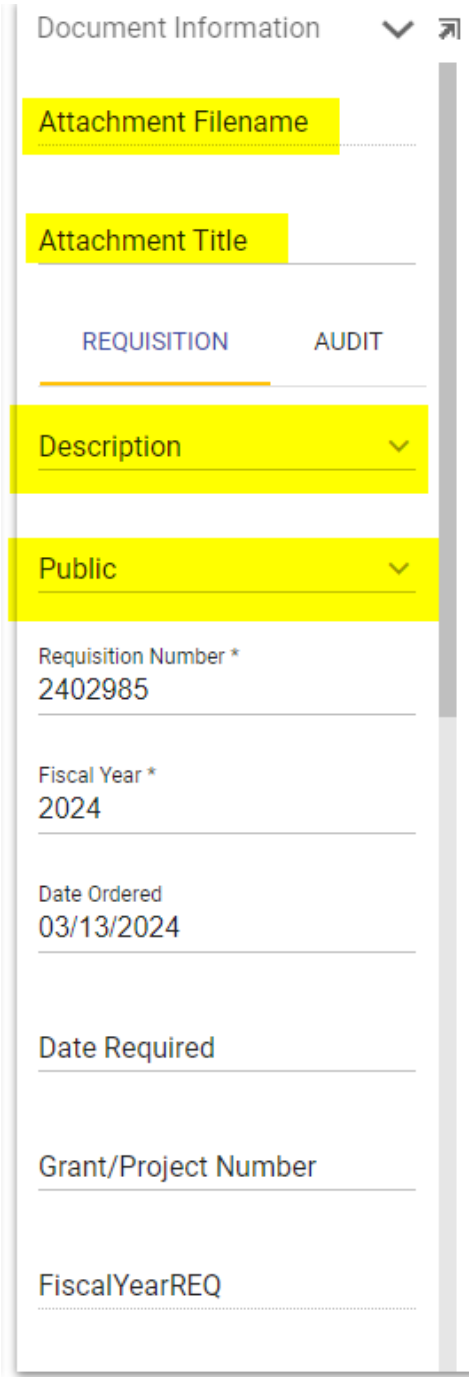
4. Click on “Choose File” or drag the document over the window.

5. You can only attach one document at a time. Each document needs to have its pertinent information entered.



6. Click import

After the document is imported you have several fields that can optionally be filled in:



Field	Description
Attachment Filename	This is the filename of the attachment you selected. It will be filled in for you.
Attachment Title	Title of the Attachment
Description	This is a dropdown field. You select Requisition Document. Other document types may be available as we improve this module
Public	This is a Yes or No selection to determine if the attachment is publicly viewable. We don't have this feature configured. Select No here.

7. Once you have completed entering the details of the attachment click the save button
8. For each additional document start at step 1 by clicking the .

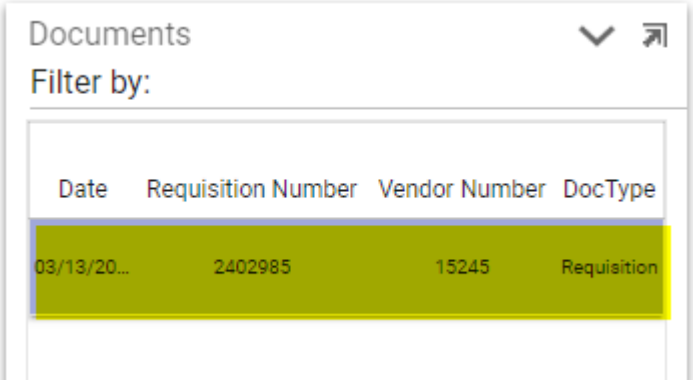
    - The other fields are either pre-filled in like Requisition Number, Fiscal Year, Date Ordered, etc or are optional i.e Date required, grant project number and notes.
    - All the fields are searchable to make searching for REQ's and their corresponding attachments easier.
    - The only required field is the attachment title.
    - You know the attachment is saved as there is an entry for the document as shown here:



Explanation of the tool bar
*denotes option not generally available to most users

Creates a new Document. Use this for each attachment

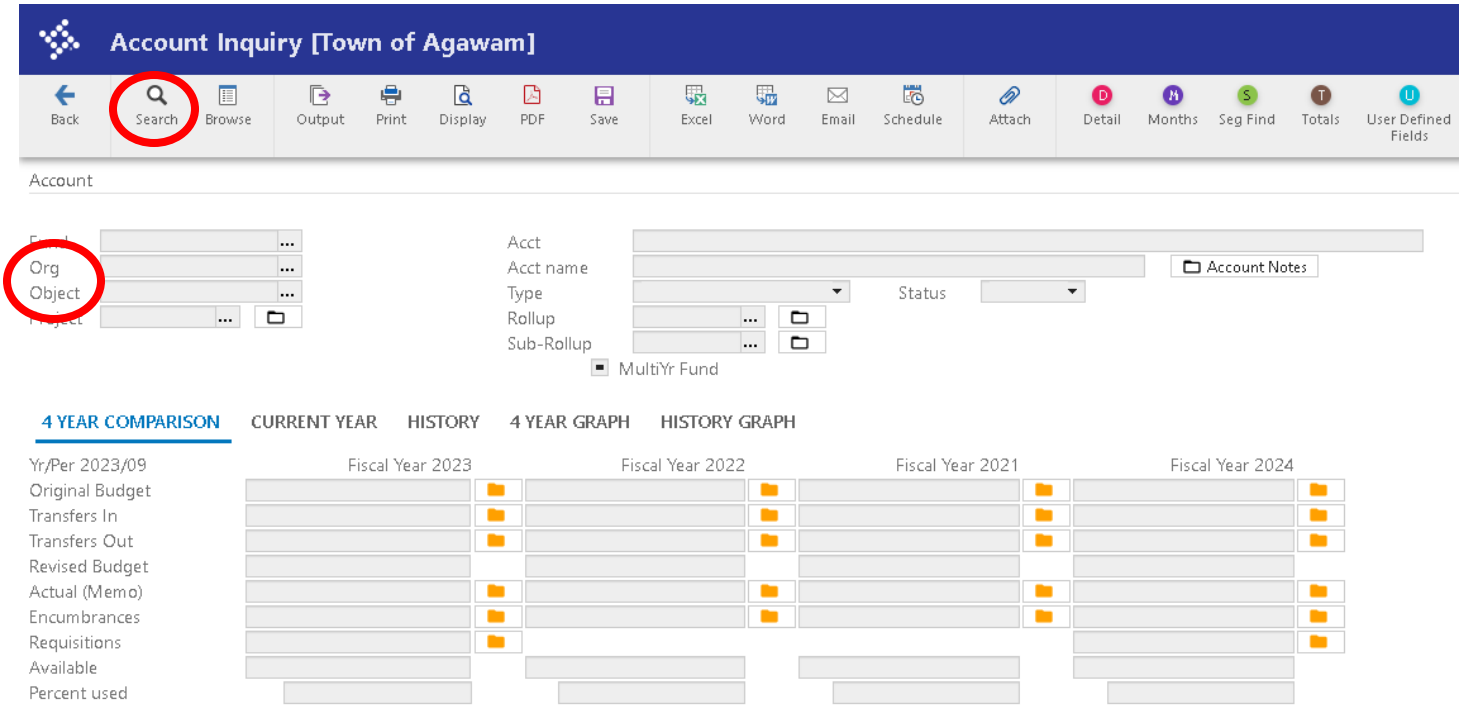
Account Inquiry



To look up the balance of an account:

- Press search
- Enter your org (first 6 digits of the account number)
- Enter you object (second set of 6 digits of the account number; expenses always start with a 5 and revenue always starts with a 4)
- Press Accept on the screen or Enter on the keyboard

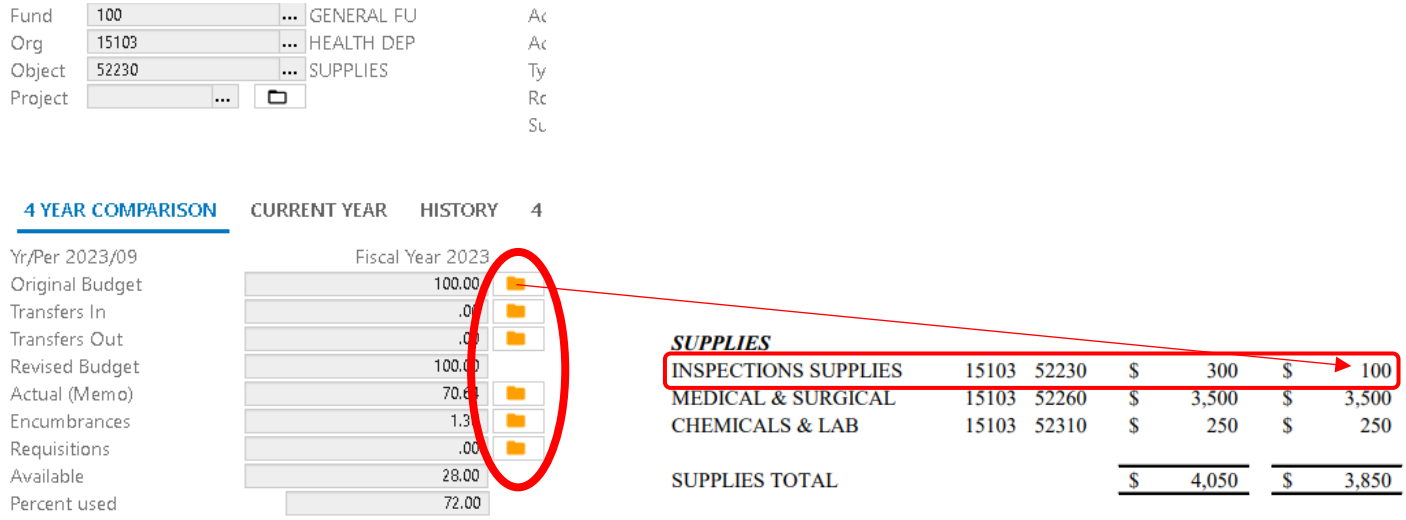
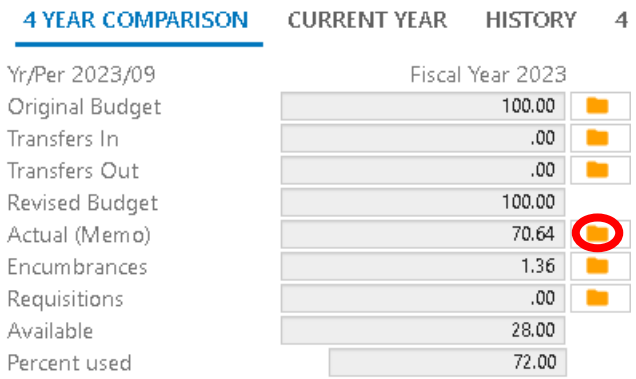
The result shows 4 columns including the current and previous fiscal years. In this example, the next fiscal year is also showing for $0 because the new FY24 budget hasn't been adopted yet. Notice the Account name and account type appear to the right of the account number.

In this example, let's look closer at the results for this fiscal. Note the yellow file folders next to the cells.

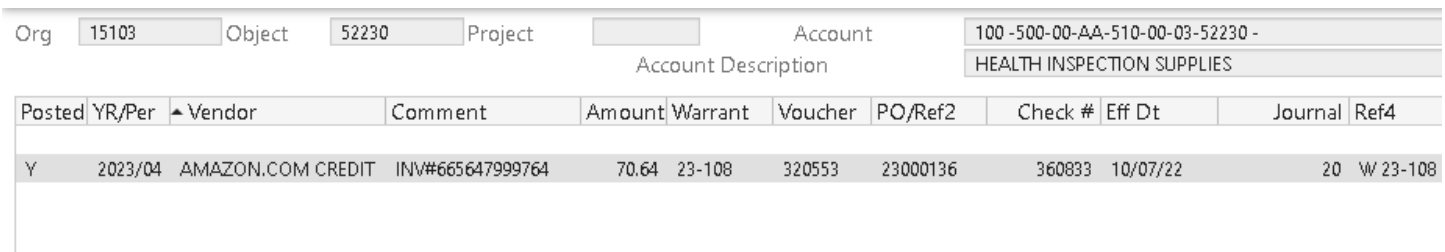


The first line is the original budget which comes from the adopted annual budget. If anything is transferred in or out it will show in the next two cells. The Revised Budget will take transfers in to account and this will be the budget number that you work from.

The next cell is labeled "Actual." This number represents the invoices actually paid. If you click on the folder icon next to the number, it will open an itemized list of paid invoices.

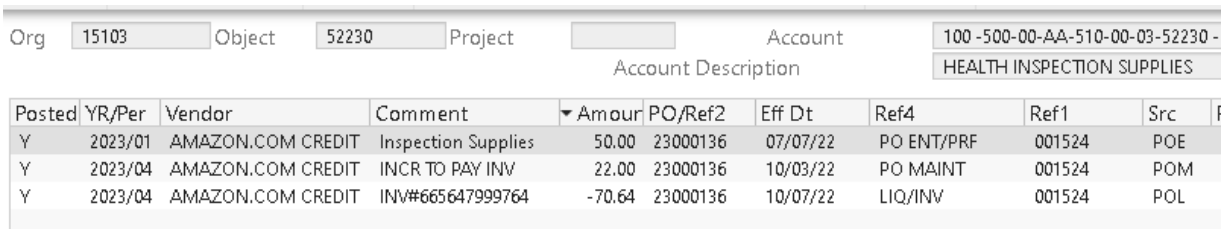


As you can see below, only 1 invoice has been paid in the account to date. (The columns may not be in the same order as shown here. Just click on the column name and drag it to where you'd like it to be.)



Continuing down the list on the original screen is "Encumbrances"

This is the amount of money Encumbered (held aside waiting for an invoice to pay) on a PO. If you click on the folder to the right of the amount, you'll the activity for the PO's in this account.



In this example, the first line was the creation of the PO. The second line was to increase the PO in order to cover the cost of the invoice. The third line is payment of that invoice against the PO. Here's the math:

$50.00 opened PO #23000136

$22.00 increased PO #23000136

$72.00 balance on PO #23000136

$70.64 paid invoice against PO #23000136

$1.36 balance on PO #23000136

The next cell on the Account Inquiry screen is "Requisitions." We have no requisitions pending approval so this is zero. If there was a requisition, the amount would show here and would affect the Available balance.

"Available" is your available balance in the account. It's the budget amount, minus all paid invoices, PO's and pending requisitions.

"Percentage used" is a quick snapshot of how your accounts look to date. The percentage is calculated by taking your expenses (paid and encumbered) and dividing it by your budget. ($72 / $100 = 72%)

Part I Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

Enter your TIN in the appropriate box. The TIN provided must match the name given on line 1 to avoid backup withholding. For individuals, this is generally your social security number (SSN). However, for a resident alien, sole proprietor, or disregarded entity, see the instructions for Part I, later. For other entities, it is your employer identification number (EIN). If you do not have a number, see How to get a TIN, later.

Note: If the account is in more than one name, see the instructions for line 1. Also see What Name and Number To Give the Requester for guidelines on whose number to enter.

Under penalties of perjury, I certify that:

1. The number shown on this form is my correct taxpayer identification number (or I am waiting for a number to be issued to me); and
2. I am not subject to backup withholding because: (a) I am exempt from backup withholding, or (b) I have not been notified by the Internal Revenue Service (IRS) that I am subject to backup withholding as a result of a failure to report all interest or dividends, or (c) the IRS has notified me that I am no longer subject to backup withholding; and

For real estate transactions, item 2 does not apply. For mortgage interest paid, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, contributions to an individual retirement arrangement (IRA), and generally, payments other than interest and dividends, you are not required to sign the certification, but you must provide your correct TIN. General Instructions

Future developments. For the latest information about developments related to Form W-9 and its instructions, such as legislation enacted after they were published, go to www.irs.gov/FormW9.

Purpose of Form

An individual or entity (Form W-9 requester) who is required to file an information return with the IRS must obtain your correct taxpayer identification number (TIN) which may be your social security number (SSN), individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN), adoption taxpayer identification number (ATIN), or employer identification number (EIN), to report on an information return the amount paid to you, or other amount reportable on an information return. Examples of information returns include, but are not limited to, the following.

- Form 1099-INT (interest earned or paid)
- Form 1099-DIV (dividends, including those from stocks or mutual funds)
- Form 1099-MISC (various types of income, prizes, awards, or gross proceeds)
- Form 1099-B (stock or mutual fund sales and certain other transactions by brokers)
- Form 1099-S (proceeds from real estate transactions)
- Form 1099-K (merchant card and third party network transactions)
- Form 1098 (home mortgage interest), 1098-E (student loan interest), 1098-T (tuition)
- Form 1099-C (canceled debt)
- Form 1099-A (acquisition or abandonment of secured property)

Use Form W-9 only if you are a U.S. person (including a resident alien), to provide your correct TIN.

If you do not return Form W-9 to the requester with a TIN, you might be subject to backup withholding. See What is backup withholding, later.

By signing the filled-out form, you:

1. Certify that the TIN you are giving is correct (or you are waiting for a number to be issued),

2. Certify that you are not subject to backup withholding, or

3. Claim exemption from backup withholding if you are a U.S. exempt payee. If applicable, you are also certifying that as a U.S. person, your allocable share of any partnership income from a U.S. trade or business is not subject to the withholding tax on foreign partners' share of effectively connected income, and

4. Certify that FATCA code(s) entered on this form (if any) indicating that you are exempt from the FATCA reporting, is correct. See What is FATCA reporting, later, for further information.

Note: If you are a U.S. person and a requester gives you a form other than Form W-9 to request your TIN, you must use the requester's form if it is substantially similar to this Form W-9.

Definition of a U.S. person. For federal tax purposes, you are considered a U.S. person if you are:

- An individual who is a U.S. citizen or U.S. resident alien;
- A partnership, corporation, company, or association created or organized in the United States or under the laws of the United States;
- An estate (other than a foreign estate); or
- A domestic trust (as defined in Regulations section 301.7701-7).

Special rules for partnerships. Partnerships that conduct a trade or business in the United States are generally required to pay a withholding tax under section 1446 on any foreign partners' share of effectively connected taxable income from such business. Further, in certain cases where a Form W-9 has not been received, the rules under section 1446 require a partnership to presume that a partner is a foreign person, and pay the section 1446 withholding tax. Therefore, if you are a U.S. person that is a partner in a partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States, provide Form W-9 to the partnership to establish your U.S. status and avoid section 1446 withholding on your share of partnership income.

In the cases below, the following person must give Form W-9 to the partnership for purposes of establishing its U.S. status and avoiding withholding on its allocable share of net income from the partnership conducting a trade or business in the United States.

- In the case of a disregarded entity with a U.S. owner, the U.S. owner of the disregarded entity and not the entity;
- In the case of a grantor trust with a U.S. grantor or other U.S. owner, generally, the U.S. grantor or other U.S. owner of the grantor trust and not the trust; and
- In the case of a U.S. trust (other than a grantor trust), the U.S. trust (other than a grantor trust) and not the beneficiaries of the trust.

Foreign person. If you are a foreign person or the U.S. branch of a foreign bank that has elected to be treated as a U.S. person, do not use Form W-9. Instead, use the appropriate Form W-8 or Form 8233 (see Pub. 515, Withholding of Tax on Nonresident Aliens and Foreign Entities).

Nonresident alien who becomes a resident alien. Generally, only a nonresident alien individual may use the terms of a tax treaty to reduce or eliminate U.S. tax on certain types of income. However, most tax treaties contain a provision known as a "saving clause." Exceptions specified in the saving clause may permit an exemption from tax to continue for certain types of income even after the payee has otherwise become a U.S. resident alien for tax purposes.

If you are a U.S. resident alien who is relying on an exception contained in the saving clause of a tax treaty to claim an exemption from U.S. tax on certain types of income, you must attach a statement to Form W-9 that specifies the following five items.

1. The treaty country. Generally, this must be the same treaty under which you claimed exemption from tax as a nonresident alien.

2. The treaty article addressing the income.

3. The article number (or location) in the tax treaty that contains the saving clause and its exceptions.

4. The type and amount of income that qualifies for the exemption from tax.

5. Sufficient facts to justify the exemption from tax under the terms of the treaty article.

Example. Article 20 of the U.S.-China income tax treaty allows an exemption from tax for scholarship income received by a Chinese student temporarily present in the United States. Under U.S. law, this student will become a resident alien for tax purposes if his or her stay in the United States exceeds 5 calendar years. However, paragraph 2 of the first Protocol to the U.S.-China treaty (dated April 30, 1984) allows the provisions of Article 20 to continue to apply even after the Chinese student becomes a resident alien of the United States. A Chinese student who qualifies for this exception (under paragraph 2 of the first protocol) and is relying on this exception to claim an exemption from tax on his or her scholarship or fellowship income would attach to Form W-9 a statement that includes the information described above to support that exemption.

If you are a nonresident alien or a foreign entity, give the requester the appropriate completed Form W-8 or Form 8233.

Backup Withholding

What is backup withholding? Persons making certain payments to you must under certain conditions withhold and pay to the IRS 24% of such payments. This is called "backup withholding." Payments that may be subject to backup withholding include interest, tax-exempt interest, dividends, broker and barter exchange transactions, rents, royalties, nonemployee pay, payments made in settlement of payment card and third party network transactions, and certain payments from fishing boat operators. Real estate transactions are not subject to backup withholding.

You will not be subject to backup withholding on payments you receive if you give the requester your correct TIN, make the proper certifications, and report all your taxable interest and dividends on your tax return.

Payments you receive will be subject to backup withholding if:

1. You do not furnish your TIN to the requester,

2. You do not certify your TIN when required (see the instructions for Part II for details),

3. The IRS tells the requester that you furnished an incorrect TIN,

4. The IRS tells you that you are subject to backup withholding because you did not report all your interest and dividends on your tax return (for reportable interest and dividends only), or

5. You do not certify to the requester that you are not subject to backup withholding under 4 above (for reportable interest and dividend accounts opened after 1983 only).

Certain payees and payments are exempt from backup withholding. See Exempt payee code, later, and the separate Instructions for the Requester of Form W-9 for more information.

Also see Special rules for partnerships, earlier.

What is FATCA Reporting?

The Foreign Account Tax Compliance Act (FATCA) requires a participating foreign financial institution to report all United States account holders that are specified United States persons. Certain payees are exempt from FATCA reporting. See Exemption from FATCA reporting code, later, and the Instructions for the Requester of Form W-9 for more information.

Updating Your Information

You must provide updated information to any person to whom you claimed to be an exempt payee if you are no longer an exempt payee and anticipate receiving reportable payments in the future from this person. For example, you may need to provide updated information if you are a C corporation that elects to be an S corporation, or if you no longer are tax exempt. In addition, you must furnish a new Form W-9 if the name or TIN changes for the account; for example, if the grantor of a grantor trust dies.

Penalties

Failure to furnish TIN. If you fail to furnish your correct TIN to a requester, you are subject to a penalty of $50 for each such failure unless your failure is due to reasonable cause and not to willful neglect.

Civil penalty for false information with respect to withholding. If you make a false statement with no reasonable basis that results in no backup withholding, you are subject to a $500 penalty.

Criminal penalty for falsifying information. Willfully falsifying certifications or affirmations may subject you to criminal penalties including fines and/or imprisonment.

Misuse of TINs. If the requester discloses or uses TINs in violation of federal law, the requester may be subject to civil and criminal penalties.

Specific Instructions

Line 1

You must enter one of the following on this line; do not leave this line blank. The name should match the name on your tax return.

If this Form W-9 is for a joint account (other than an account maintained by a foreign financial institution (FFI)), list first, and then circle, the name of the person or entity whose number you entered in Part I of Form W-9. If you are providing Form W-9 to an FFI to document a joint account, each holder of the account that is a U.S. person must provide a Form W-9.

a. Individual. Generally, enter the name shown on your tax return. If you have changed your last name without informing the Social Security Administration (SSA) of the name change, enter your first name, the last name as shown on your social security card, and your new last name.

Note: ITIN applicant: Enter your individual name as it was entered on your Form W-7 application, line 1a. This should also be the same as the name you entered on the Form 1040/1040A/1040EZ you filed with your application.

b. Sole proprietor or single-member LLC. Enter your individual name as shown on your 1040/1040A/1040EZ on line 1. You may enter your business, trade, or "doing business as" (DBA) name on line 2.

c. Partnership, LLC that is not a single-member LLC, C corporation, or S corporation. Enter the entity's name as shown on the entity's tax return on line 1 and any business, trade, or DBA name on line 2.

d. Other entities. Enter your name as shown on required U.S. federal tax documents on line 1. This name should match the name shown on the charter or other legal document creating the entity. You may enter any business, trade, or DBA name on line 2.

e. Disregarded entity. For U.S. federal tax purposes, an entity that is disregarded as an entity separate from its owner is treated as a "disregarded entity." See Regulations section 301.7701-2(c)(2)(iii). Enter the owner's name on line 1. The name of the entity entered on line 1 should never be a disregarded entity. The name on line 1 should be the name shown on the income tax return on which the income should be reported. For example, if a foreign LLC that is treated as a disregarded entity for U.S. federal tax purposes has a single owner that is a U.S. person, the U.S. owner's name is required to be provided on line 1. If the direct owner of the entity is also a disregarded entity, enter the first owner that is not disregarded for federal tax purposes. Enter the disregarded entity's name on line 2, "Business name/disregarded entity name." If the owner of the disregarded entity is a foreign person, the owner must complete an appropriate Form W-8 instead of a Form W-9. This is the case even if the foreign person has a U.S. TIN.

Line 2

If you have a business name, trade name, DBA name, or disregarded entity name, you may enter it on line 2.

Line 3

Check the appropriate box on line 3 for the U.S. federal tax classification of the person whose name is entered on line 1. Check only one box on line 3.

Line 5

Enter your address (number, street, and apartment or suite number). This is where the requester of this Form W-9 will mail your information returns. If this address differs from the one the requester already has on file, write NEW at the top. If a new address is provided, there is still a chance the old address will be used until the payor changes your address in their records.

Line 6

Enter your city, state, and ZIP code.

Part I. Taxpayer Identification Number (TIN)

Enter your TIN in the appropriate box. If you are a resident alien and you do not have and are not eligible to get an SSN, your TIN is your IRS individual taxpayer identification number (ITIN). Enter it in the social security number box. If you do not have an ITIN, see How to get a TIN below.

If you are a sole proprietor and you have an EIN, you may enter either your SSN or EIN.

If you are a single-member LLC that is disregarded as an entity separate from its owner, enter the owner's SSN (or EIN, if the owner has one). Do not enter the disregarded entity's EIN. If the LLC is classified as a corporation or partnership, enter the entity's EIN.

Note: See What Name and Number To Give the Requester, later, for further clarification of name and TIN combinations.

How to get a TIN. If you do not have a TIN, apply for one immediately. To apply for an SSN, get Form SS-5, Application for a Social Security Card, from your local SSA office or get this form online at www.SSA.gov. You may also get this form by calling 1-800-772-1213. Use Form W-7, Application for IRS Individual Taxpayer Identification Number, to apply for an ITIN, or Form SS-4, Application for Employer Identification Number, to apply for an EIN. You can apply for an EIN online by accessing the IRS website at www.irs.gov/Businesses and clicking on Employer Identification Number (EIN) under Starting a Business. Go to www.irs.gov/Forms to view, download, or print Form W-7 and/or Form SS-4. Or, you can go to www.irs.gov/OrderForms to place an order and have Form W-7 and/or SS-4 mailed to you within 10 business days.

If you are asked to complete Form W-9 but do not have a TIN, apply for a TIN and write "Applied For" in the space for the TIN, sign and date the form, and give it to the requester. For interest and dividend payments, and certain payments made with respect to readily tradable instruments, generally you will have 60 days to get a TIN and give it to the requester before you are subject to backup withholding on payments. The 60-day rule does not apply to other types of payments. You will be subject to backup withholding on all such payments until you provide your TIN to the requester.

Note: Entering "Applied For" means that you have already applied for a TIN or that you intend to apply for one soon.

Caution: A disregarded U.S. entity that has a foreign owner must use the appropriate Form W-8.

Part II. Certification

To establish to the withholding agent that you are a U.S. person, or resident alien, sign Form W-9. You may be requested to sign by the withholding agent even if item 1, 4, or 5 below indicates otherwise.

For a joint account, only the person whose TIN is shown in Part I should sign (when required). In the case of a disregarded entity, the person identified on line 1 must sign. Exempt payees, see Exempt payee code, earlier.

Signature requirements. Complete the certification as indicated in items 1 through 5 below.

1. Interest, dividend, and barter exchange accounts opened before 1984 and broker accounts considered active during 1983. You must give your correct TIN, but you do not have to sign the certification.

2. Interest, dividend, broker, and barter exchange accounts opened after 1983 and broker accounts considered inactive during 1983. You must sign the certification or backup withholding will apply. If you are subject to backup withholding and you are merely providing your correct TIN to the requester, you must cross out item 2 in the certification before signing the form.

3. Real estate transactions. You must sign the certification. You may cross out item 2 of the certification.

4. Other payments. You must give your correct TIN, but you do not have to sign the certification unless you have been notified that you have previously given an incorrect TIN. "Other payments" include payments made in the course of the requester's trade or business for rents, royalties, goods (other than bills for merchandise), medical and health care services (including payments to corporations), payments to a nonemployee for services, payments made in settlement of payment card and third party network transactions, payments to certain fishing boat crew members and fishermen, and gross proceeds paid to attorneys (including payments to corporations).

5. Mortgage interest paid by you, acquisition or abandonment of secured property, cancellation of debt, qualified tuition program payments (under section 529), ABLE accounts (under section 529A), IRA, Coverdell ESA, Archer MSA or HSA contributions or distributions, and pension distributions. You must give your correct TIN, but you do not have to sign the certification.

Secure Your Tax Records From Identity Theft

Identity theft occurs when someone uses your personal information such as your name, SSN, or other identifying information, without your permission, to commit fraud or other crimes. An identity thief may use your SSN to get a job or may file a tax return using your SSN to receive a refund.

To reduce your risk:

- Protect your SSN,
- Ensure your employer is protecting your SSN, and
- Be careful when choosing a tax preparer.

If your tax records are affected by identity theft and you receive a notice from the IRS, respond right away to the name and phone number printed on the IRS notice or letter.

If your tax records are not currently affected by identity theft but you think you are at risk due to a lost or stolen purse or wallet, questionable credit card activity or credit report, contact the IRS Identity Theft Hotline at 1-800-908-4490 or submit Form 14039.

For more information, see Pub. 5027, Identity Theft Information for Taxpayers.

Victims of identity theft who are experiencing economic harm or a systemic problem, or are seeking help in resolving tax problems that have not been resolved through normal channels, may be eligible for Taxpayer Advocate Service (TAS) assistance. You can reach TAS by calling the TAS toll-free case intake line at 1-877-777-4778 or TTY/TDD 1-800-829-4059.

Protect yourself from suspicious emails or phishing schemes. Phishing is the creation and use of email and websites designed to mimic legitimate business emails and websites. The most common act is sending an email to a user falsely claiming to be an established legitimate enterprise in an attempt to scam the user into surrendering private information that will be used for identity theft.

The IRS does not initiate contacts with taxpayers via emails. Also, the IRS does not request personal detailed information through email or ask taxpayers for the PIN numbers, passwords, or similar secret access information for their credit card, bank, or other financial accounts.

If you receive an unsolicited email claiming to be from the IRS, forward this message to phishing@irs.gov. You may also report misuse of the IRS name, logo, or other IRS property to the Treasury Inspector General for Tax Administration (TIGTA) at 1-800-366-4484. You can forward suspicious emails to the Federal Trade Commission at spam@uce.gov or report them at www.ftc.gov/complaint. You can contact the FTC at www.ftc.gov/idtheft or 877-IDTHEFT (877-438-4338). Ms. Baldwin called the meeting to order at 6:00pm.

1. 6:00PM PUBLIC HEARING-ZONING AMENDMENT-"An Ordinance to Amend Chapter 180 of the Code of City of Agawam Regarding Accessory Dwelling Units"-Mayor Johnson

Mayor Johnson was present for this agenda item. He opened by explaining that the State passed the Housing Bond Bill which included a section allowing Accessory Dwelling Units as a matter of right in the Commonwealth. This new law went into effect in the beginning of February. He stated this draft ordinance meets State regulations and provides an orderly process for individuals looking to construct an ADU on their property. He stated applicants will need to file with the Building Inspector and are required to prepare a Site Plan showing all the required information. He went on to say the Building Inspector has 30 days to grant or deny the application for a building permit. He explained that the requirements for constructing or adding an ADU cannot be more onerous than that of a single family house. Mayor Johnson stated if an applicant wants more than one ADU on a property, or if they are in a floodplain they would need to obtain a Special Permit. He stated one parking space would be required for each ADU, and must meet stretch energy code, building code, and any setback/side yard requirements. He stated this Zoning Amendment provides an orderly process for anyone wanting an ADU.
Ms. Baldwin asked if the property needs to be owner occupied. Mayor Johnson stated no. He further explained that the ADU cannot be more than 900 sq. ft. or ½ of gross floor area of principal dwelling, whichever is smaller. There is a commonality of ownership clause. Ms. Baldwin asked if an ADU could be constructed on a slab. Mayor Johnson stated yes.

Ms. Baldwin opened the public hearing for comments. There was none.

Motion was made by Mr. Cleavall and seconded by Mr. DiLullo to close the public hearing.

2. 6:10PM PUBLIC HEARING-ZONING AMENDMENT-"An Ordinance to Amend Chapter 180 of the Code of City of Agawam Regarding Zoning Enforcement Powers and Penalties"-Mayor Johnson

Mayor Johnson was present for this agenda item. The Building Inspector would like to update non-criminal fines for violations. He stated he did a comparison to other communities in the area, and they are much higher. Agawam fines are currently $25, $50, $75, etc. He stated other community fees are $100, $200 and $300. He state this ordinance adds some enforcement capabilities regarding enforcement of conditions placed on permits, special permits, or any decisions granted by the Zoning Board of Appeals or the Planning Board. Mayor Johnson stated these fees will help to gain compliance with conditions placed and that liens on the real estate can be placed. This allows for any stray fines to be collected. This will help the Town not to have to utilize judicial enforcement.

Ms. Baldwin opened the public hearing for comments. There was none.

Motion was made by Mr. Elfman and seconded by DiLullo to close the public hearing.

3. SITE PLAN-207 Bowles Road-RHM Realty, LLC

Luke Showalter with Sage Engineering and Bryan Balicki with Furrow Engineering were present for this agenda item. Mr. Showalter stated the application is for the construction of a proposed 11,100 sq. ft. addition to Litron's existing manufacturing office facility and expansion of the existing parking lot to 37 new parking spaces. He stated the property is 3 acres, zoned Industrial-A and surrounded by industrial land. All existing utilities are connected to the road. He stated stormwater flows to the back of the site to an existing detention basin, which will be enlarged to handle the additional stormwater runoff. The expansion of the detention basin will include a new sediment forbay to treat the stormwater as it enters the basin. He stated the project will require a stormwater management permit and it has been submitted to the DPW. He stated they received Engineering comments today and they are all addressable without any significant changes to the site.

Ms. Baldwin asked about a centralized area for stormwater runoff. Mr. Showalter stated this could be taken care of.
Mr. Elfman asked how many employees. Mr. Showalter stated there are currently 50 and with the new addition will require 20 new employees. Mr. Elfman asked what the business manufactures. Mr. Balicki stated they make hermedic sealant.
Mr. DiLullo asked how many shifts. Mr. Showalter stated 1, but will most likely become 2 shifts. Mr. DiLullo asked about the first Engineering comment that states, "Engineering recommends that the stormwater calculations for this project use the NOAA Atlas 14 precipitation frequencies rather than the frequencies listed in Technical Paper 40." Mr. Showalter states this allows them to account for more rainfall depth that takes into consideration a deeper rainfall/storm event, so more water is analyzed.

Motion was made by Mr. Cleavall and seconded by Mr. DiLullo to continue the SITE PLAN-207 Bowles Road-RHM Realty, LLC to the March 6, 2025.
